

A city in festive fever

Eid is a great leveller, inspiring joy and happiness in Muslims regardless of their socio-cultural and geo-political disposition. Every year, it may be the same, yet the spirit is never old. A K M Mohsin, Sk Enamul Haq and Anisur Rahman arrested in frames glimpses of the capital in the grips of festivity

Mehendi on the colourful festivity

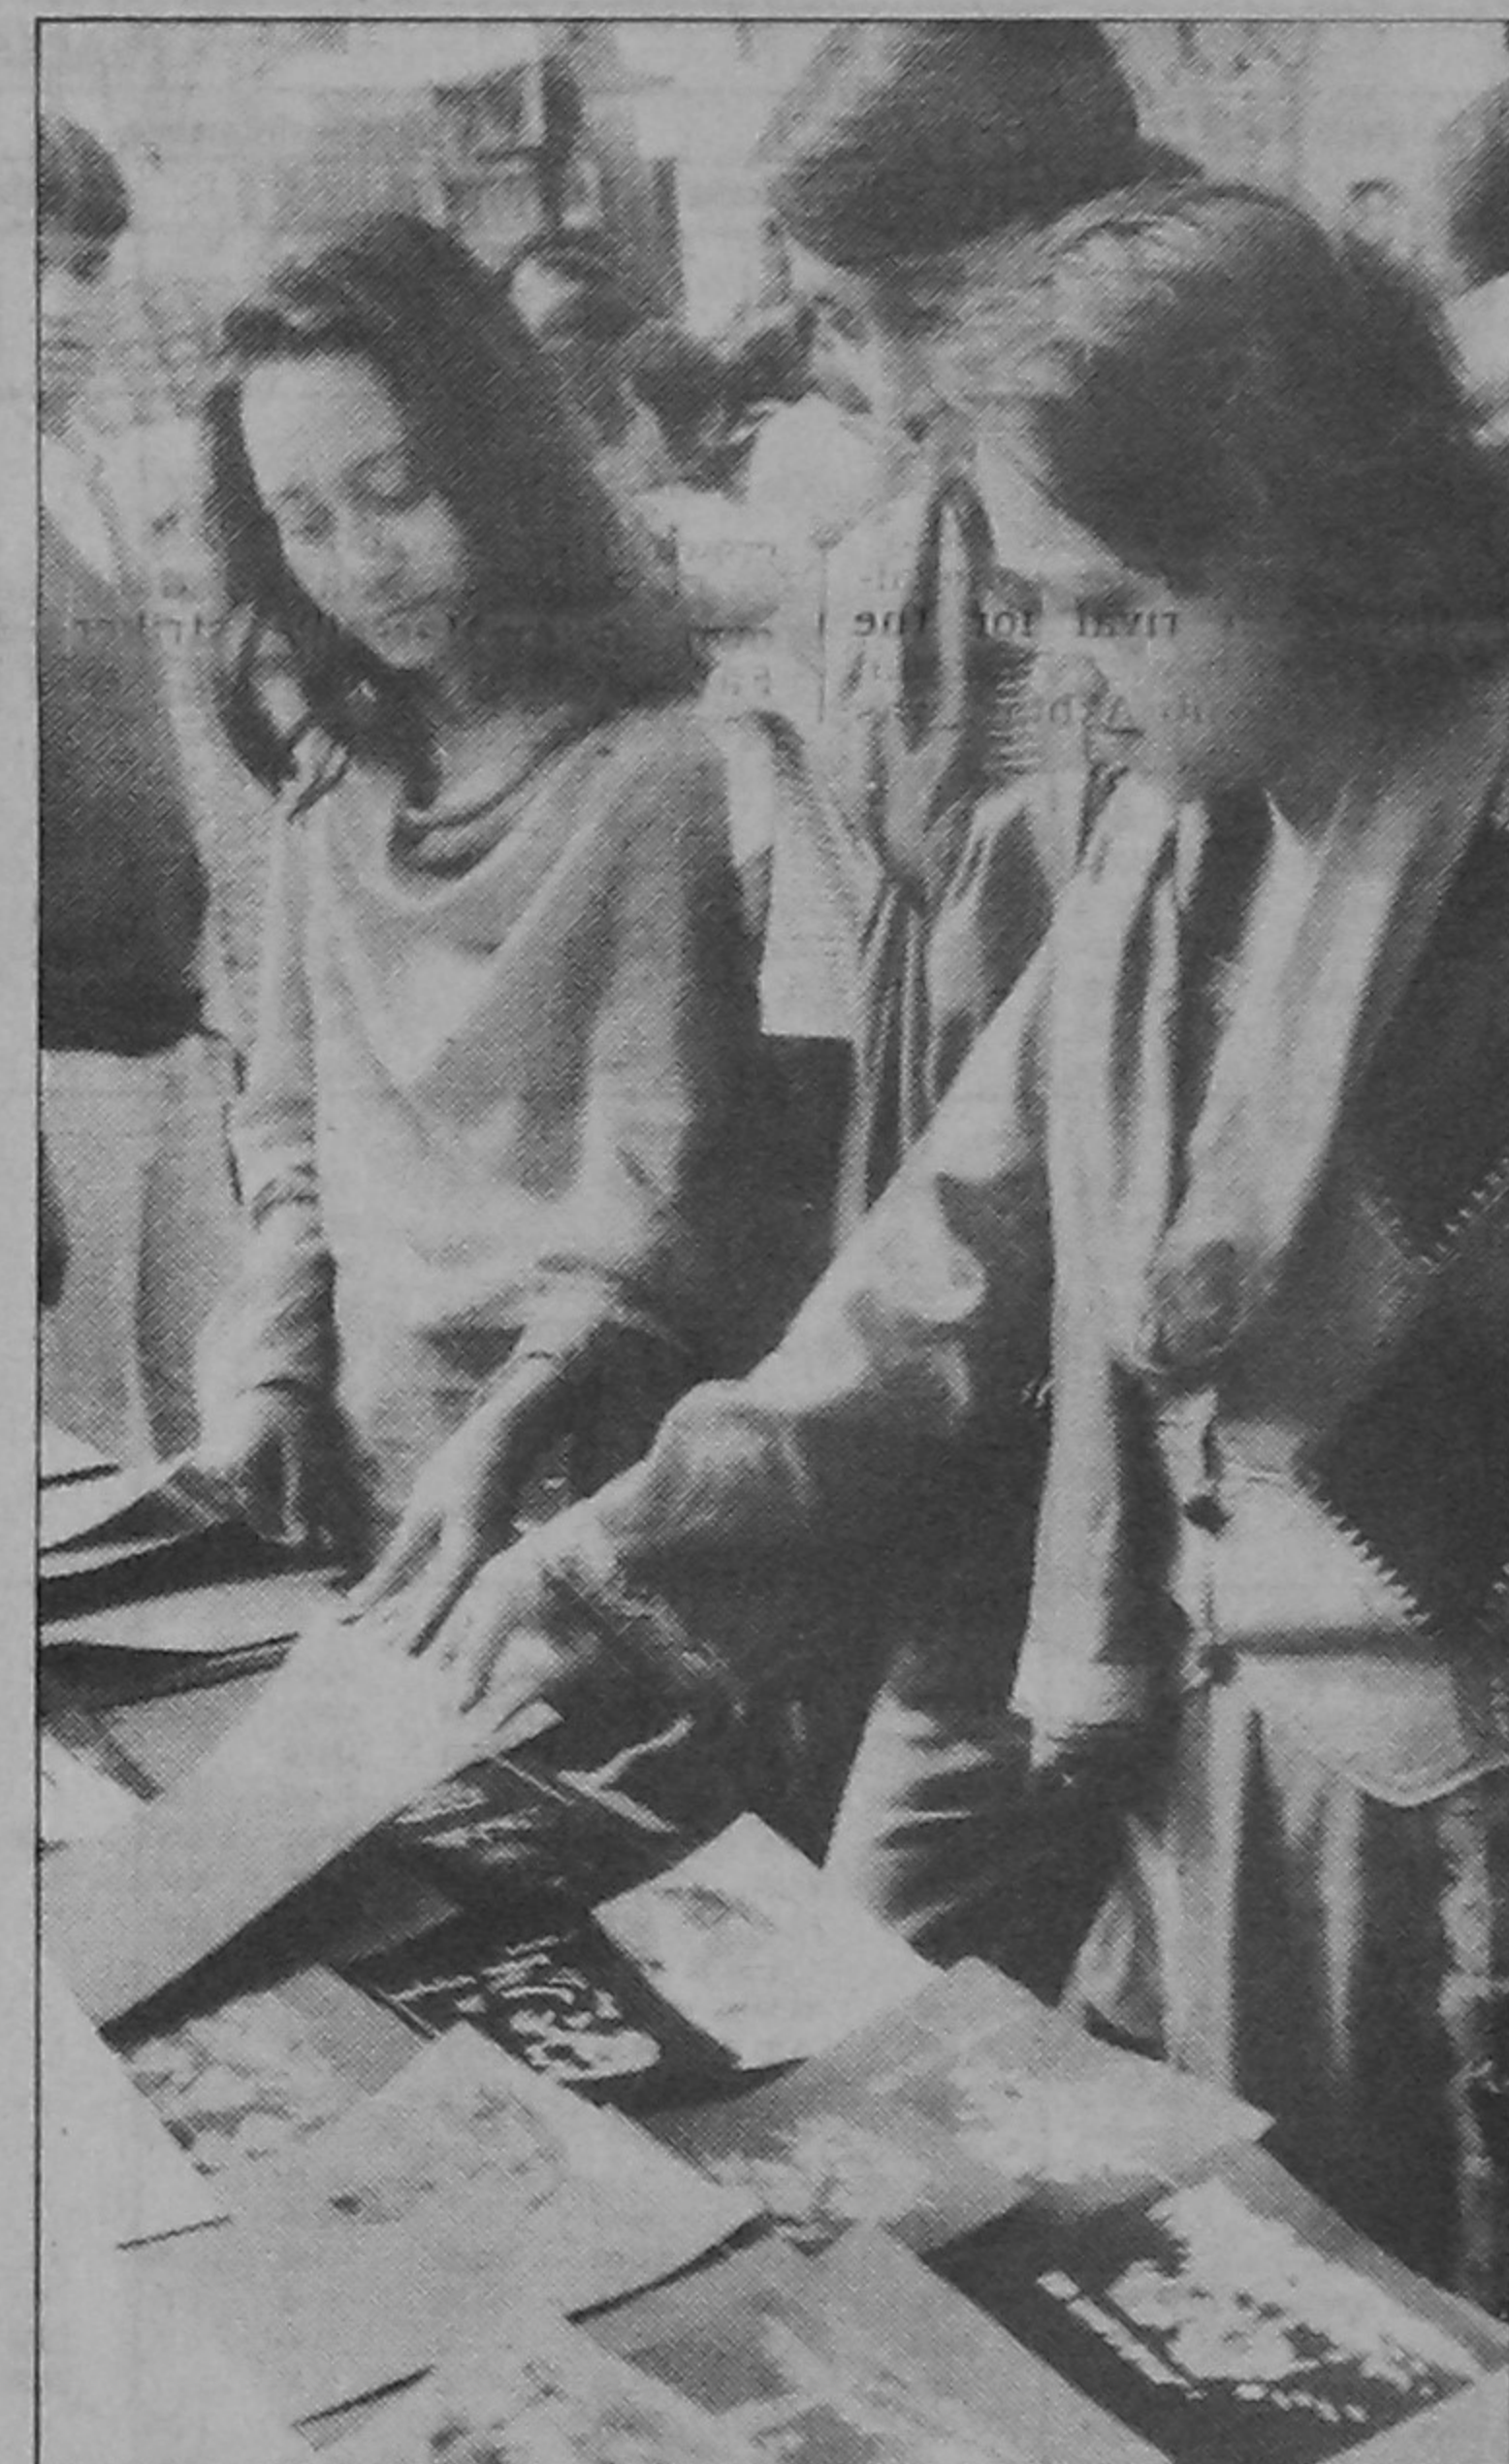

Under the open sky, on the side-walk, it's their own shopping mall

May not be of gold, jewellery nevertheless

Sweetening the taste bud with shemai

Exchange of greeting cards is a major part of the festival

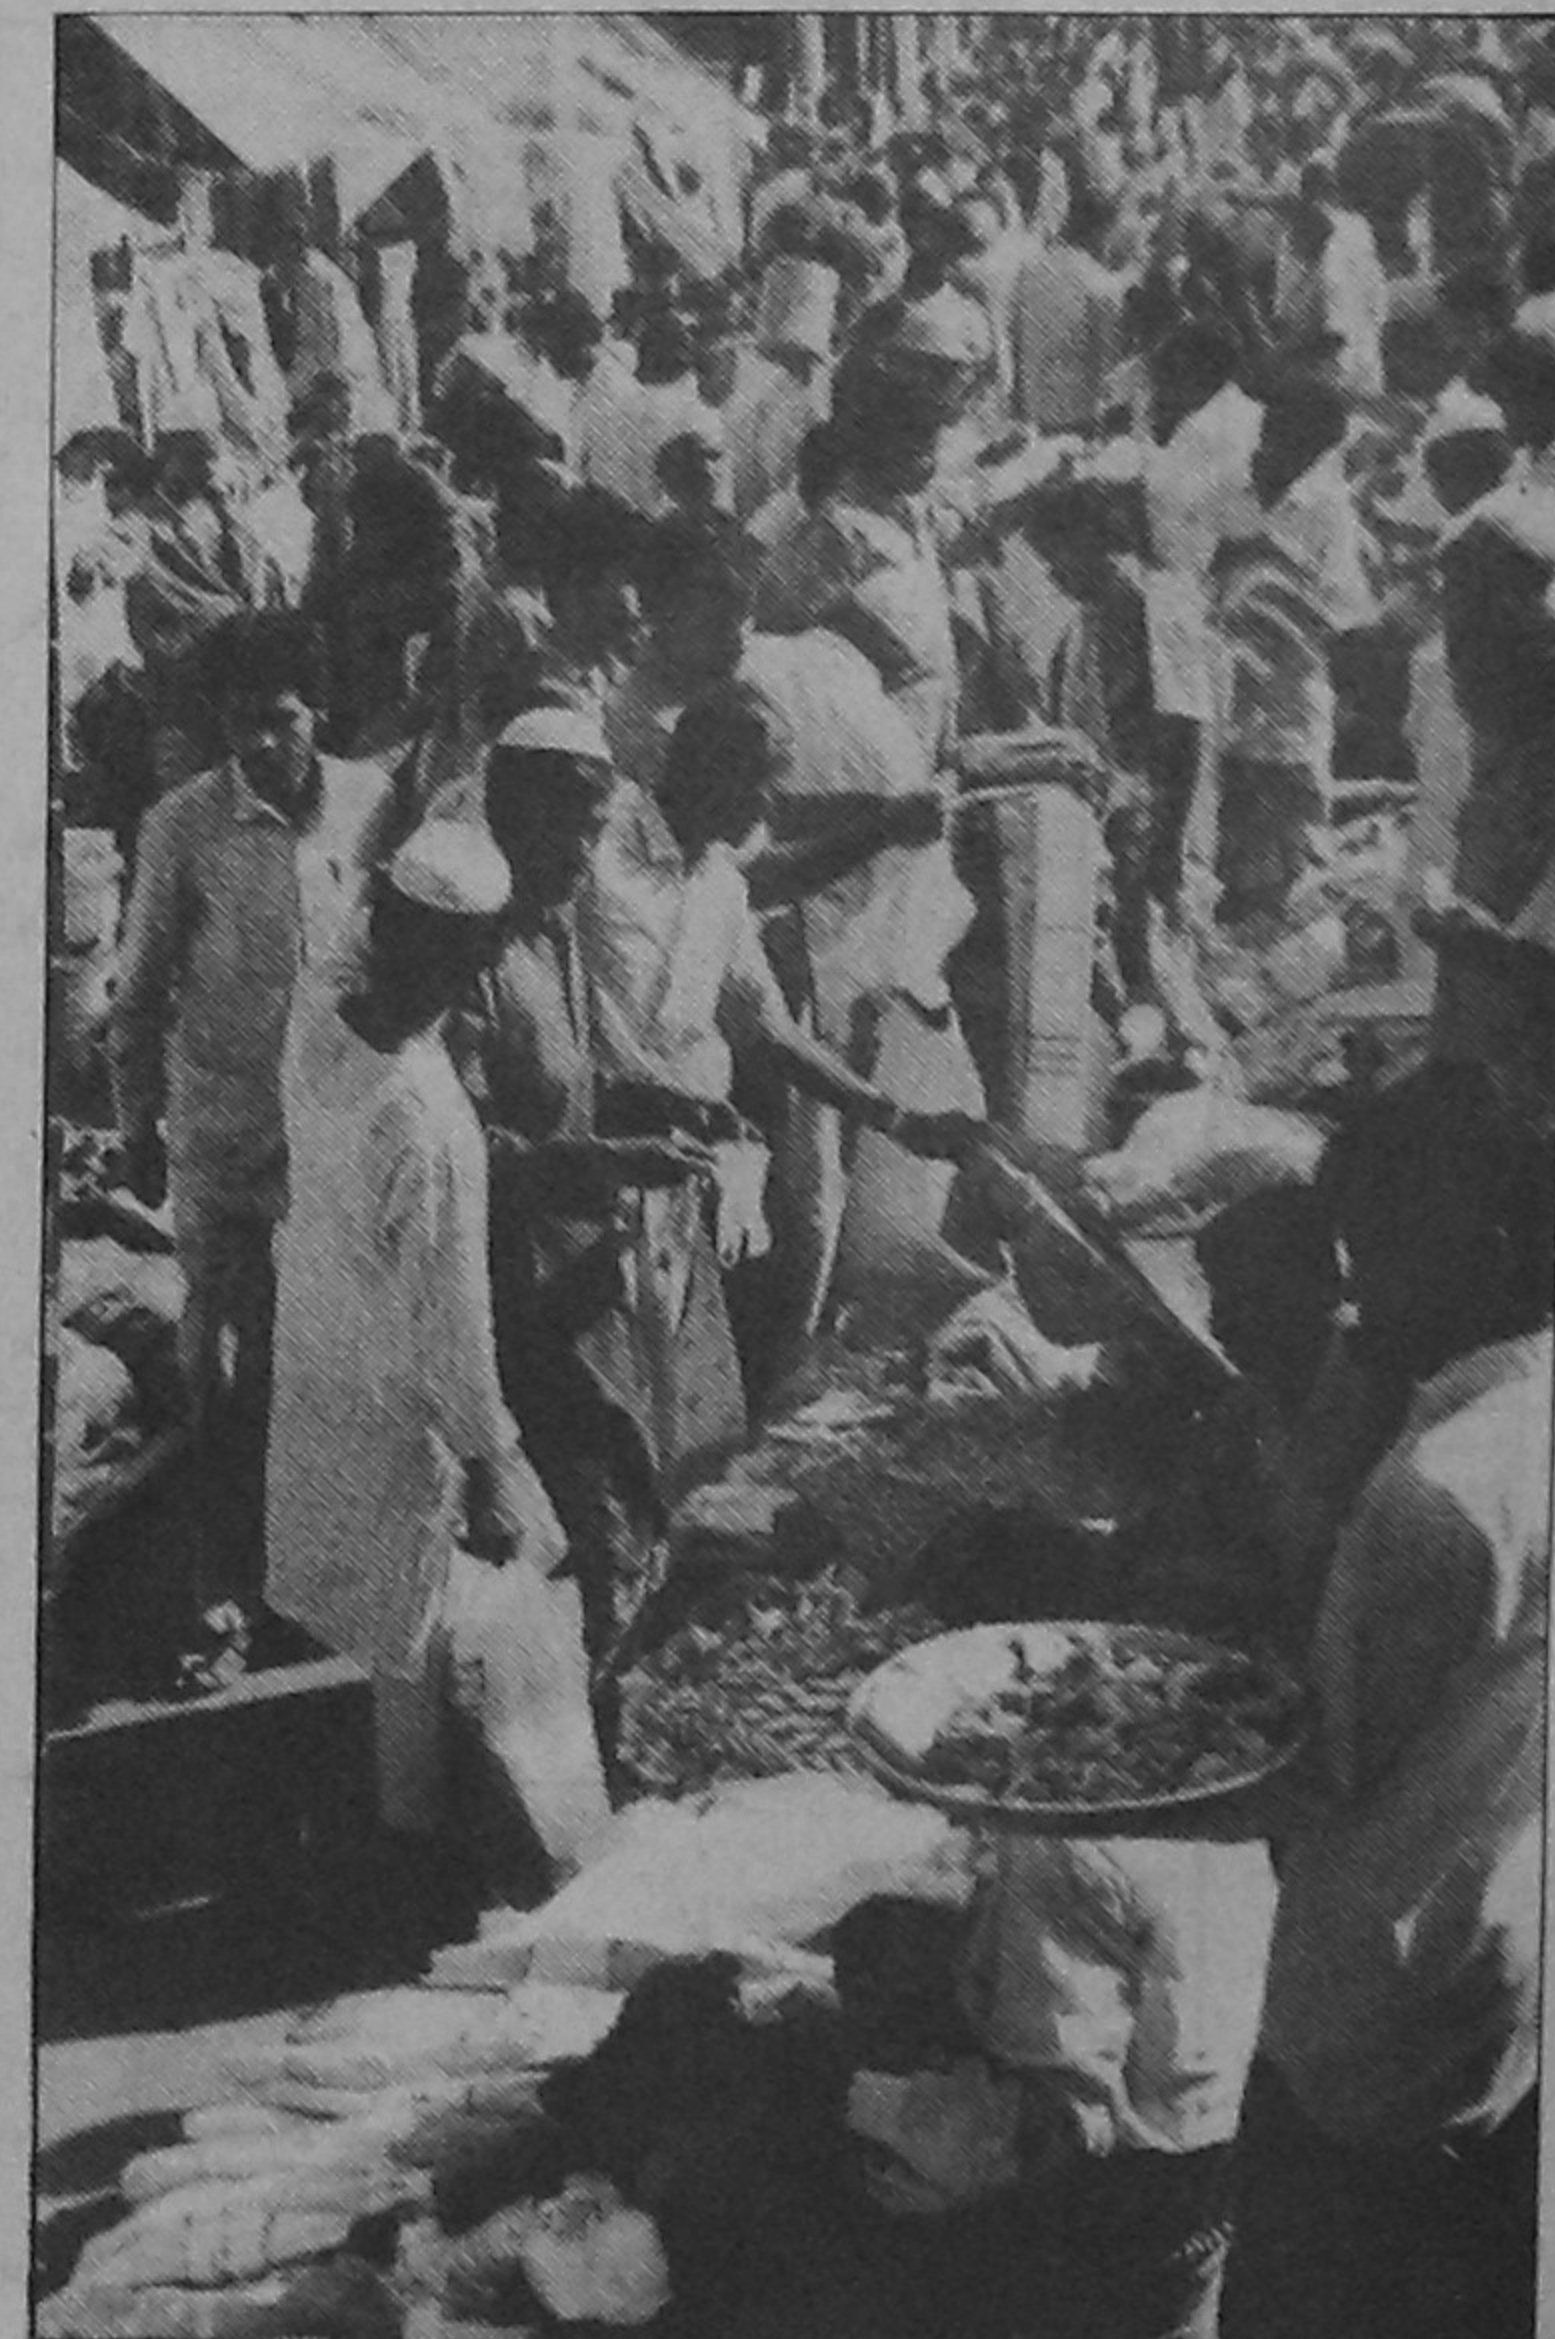

Mad rush for a place on the home-bound boat

Reaching out for colour and design on fashionable fabric

Money matters, doesn't it? A long queue at the cash counter

Adding spice to the celebrations
