

Fiorentina eying Vampeta

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Jan 14: Italy's Fiorentina are closing in on Corinthians' playmaker Vampeta, who has helped the Brazilians reach the final of the World Club Championship at the expense of Real Madrid...

Real discipline Gutierrez, Carlos

MADRID, Jan 14: Real Madrid defender Roberto Carlos and midfielder Jose Maria Gutierrez were each fined five million pesetas ($30,850) by the Spanish club on Thursday after incidents in a World Cup Championship match, reports Reuters...

Nakata trains at Roma

ROME, Jan 14: Japan's Hidetoshi Nakata, who has just joined Roma from Perugia, completed his first training session with his new teammates at Trigoria near here early Friday, reports AFP...

Philippoussis stops Sampras

MELBOURNE, Jan 11: Australian Davis Cup hero Mark Philippoussis seized on his chances perfectly in two tiebreakers Friday, beating Pete Sampras and advancing to the final of the Colonial Classic, reports AP...

McGrath's thorny

From page 9: B Hyam run out 7; Min Patel c Mizan b Shahiduddin 9; T Dodaide c Al-Shahriar b Naimur 7; N Killen not out 9; Extras: (b-4, lb-6, nb-5) 15; Total: (For 7 wks in 78 overs declared) 222; Did not bat: Ryan Sidebottom and Mark Boockock...

BCB PRESIDENT'S ELEVEN: First Innings Azam batting 11; Sajid b N Killen 4; Al-Shahriar c Nixon b N Killen 5; Naimur batting 1; Extras: (nb-2) 2; Total: (For 2 wks in 10 overs) 23; To bat: Akram Khan, Mizanur Rahman, Mushfiqur Rahman, Fahimul Mottasir, Monjurul Islam, Shahiduddin Ahmed and Shaheen Ahmed; Fall of wickets: 1/11, 2/21; Bowler: O M R W; N Killen 5 2 15 2; R Sidebottom 4 1 7 0; M Patel 1 1 0 0

700th calling Romario

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan 14: Vasco da Gama striker Romario will be after his 700th goal in a sparkling if controversial career in Friday's World Club Championship final against Brazilian rivals Corinthians, reports AFP...

goalkeeper, and I wasn't born to defend. It's a secret talent which I keep on bettering," he explained. At the age of 33 and just weeks after Flamengo sacked him for going to a nightclub after an important defeat, Romario, a World Cup winner with...

ROMARIO Brazil in 1994, is now on the verge of making his new side the best in the world. "For me this has been like a World Cup. Since December 19 I have been concentrating on the event with the team in a hotel and I've hardly been out, perhaps a couple of times, to see my kids. You can't put a price on this title. It will be worth it to have made some sacrifices," Romario insisted. Along with Real Madrid's injured star Nicolas Anelka the veteran co-leads the goalscoring lists with three goals in three matches from the group phase - a handsome return after Vasco took a calculated risk in signing up the headstrong figure. "There's always a chance I'll end up the top scorer in any tournament I'm playing in. And now Anelka has got injured and gone back to Spain," Romario noted as he closes in on individual as well as team glory. Equally controversial teammate Edmundo could beat him to the scorers' title if he nets twice on Friday at the Maracana - but Romario says he wouldn't mind all that much - even he misses his 700 target in the process. "I'd really like to be world champion. If Vasco beat Corinthians with two goals from Edmundo we'd still win the title and I'd be just as pleased. "But it won't be easy. They have players such as Rincon, Edilson and Marcelinho. They have been together for two years and know each other well," Romario warned.

THEIR DAY IS MADE: Tiny tots from the soccer school of Rochina are ecstatic after getting the chance to have photographs with Real Madrid superstars Roberto Carlos (C) and Fernando Hierro at Real's team hotel in Rio de Janeiro on January 14. — AFP photo

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP BRIEFS

Corinthians defender Joao Carlos has resigned himself to missing Friday's inaugural World Club Championship Final with Vasco da Gama through injury. Joao Carlos, who played for Brazil in the Copa America, strained a muscle in his left leg against Al Nassr and will be replaced by Adilson against Vasco da Gama.

Better news comes for Corinthians with the news that Ricardo will be fit to play at the final at Rio's Maracana Stadium. "In all such sporting encounters there is a lack of tickets," said the unfazed Teixeira.

RINCON PROMISES CORINTHIANS CUP BOGOTA: Colombian playmaker Freddy Rincon, who will captain his Brazilian club side Corinthians in Friday's World Club Championship Final with Vasco da Gama, has vowed that his team will win the inaugural event despite playing at the Maracana in Vasco's home city of Rio de Janeiro. "They (Vasco) may have Romario, but we also have good players and this is why we got to the final and won the Brazilian Championship last year," Rincon told Colombian radio station Caracol de Bogota.

VASCO FEAR PENALTY KING DIDA RIO DE JANEIRO: Corinthians have a secret weapon in goalkeeper Dida should the inaugural World Club Championship Final with Vasco da Gama go to a penalty shoot-out. Since the beginning of 1999 Dida has made eight penalty saves, including three for the Brazil national team, two during their march to Copa America glory last summer. Dida, who has proved a worthy successor in the national team to 1994 World Cup hero Claudio Taffarel, also saved an 83rd-minute penalty in Frenchman Nicolas Anelka in Corinthians' Group A 2-2 draw with Real Madrid. That save enabled his side to eventually progress at Real's expense.

POLICE FIRE TEARGAS AT FANS AMID TICKET CHAOS RIO DE JANEIRO: Rio de Janeiro police fired teargas on Thursday at fans scrambling to buy tickets for Friday's inaugural World Club Championship Final between Rio's own Vasco da Gama and another Brazilian outfit Corinthians, who are based in Sao Paulo. Tickets are at a premium for the all-Brazilian final with an estimated 26,000 Corinthians fans expected to travel from Sao Paulo to attend the match in Rio's legendary Maracana arena. Police estimate that there were 30,000 fans in the queue for tickets when the violence broke out but the incidents were turned down by Brazilian football federation (CBF) president Ricardo Teixeira, who described the confusion as "natural".

France's World Cup winning playmaker Zinedine Zidane opened the scoring for the Bianconeri after just 12 minutes, curling in a superb freekick. By half-time the match looked all over bar the shouting. First Juve's Yugoslav striker Darko Kovacevic had his shot deflected in by team-mate Antonio Conte and then after 38 minutes Kovacevic himself got in on the act when he headed home from a cross by Filippo Inzaghi. But after the break Lazio were a different side with their Yugoslav substitute Dejan Stankovic inspiring a comeback. After 51 minutes former Juve hero Fabrizio Ravanello converted a penalty, his second goal in two matches, after Alessandro Birindelli was penalised for a foul in the penalty box. Ten minutes from the end it was Roberto Mancini who reduced arrears to a single goal when he beat onrushing Dutch goalkeeper Edwin Van der Sar to the ball before keeping the game very much in the balance for the second leg in Rome.

Spanish Cup Valencia shown the door

BARCELONA, Jan 14: Holders Valencia crashed out of the Spanish Cup at the second round stage on Wednesday, a 2-0 victory over Second Division Osasuna only serving to send them down 3-2 on aggregate, reports Reuters. Hector Cuper's side made the start they wanted as Gaizka Mendietu won the converted a penalty as early as the seventh minute. They were kept at bay until the second half by some spirited Osasuna defending before Francisco Farinos fired in after 55 minutes to give them renewed hope.

Valencia were one of four top flight sides eliminated by lower division opposition as Real Betis, Real Mallorca and Alaves suffered similar fates. Mallorca, going strong in the UEFA Cup, found third division Ourense a different proposition as they went down 2-1 at home on the night, 4-3 on aggregate. Alaves also went out to a third division side, a 2-1 win at home to Real Union sending them out on the away goals rule after their 1-0 defeat in the first game. Real Betis were beaten 1-0 at home by second division Merida to complete a 2-0 aggregate defeat.

Barcelona looked set to have similar problems against third division Almeria before late goals from Xavi Hernandez and Rivaldo sent them into the third round. In all first division battles, Rayo Vallecano held out for a goalless draw and a 1-0 aggregate win over Athletic Bilbao, Real Zaragoza beat Racing Santander 4-1 (6-2), while Deportivo Coruna edged out Malaga on the away goals rule. Atletico Madrid, Celta Vigo and Oviedo also made it through from the top flight, holding off second division sides Las Palmas, Sporting Gijon and Logrones respectively.

Compostela beat Tenerife 2-1 for a 4-2 aggregate win in an all-second division tie, while Elbar and Lleida fought out an epic battle, Lleida eventually winning through on away goals after the tie finished goalless after 90 minutes and 1-1 after extra time. Villarreal booked their place on Tuesday with a 1-0 win over Barakaldo, while Real Madrid - given a bye to enable them to take part in the World Cup Championship - will complete the last 16 line-up.

Italian Cup qtrs. 1st leg Juve draw first blood TURIN, Italy, Jan 14: Juventus defeated Serie rivals Lazio 3-2 in an entertaining encounter here on Thursday in a first leg quarter-final match in the Italian Cup but will be rueing the laxness that allowed the Rome outfit to pull back two second-half goals, reports AFP. But only 8,000 fans turned up at the Stadio delle Alpi for a game that deserved a bigger audience.

France's World Cup winning playmaker Zinedine Zidane opened the scoring for the Bianconeri after just 12 minutes, curling in a superb freekick. By half-time the match looked all over bar the shouting. First Juve's Yugoslav striker Darko Kovacevic had his shot deflected in by team-mate Antonio Conte and then after 38 minutes Kovacevic himself got in on the act when he headed home from a cross by Filippo Inzaghi. But after the break Lazio were a different side with their Yugoslav substitute Dejan Stankovic inspiring a comeback. After 51 minutes former Juve hero Fabrizio Ravanello converted a penalty, his second goal in two matches, after Alessandro Birindelli was penalised for a foul in the penalty box. Ten minutes from the end it was Roberto Mancini who reduced arrears to a single goal when he beat onrushing Dutch goalkeeper Edwin Van der Sar to the ball before keeping the game very much in the balance for the second leg in Rome.

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an unofficial league title by the end of the day. Lazio defend a one-point lead over Juventus against Reggina and a victory would see them crowned Italy's winter champions. The distinction goes to the team who are top of Serie A at the halfway stage of the season. It may only be a 'virtual' trophy but nine of the last 11 winter champions have gone on to win the real thing. Lazio lost to Juventus in their Italian Cup quarter-final on Thursday night, but coming back from 3-0 down to 3-2 in Turin was no easy feat. And they shouldn't need much fighting spirit against Reggina, who are just two points above the relegation zone. Juventus host a Perugia side who have conceded eight goals and scored none in their two games since the New Year, perhaps disturbed by the imminent departure to Roma of Japanese ace Hidetoshi Nakata. The Turin club are unbeaten at home this season and have by far the best defensive record in Serie A, conceding eight goals in 16 matches. Parma, who have a mathematical but totally unrealistic chance of going top, visit Lecce. The southernners must muzzle Parma's Argentinian striker Hernan Crespo, the Serie A's top marksman with a dozen goals. AS Roma must pick themselves up after an embarrassing 1-0 Cup defeat at home to bottom club Cagliari when they take on Verona. Playmaker Francesco Totti missed a penalty on Wednesday, but striker Vincenzo Montella bids to continue his free-scoring form. Inter and AC Milan have quite different tasks with Marcello Lippi's men hosting Cagliari, knowing victory is a must. However, their 50-million dollar centre-forward Christian Vieri is suspended. AC Milan have a much trickier game away to Udinese, the club where Milan coach Alberto Zaccheroni and striker Oliver Bierhoff were both heroes until they moved west in 1998. Bierhoff has scored eight times this season, but 10-goal Ukrainian Andriy Shevchenko, who equalised twice against Inter on Wednesday, is on even better form.

Serie A weekend fixtures (1400 GMT kick-off unless stated): Saturday: Venezia v Fiorentina, Bologna v Bari (1930); Sunday: Inter Milan v Cagliari, Juventus v Perugia, Lecce v Parma, Piacenza v Torino, Reggina v Lazio, AS Roma v Verona, Udinese v AC Milan (1930) FRENCH FIRST DIVISION Bordeaux host PSG in the top clash of the French championship this weekend with two players returning to successful stamping grounds. PSG playmaker Ali Benarbia, the inspiration behind Bordeaux' league title last season will line-up in his 200th league match while striker Christophe Dugarry, a member of the Bordeaux side that went all the way to the 1996 UEFA Cup Final from the Interfoto Cup, will make his home league 'debut' on his return to Bordeaux following a move from Marseille. Both sides desperately need a win to keep their hopes of the title alive with Bordeaux 15 points off leaders Monaco following a 2-1 defeat by Metz on Tuesday while PSG are eight points adrift. Benarbia, attempting to win his third French championship with a different club after also taking the crown with Monaco in 1997, can expect a warm welcome from Girondins supporters after he left within days of their last minute title success - ironically a 3-2 win over PSG sealing their crown and robbing Marseille of the championship. Dugarry, whose constant inclusion in the French squad has surprised many and has been laid down to the fact he is playmaker Zinedine Zidane's best friend and roommate, can expect a warm reception from his home town fans. Monaco, in devastating form on Wednesday, thrashing Troyes 4-1 with a double by Argentinian ace Marcelo Gallardo, should have little trouble in safeguarding their unbeaten home record as they host Rennes on Saturday. The leaders will be missing injured Mexican central defender Rafael Marquez but he will be replaced by the reliable Philippe Christanval. A win for Monaco were to slip up Saturday Lyon will be hard pressed to take advantage as they face another difficult away trip to fourth placed Auxerre. Struggling Marseille, 18 points adrift of Monaco and 10 off a Champions League place, host bottom placed Montpellier on Sunday with their visitors also having put an end to a winless streak with a 3-0 win over Nantes - their first win since September 19. A victory for Montpellier, who have just signed Argentinian midfielder Mariano Heron on loan, would ensure that 1998 champions Lens get sucked in even further into the relegation scrap as they face a hard task away at surprise packages Sedan, who are currently fifth. French fixtures for Jan 15-23: French weekend fixtures: Saturday: Auxerre v Olympique Lyon, Nancy v Bastia, Sedan v Racing Lens, Le Havre v St Etienne, Racing Strasbourg v Metz, Monaco v Stade Rennes, Nantes v Troyes, Sunday: Olympique Marseille v Montpellier, Girondins Bordeaux v Paris St Germain

EUROPEAN SOCCER SCENE

PARIS, Jan 14: Reigning Spanish champions Barcelona face a tough trip Sunday as they travel to Real Zaragoza looking to close a four-point gap on leaders Deportivo La Coruna in the Primera Liga match of the weekend, reports AFP. In Italy Lazio and Juventus will duel for the title albeit a meaningless one - that of winter champions - while the pick of the weekend fixtures in France sees champions Bordeaux host Paris St Germain. PRIMERIA LIGA In Spain Barca face second-placed Zaragoza and must do without Dutch international forward Patrick Kluijvert, banned for five matches. Barca made a rickety roaring start to the season but have blown hot and cold since. Over the past month Barca, chasing a third successive title, have cut the gap on leaders Deportivo La Coruna from nine to four points. But the Catalan giants have been disappointing away from home and until their win at Celta Vigo last weekend had gone three months without full points on their travels since winning at Valladolid. Ten points from their last four outings have put Barca back in the hunt after a poor run which brought four straight defeats. Since then, however, both Barca - who won in Vigo last week - and Zaragoza have been able to close in on Primera Liga leaders Deportivo La Coruna as "Superdepor", who have failed to win any of their last three matches in their quest for a first ever title. Zaragoza have not only lost at home they also have the meanness defence in the league with just 20 goals conceded. Barca meanwhile have the most potent attack with 41 goals in 19 games but Zaragoza were on fire up front in their Spanish cup tie in midweek, winning 4-1 at Santander. Deportivo play at Alaves while Rayo Vallecano and Atletico Madrid get the weekend programme under way Saturday as they meet in a Madrid derby - neighbours Real, returning at the weekend from their World Club Championship excursion to Brazil, host Real Mallorca on Monday.

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an unofficial league title by the end of the day. Lazio defend a one-point lead over Juventus against Reggina and a victory would see them crowned Italy's winter champions. The distinction goes to the team who are top of Serie A at the halfway stage of the season. It may only be a 'virtual' trophy but nine of the last 11 winter champions have gone on to win the real thing. Lazio lost to Juventus in their Italian Cup quarter-final on Thursday night, but coming back from 3-0 down to 3-2 in Turin was no easy feat. And they shouldn't need much fighting spirit against Reggina, who are just two points above the relegation zone. Juventus host a Perugia side who have conceded eight goals and scored none in their two games since the New Year, perhaps disturbed by the imminent departure to Roma of Japanese ace Hidetoshi Nakata. The Turin club are unbeaten at home this season and have by far the best defensive record in Serie A, conceding eight goals in 16 matches. Parma, who have a mathematical but totally unrealistic chance of going top, visit Lecce. The southernners must muzzle Parma's Argentinian striker Hernan Crespo, the Serie A's top marksman with a dozen goals. AS Roma must pick themselves up after an embarrassing 1-0 Cup defeat at home to bottom club Cagliari when they take on Verona. Playmaker Francesco Totti missed a penalty on Wednesday, but striker Vincenzo Montella bids to continue his free-scoring form. Inter and AC Milan have quite different tasks with Marcello Lippi's men hosting Cagliari, knowing victory is a must. However, their 50-million dollar centre-forward Christian Vieri is suspended. AC Milan have a much trickier game away to Udinese, the club where Milan coach Alberto Zaccheroni and striker Oliver Bierhoff were both heroes until they moved west in 1998. Bierhoff has scored eight times this season, but 10-goal Ukrainian Andriy Shevchenko, who equalised twice against Inter on Wednesday, is on even better form.

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday: Real Madrid v Real Mallorca SERIE A In Italy Lazio and Juventus will kick-off on Sunday with one of them destined to win an

Primer Liga weekend fixtures: Saturday: Rayo Vallecano v Atletico Madrid Sunday: Alaves v Deportivo La Coruna, Real Betis v Athletic Bilbao, Celta Vigo v Real Oviedo, Espanyol v Malaga, Racing Santander v Valencia, Real Zaragoza v Barcelona, Real Sociedad v Seville, Real Valladolid v Numancia Monday