Bee Gees "One Nite Only"
 Feb 2nd at 7:00 and 10:30 PM on Star World
 The Bee Gees "One Nite Only" was both a box office success as well as a creative achievement. Their sold out performance from the MGM Grand Hotel/Casino is the largest grossing concert of the year for the MGM Grand Garden Arena, totaling $1.68 million. The concert incorporated the Bee Gees early songs such as "To Love Somebody," "Massachusetts," and "I've Gotta Get A Message To You," as well as their current hits "Alone," and "Still Waters." The Brother Gibb then fulfilled their promise to their late brother Andy making him the fourth Bee Gee and performing his hit "(Our Love) Don't Throw It All Away" with him on video screen accompanying his brothers.

Two Guys, A Girl, and a Pizza Place is a comedy about life, love and friendship. The two guys are Berg and Pete, graduate students in Boston who share an apartment. Pete is an architecture student trying to stick to a blueprint of life—which he unfortunately made up before he met Berg.

 Painting scenes half-remembered he flits between past and present, twisting facts to flesh out fiction. Slowly, as the night grows darker, the truth is revealed like a jigsaw falling into place, piece by piece: two children who muffle their fears in the blueness of their bedspread; a mother who waves at a stranger across the street as she washes her son; the ghost of a dead body whose footprints dot the bathroom floor; the muted roar from a cricket stadium.
