

Pick of the week

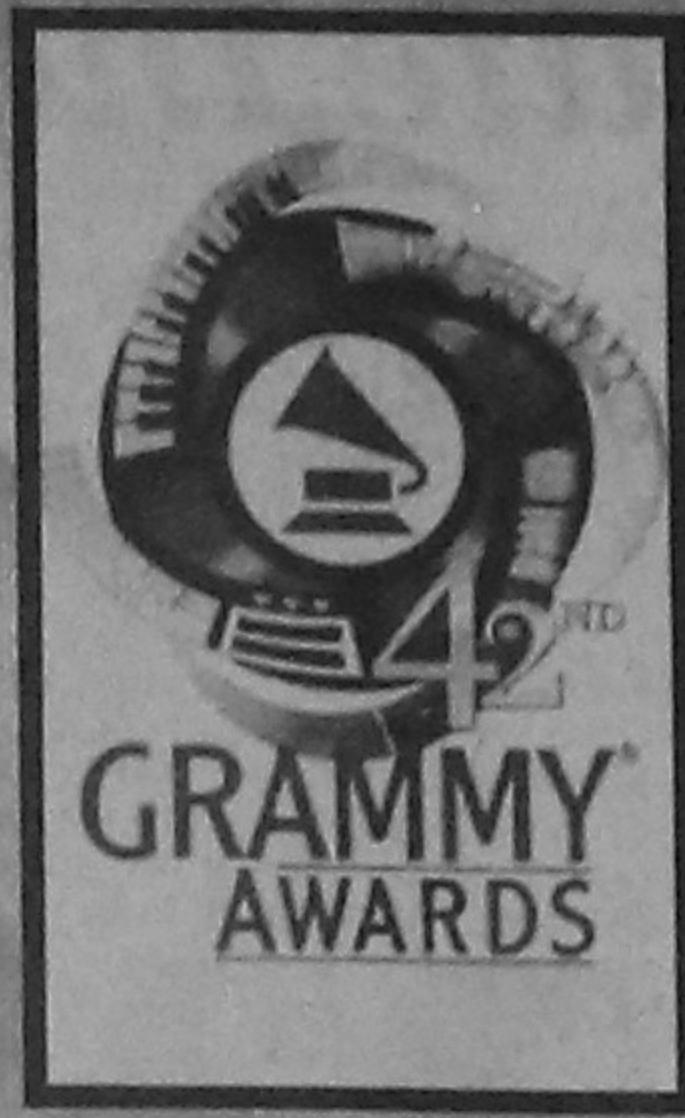

The Movie

In Love and War
Feb 23 at 10:00 PM on Star Movies
Starring Sandra Bullock and Chris O'Donnell
Sandra Bullock and Chris O'Donnell star in this epic, true story which reveals the forces that shaped one of America's greatest literary figures—Ernest Hemingway. The film chronicles the clandestine romance between 18-year-old Hemingway and 26-year-old Agnes von Kurowsky, the medical aide who nurtured him to health following a devastating battlefield injury. Based on Kurowsky's recently discovered diaries, this extraordinary relationship inspired Hemingway to write the classic love story A Farewell To Arms.

The Serial

Millennium (Series 2)
Feb 22 at 8:00 & 10:30 PM on Star World
In this week's episode A Single Blade of Grass, Frank joins forces with an archeologist when the body of a recently-murdered native American man is discovered amongst ancient remains.

New Books

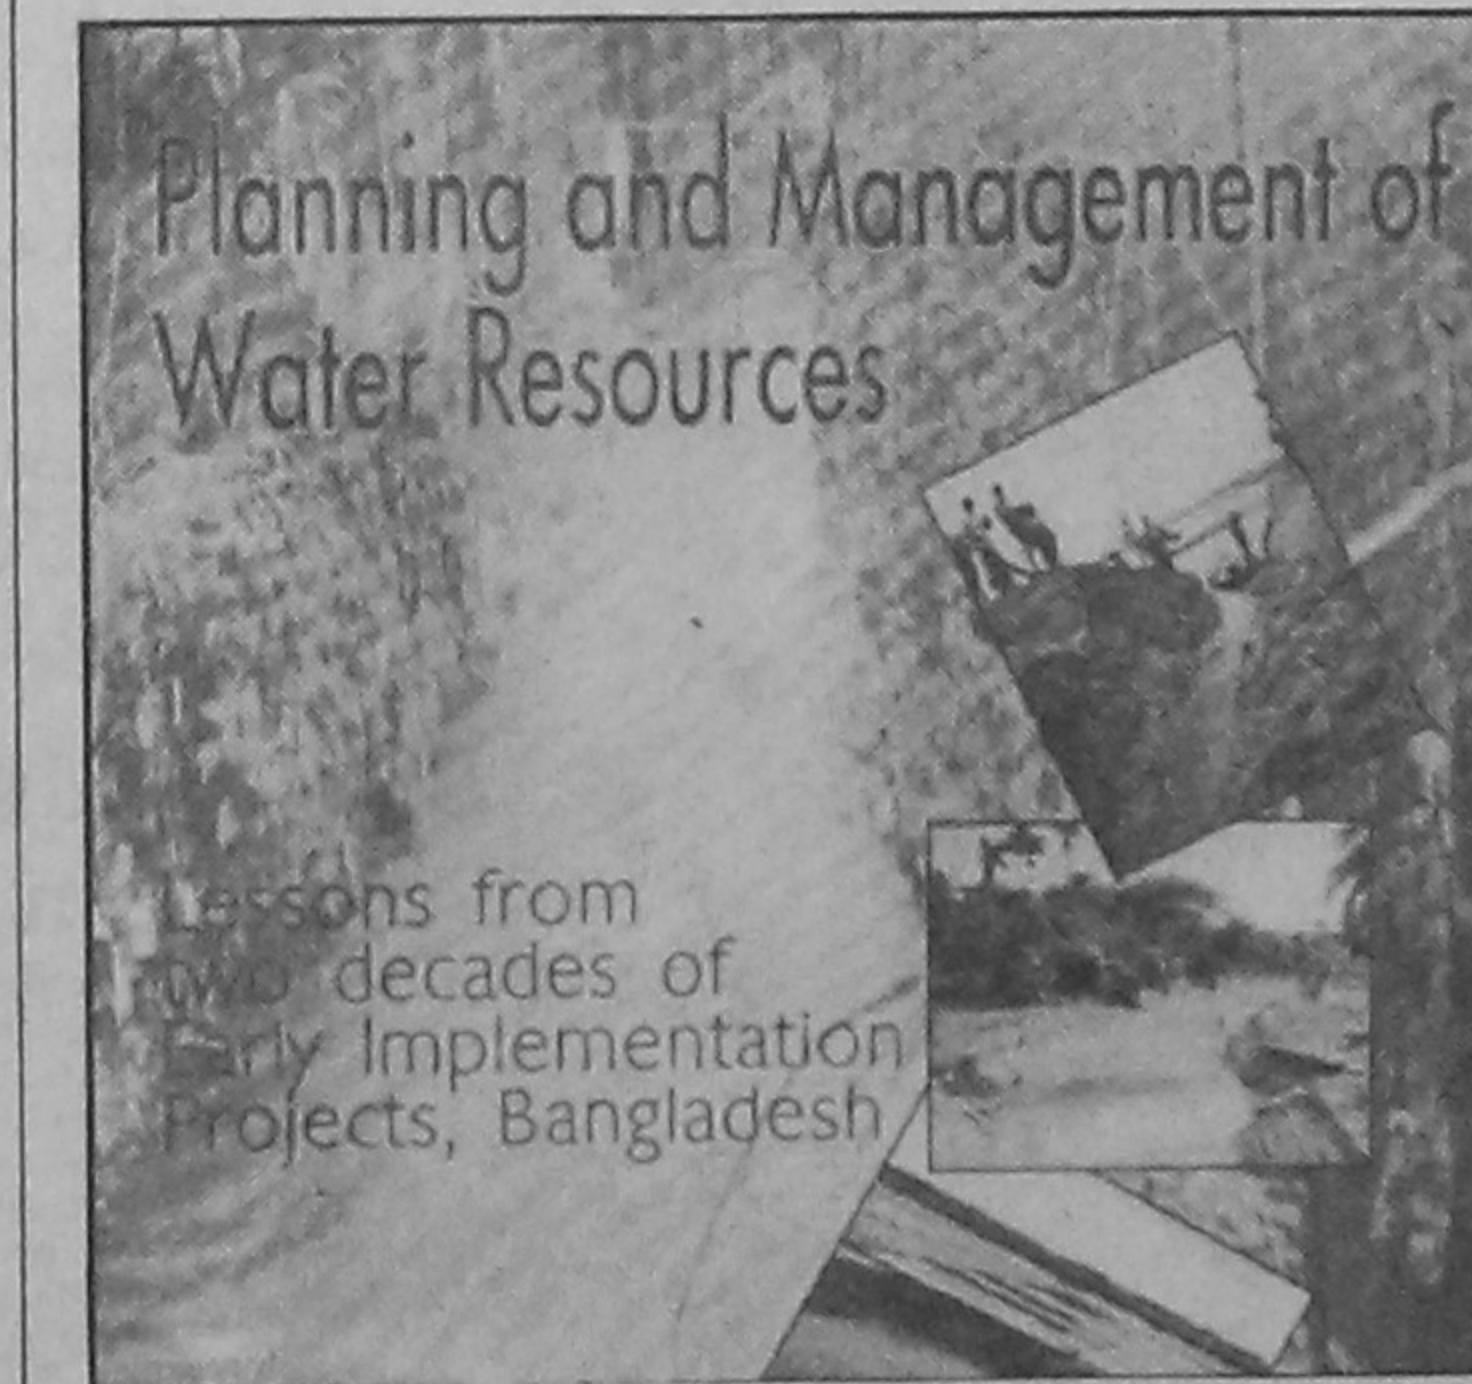

CONTEMPORARY ART IN BANGLADESH
Special Volume
Arts
The Islamic World
Guest Editor: Syed Manzoorul Islam
Publisher: Depaul University
Price: Tk 1000/-
This is the second in the Arts the Islamic World's current series of theme volumes in a hardbound format, and is devoted to "Contemporary Art in Bangladesh." It was planned as a homage to one of Asia's most distinguished art schools, established more than 50 years ago as a Government Institute of Art—now the Institute of Fine Arts, University of Dhaka. Its Golden Jubilee celebrations, postponed last year because of catastrophic floods which virtually brought everything to a standstill for several months, were held earlier this year. These provide an opportunity for critically evaluating the modern art movement which it catalysed, and to look back on a marvellous track record that, when the Art Institute started its tenuous journey in 1948, should have seemed almost like an impossible dream.

PLANNING AND MANAGEMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
Lessons from two decades of Early Implementation Projects, Bangladesh
Edited by Anjan K Datta
Publisher: The University Press Ltd
Price: Tk 450/-
The management and development of water resources, has been a major area of public intervention in Bangladesh. The Bangladesh Water Development Board started designing and implementing various types of flood control and drainage projects since the fifties. Over the years, some 500 projects have been implemented. About a quarter of this program have been designed and executed through Early Implementation Projects (EIP). They were small, low-cost, and quick yielding projects. This book analyzes the performances of these projects and the impacts of the EIP on the institutional development of the BWDB.

POSTCOLONIAL DEVELOPMENTS
Agriculture in the Making of Modern India
Author: Akhil Gupta
Publisher: Oxford
Price: Tk 818/-
This definitive study brings together recent critiques of development and work in postcolonial studies to explore what the postcolonial condition has meant to rural people in the Third World. Focusing on local-level agricultural practices in India since the 'green revolution' of the 1960s, Akhil Gupta challenges the dichotomy of 'developed' and 'undeveloped', as well as the notion of a monolithic postcolonial condition. In so doing he advances discussions of modernity in the Third World and offers a new model for future ethnographic scholarship.

EYEWITNESS TO DISCOVERY
Edited by Brian M. Fagan
Publisher: Oxford University Press
Price: Tk 632/-
In Eye Witness to Discovery Brian Fagan gathers together fifty-eight vivid accounts of the world's greatest archaeological discoveries, from the tomb of Tutankhamun and the Aegean Marbles to Otzi the Iceman and Macchu Picchu, told by the people who discovered them. The selections chronicle the development of the field, from the early 1700s when archaeology was little more than a rightearted treasure hunt, to the late twentieth century when discoveries often come not only from spectacular excavations, but also from computer laboratories.
