Camacho comes to his senses

ST JOHN'S, Mar 2: Steve Camacho, the chief executive of the West Indies Cricket Board, has apologised for the way Sir Vivian Richards and other unsuccessful applicants were informed about the new management appointments to the West Indies cricket team, reports AFP.

Last Thursday, hundreds of fans marched through the Antiguan capital of St John's, protesting the non-appointment of their cricket hero, Sir Vivian, as coach and sought an apology for the way the appointment was communicated to him by a junior official rather than by Camacho.

Due to pressure of time, this was done in the first instance by telephone and has been confirmed in writing to the other applicants who were not appointed, said Camacho in a news release.

Clarvis Joseph, the vice-president of the WICB, had indicated at Sunday's news conference in the Jamaican capital of Kingston that the WICB would investigate the communication procedure to Sir Vivian, West Indies' leading scorer in Tests with 8,540 runs, and other unsuccessful applicants.

'UCBSA is like ANC'

JOHANNESBURG, Mar 2: Ray White, who quit last month as president of United Cricket Board of South Africa, has launched a stinging attack on the country's cricket administrators, accusing them of causing the sport to 'fracture along racial lines', reports AFP.

White, who opted out on February 11 after being accused by a UCBSA council member of 'retarding transformation', claimed the Board had become 'little more than the cricket organ of the (ruling) African National Congress (ANC)'.

The attack, made at a public meeting last week but only reported Wednesday -- in Johannesburg's Sowetan newspaper, are White's first utterances on the state of the sport since he stepped down.

He said the UCBSA 'was now a cesspool of self-interest and politics'. The black-white issue now dominates every decision of the UCBSA, which does not make the job of maintaining South African cricket at the pinnacle of the game at all easy.

Off-field problems had to be addressed if the national team were not to slip further and further behind world champions Australia, White warned.

While the Australians have gone from strength to strength, our team is showing the signs of the problems affecting the game in the boardroom.

Capello respects Leeds

ROME, March 2: AS Roma coach Fabio Capello paid tribute to Leeds United on Wednesday, as he finalised his plans to knock the English Premiership club out of the UEFA Cup, reports AFP.

concerned' about government interference in the game. When he put up moderate resistance to this, he was 'swept away' in 'something like ethnic cleansing', he said.

Describing himself as a 'rejectionist' in the Commonwealth Games, it would have been nice if they did not look like the England team.

He said a government campaign to get rid of him started after an impromptu speech he made in Cape Town at the end of the 1998/99 series against the West Indies in which he told politicians to keep their noses out of sport.

His remarks followed complaints by then Sports Minister Steve Tshwete that he was tired of seeing a 'illy-white' national cricket team and that rising black stars should be given a chance to play for South Africa.

The national team began to feel alienated and were very angry that the principle of merit selection had been departed from, White said.

He described the current convener of selectors, Rusdie Magiet, who replaced Peter Pollock when the UCBSA demanded more black representation at executive level, as 'weak'.

'Magiet did not even play particularly good first-class cricket and under him the selectors have made a series of blunders that have been difficult to comprehend,' White said.

'Ever since they decided to put Hansie (Cronje, the national skipper) on trial at the beginning of the season, the team has stumbled along.'

Campbell runs riot

PERTH, Australia, Mar 2: Cavalier opening batsman Ryan Campbell fashioned one of the most exhilarating innings of the Australian summer here Thursday, when he smashed 203 for Western Australia against Queensland on the opening day of their Sheffield Shield cricket clash, reports AFP.

The compact 28-year-old right-hander crashed 27 fours and two sixes in his 221-ball, five-hour innings as Western Australia reached a commanding 367-5 in their first innings after being sent in by Queensland skipper Stuart Law at the WACA Ground.

Campbell flayed the Queensland bowling only our days after hitting 108 runs off the same attack in Sunday's final of the inter-state one-day contest, won by Western Australia.

In his latest innings, he figured in a 175-run third-wicket stand with big right-hander Michael Dighton, who ended the day unbeaten on 97, just three runs away from his debut first class century.

Best in a disappointing Queensland attack were pace pair Adam Dale and Joe Dawes, who each claimed 2-69 on the easy-paced wicket.

BRIEF SCORES: Western Australia 367-5 (Ryan Campbell 203, Michael Dighton 97 not out, Michael Hussey 33; Adam Dale 2-69, Joe Dawes 2-69 versus Queensland on first day of Sheffield Shield game at WACA Ground.
