Malaysian businessmen offered 10 areas for investment

KUALA LUMPUR, Aug 1: Identifying Bangladesh as an ideal destination for investment, Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina today urged the Malaysian businessmen to invest massively in her country, reports UNB.

"I am sure you will find Bangladesh as your prospective location for investment. I welcome you all to my country in near future," she said, addressing a luncheon meeting hosted by National Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Malaysia (NCCIM) at Istana Hotel.

The prime minister offered 10 specific areas for Malaysian investment in Bangladesh. The areas are: Power generation, oil, gas and mineral exploration, computer software, telecommunications, textiles, agro-based industries like poultry and dairy farming, tourism development, air transportation, private EPZ and gems cutting and polishing.

Unveiling a 12-point incentive package, Hasina said foreign investment in Bangladesh is secured against nationalisation and expropriation. It also guarantees repatriation of dividends, capital and return from it.

Describing Bangladesh as a bridge between the emerging markets of South Asia and fast growing markets of South East Asia and the ASEAN countries, the prime minister said foreign direct investment is an emerging phenomenon in Bangladesh.

"Our country's needs for investment in infrastructures for the expanding cities and growing population cannot be met from the government and domestic savers alone."

She said with improved economic management, reforms in key areas and a liberalised investment regimes, Bangladesh is capable of attracting significant part of the private capital now flowing into developing countries.

The government has undertaken comprehensive macro-economic and structural reform measures as a part of its overall market friendly liberalisation programme, the prime minister said.

Hasina referred to the various steps to protect foreign investment and said Bangladesh ensured intellectual property rights and is a signatory to different multilateral agencies like MIGA, OPIC and ICISD.

She said Malaysia and Bangladesh have concluded investment Treaty for promotion and protection of investment and bilateral agreement to avoid double taxation.

President of NCCIM Tan Sri Tajuddin Ramli also spoke on the occasion.

Labour and Manpower Minister Abdul Mannan, State Minister for Foreign Affairs Abul Hasan Chowdhury, Prime Minister's Principal Secretary Dr S A Samad, her sister Sheikh Rehana and members of Bangladesh business delegation, Privatization Board Chairman Kazi Zafarullah and FBCCI President Abdul Awal Mintoo attended the function.

Replying to question, the prime minister admitted that some problems still exist in Bangladesh. But in near future

Khaleda alleges several attempts on her life, blames PM

By Staff Correspondent

Leader of the Opposition and BNP Chairperson Khaleda Zia has accused Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina of sponsoring several attempts to kill her ever since the Awami League government took over power.

"Several attempts had been made to kill me after this government took over. Now I understand that the prime minister had been involved in these attempts," Khaleda told BBC Bengali Service in an exclusive interview last night.

The BNP chief categorically denied the allegation of opposition's involvement in planting bomb in a bid to assassinate the prime minister.

"I want to say that we do not believe in the politics of killing. But it was proved that the prime minister herself was involved in the politics of killing," Khaleda said.

Earlier in an interview with BBC World Service, Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina alleged that the opposition had been trying to kill her.

"The prime minister had also tried to implicate the opposition by bringing similar types of allegations against it," Khaleda said.

Quoting a book, which is authored by an Awami League activist and a close associate of the prime minister and was published recently, the opposition leader said the prime minister wanted to kill me.

She had announced Tk 5 lakh as reward for killing me and of that amount she had paid Tk. 50,000 as advance, Khaleda said.

When asked to comment on the government's allegation that the opposition was responsible for the deteriorating law and order, the BNP chief denied the charge.

Instead, she alleged that the nephew of the prime minister illegally occupied a five-storey building and that ruling party people encroached upon the Buriganga and forcibly took over a bank, sexually assaulted girl students at Dhaka University.

Stunning reversal!

By Nazmul Ashraf

The latest by-election has seen a stunning reversal in the fate of Awami League heavy-weight Amir Hossain Anu.

He has enticed public support over four times more than that in the previous occasion back in 1996 in his home district of Jhalokathi.

Having a dubious record of losing all the parliamentary elections in this remote southern district except in 1973, Anu secured 99,303 votes in Monday's by-election in Jhalokathi. He bagged only 23,792 votes in the 1996 election.

The record was even worse in 1991 when he polled only 16,357 votes. His previous high was 35,094 in 1986, according to available records.

And on all those occasions,

Dengue: Rain comes as a blessing

By Staff Correspondent

Heavy rains across the country yesterday came as a blessing, with doctors and entomologists saying it would wash away aedes mosquito and its larvae to allay the "dengue scare".

The downpour in the city, recorded at 81 mm from 6 pm to 9 pm, flooded most of the roads and created water-logging in many areas. Rains that disrupted life in the city continued till writing of the report at 11 pm.

The rainfall was recorded at 51 mm in Cox's Bazar, 39 mm in Rajshahi, 24 mm in Chittagong, 32 mm in Tangail, 27 mm in Comilla, 18 mm in Srimangal, 16 mm in Jessore, 19 mm in Iswardi and 19 mm in Dinajpur.

Heavy rainfall is expected today also, the Meteorological

Department here said last night.

"If this trend of rainfall continues in the next couple of days, aedes mosquito will be completely destroyed," an entomologist told The Daily Star last night.

The experts had earlier said that dengue fever was spreading in the city due to less rainfall during the current monsoon. Less rains favours breeding of aedes mosquito.

"Aedes mosquito lay eggs in fresh water, specially in small containers, but not in running water," said Medical Entomologist N P Maheswary, a World Health Organisation consultant.

When rain stops, spraying of larvacide is very effective and completely destroys the larvae, the experts said.

Dengue: 5 die in Ctg so far

From Staff Correspondent
CHITTAGONG, Aug 1: Chittagong unit of Bangladesh Medical Association (BMA) today claimed that so far five dengue patients died in Chittagong out of 57 cases detected.

Addressing a press conference at BMA office here Dr Imran Bin Yunus, Convenor of Dengue Surveillance Subcommittee said that the information on deaths and attack by dengue fever were gathered from hospitals, clinics, laboratories and practitioners.

He said dengue patients were identified through definitive tests, not by confirmatory tests. Dr Imran suggested that blood test of suspected patients should not be done before five days as it takes time to develop anti-body.

He stressed the need for concerted efforts to combat the dengue menace.

He pointed out that dengue virus were detected in 13.7 per cent people below 15 years dur-

78 more dengue cases in city

By Staff Correspondent

More 78 dengue patients were admitted to different hospitals in the city yesterday, according to sources in the hospitals.

Of them, 21 were admitted to Dhaka Medical College Hospital, eight each to Mitford Hospital and Shishu Hospital, two to BIRDEM, three to Rajarbagh Police Hospital, three to Red Crescent Holy Family Hospital, three to Bangladesh Medical Hospital, five to Central Hospital and two were admitted to Dhaka Community Hospital. The rest were admitted to some other private clinics.

Doctors said most of the cases were of 'classical' dengue, which pose no threat. There was no case of Dengue Haemorrhagic Fever (DHF), which is dangerous.

Many patients went to hospitals with high fever, but all those were not cases of dengue fever. There were also instances of wrong diagnosis by doctors, sources said.

Normally, infection by dengue virus causes fever within 2 to 7 days. The 'bolt' method of test is quick and easy but less reliable. Occasionally it gives 'positive' result, which is not correct, doctors said.

Fiery debate over Mig, frigate purchase

JS body chairman under fire for 'disregarding court order'

By Inam Ahmed

The parliamentary standing committee on defence ministry had a fiery debate yesterday over a number of issues including the purchase of MIG-29s, Leyland trucks and the authority of the parliamentary body.

The committee after hours of debates decided to discuss in its next meeting the contentious issues and also the one on defence budget in the parliament, according to meeting sources.

The other issues on the agenda are alleged corruption in MIG-29 and frigate purchases and corruption in the unscheduled overhauling of army aircraft AN-32 in Russia. It has been alleged that the reason behind taking the aircraft to Russia was to legitimise personal pleasure trips.

BNP lawmaker Major (rtd.) Akhteruzzaman charged the committee chairman for disregarding a court order to show all documents regarding the MIG-29 purchase to the committee.

Akhteruzzaman said he had submitted the court verdict to the chairman's office although it was the chairman's job to collect the verdict from the office of the attorney general. And yet, the documents are being held up to hide facts about corruption, he alleged.

However, Committee

Chairman Maj. Gen. K M Shafiqullah (rtd.) said he had not received any copy of the court verdict. He asked Defence Secretary Idris Ali to collect a copy of the judgement and submit it before the committee.

The members also observed that the standing committee has become a paper tiger, as the executive bodies have implemented none of its recommendations. They felt that the committee recommendations are in line with the constitution and the executives should implement those.

The frigate purchase from South Korea also figured in the four-hour meeting and the opposition members once again
