11-party alliance protests change in definition of default loans

By Staff Correspondent

An eleven-party alliance yesterday staged a demonstration in front of Bangladesh Bank protesting the recent proposed change in definition of default loans, says a press release.

The alliance initially held a meeting at Muktangan and then led a procession to the bank where they staged the demonstration. The speakers at the demonstration alleged that instead of recovering money from the defaulters, the government is changing their definition which is not an acceptable step.

Of the Tk 55,000 crore loan given out so far almost Tk 27,000 crore still remain outstanding. Although loan defaulters are prohibited by law from contesting in parliamentary elections they always contest in the name of rescheduling of their loans, the speakers said.

They also said that the government often include loan defaulters in their entourage and include them on the Commercially Important Person (CIP) list.

The meeting was addressed among others by co-ordinator of the alliance Saifuddin Ahmed Manik and Rashid Khan Menon.

PM's cheque for donation handed over to Samar Das

Samar Das, a renowned music director has received a cheque of Tk one lakh donated by the Prime Minister for his treatment, reports UNB.

State Minister for Youth, Sports and Cultural Affairs Obaidul Quader handed over the cheque to the ailing musician at his Laxmibazar residence yesterday.

The state minister enquired about his physical condition and treatment and assured him of all possible help from the government.

Samar Das and his wife Deepika Das expressed gratitude to the Prime Minister for the assistance.

Rate of increase of agri production satisfactory

A meeting of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Agriculture Ministry yesterday noted with satisfaction the prices of agriculture inputs including seeds and fertilisers remained within the purchasing capacity of the farmers, reports UNB.

The meeting with Dr TIM Fazle Rabbi Chowdhury in the chair at Sangsad Bhavan reviewed the progress of the cultivation of HYV rice.

Matters relating to supply of HIV seeds and fertiliser, subsidy and ensuring fair price of agriculture products to farmers also came up for discussion.

The meeting was informed that despite unfavourable climate at times, the rate of increase of agricultural production is satisfactory because of sincere efforts of the government departments and farmers.
