

Olympic Special

The echidna Millie, named after the millennium, is a born optimist and information guru who has her sights set firmly on the future. She is sharp and witty, analytical and assertive. She represents the earth.

TODAY'S MENU

SYDNEY, Sept 16 (AFP): The schedule for Day 2 Sunday at the Sydney Olympics:

FOOTBALL
Bruce Stadium, Canberra
Women's Preliminaries (Norway v Nigeria)
Men's Preliminaries (Slovakia v Japan)
Melbourne Cricket Ground
Women's Preliminaries (USA v China)
Men's Preliminaries (Spain v Chile)
Brisbane Cricket Ground
Men's Preliminaries (Brazil v South Africa)
Hindmarsh Stadium, Adelaide
Men's Preliminaries (South Korea v Morocco)
HOCKEY
State Hockey Centre
Men's Preliminaries (Australia v Poland) (Argentina v India)
Women's Preliminaries (Netherlands v China) (Australia v Britain)
Women's Preliminaries (Korea v Spain) (Germany v New Zealand)
ARTISTIC GYMNASTICS
BADMINTON
BASEBALL
BASKETBALL
BEACH VOLLEYBALL
BOXING
TRACK CYCLING
EQUESTRIAN
FENCING
HANDBALL
JUDO
ROWING SAILING
SHOOTING
SOFTBALL
SWIMMING
TABLE TENNIS
TRIATHLON
VOLLEYBALL
WATER POLO
WEIGHTLIFTING

SYDNEY, Sept 16 (AFP): Final updated Olympic medals table after the first day of the Sydney Games Saturday:

	G	S	B	T
Australia	2	2	1	5
United States	2	1	1	4
France	2	1	0	3
Japan	2	1	0	3
Russia	1	1	0	2
Switzerland	1	0	1	2
Great Britain	1	0	0	1
Turkey	1	0	0	1
Ukraine	1	0	0	1
South Korea	0	2	1	3
China	0	1	3	4
Germany	0	1	1	2
Bulgaria	0	1	0	1
Italy	0	1	0	1
Netherlands	0	1	0	1
Belarus	0	0	1	1
Belgium	0	0	1	1
Brazil	0	0	1	1
Cuba	0	0	1	1
Kirghyzstan	0	0	1	1
Romania	0	0	1	1
Sweden	0	0	1	1

JENNY-OF-ALL-TRADES: Star US swimmer Jenny Thompson seen here during the heats of the ladies 100-metre butterfly at the Sydney International Aquatic Centre yesterday. Thompson later won her sixth Olympic gold with the American 4x100 metres relay team. —AFP photo

Thorpedo right on target

SWIMMING
SYDNEY, Sept 16: Australia's Ian "The Thorpedo" Thorpe scored a direct hit as an explosive first day of Olympic swimming Saturday saw five world records tumble in four finals, reports AFP.
Thorpe delivered two of them, in the 400m freestyle and the men's 4x100m freestyle relay. Michael Klim led off the relay in a world record 48.18 and Chris Fydler and Ashley Callus swam the middle legs as Australia dealt the United States their first ever defeat in the event in Olympic competition.
"It's an incredible feeling," Thorpe said. "It's an honour to get this gold for the country."
Ukrainian Yana Klochkova warmed up the crowd in the 17,500-seat Sydney International Aquatic Centre with a world record 4min 33.59sec in the women's 400m individual medley.

Thorpe then sent the packed house into a frenzy with a world record 3:40.59.
Thorpe, 17, improved on his own previous record of 3:41.33 set in this same pool at the Australian Trials on May 13.
"This is the proudest moment of my life," Thorpe said. "I had to swim hard, but I knew I was in great form and the record proves it."
Thorpe who at 15 became the youngest world champion in the history of swimming said his first Olympic gold medal was unique.
"Nothing compares to winning the gold medal," Thorpe said, because his training since 1998 hasn't been free of disruptions.
"It was my most difficult preparation," Thorpe said. "I smashed my ankle in Perth, then there was the drugs con-"
See page 15

Indian pair plots Aussie heartbreak

TENNIS
SYDNEY, Sept 16: Indian doubles ace Leander Paes and Mahesh Bhupathi are confident they will wreck the Woodies farewell party in the Olympic tennis tournament, reports AFP.
The Indians, the world top doubles pair before they split up last year, have reformed their partnership for Sydney and despite a lack of competitive match practice are seen as the Australian duo's main rivals for gold.
Their time apart however means they have not been seeded here and Friday's draw was less than kind, lining them up to meet the Australians, Mark Woodforde and Todd Woodbridge, in the second round.
"We were not seeded, so we expected a tough draw," Bhupathi, who arrived here on Friday, told AFP Saturday after the pair's first practice session at the Olympic tennis centre.

"But if we are planning on winning a medal here we have got to beat a lot of good teams."
"We have come to win the tournament so we expect a lot of tough matches."
Paes, who won India's only medal in Atlanta four years ago — a bronze in the singles, dismissed suggestions that the pair were struggling to recover the on-court understanding that helped them reach all four Grand Slam finals last year, winning the French Open and Wimbledon.
"The understanding we never lose. That is something that we create as two individuals," he said. "It's a matter of just getting our games together and for that we have to be patient and ready to work really hard."
The Indian number one, who is also playing singles here and was India's flag bearer in Friday's Opening Ceremony, also played down the pressure of being the country's best medal
See page 15

NET TO NET: Anabelle Prawerman (L) of France spikes while Germany's Maïke Friedrichsen tries to block it during their Olympic beach volleyball encounter at Bondi Beach yesterday. —AFP photo

Samba beat on Bondi Beach

BEACH VOLLEYBALL
SYDNEY, Sept 16: Brazil's powerful female beach volleyball teams sounded an ominous warning to their American and Australian rivals at the Bondi Beach Stadium here Saturday with both pairs cruising through their opening matches, reports AFP.
Defending Olympic champion Sandra Pires and her latest partner Adriana Samuel made short work of Cuba's Tamara Larrea and Dalkia Fernandez, romping home by a 15-4 scoreline.
And favourites Adriana Behar and Shelda Bede, the current Pan-American champions, were even more convincing, dispatching Bulgarians Tsvetelina and Petia Yanchulova 15-3.
Behar refused to get carried away, saying: "We'll be training really hard over the next couple of days and we hope to keep it up."
It was an awesome performance from Brazil and left the women from the United States and Australia in no doubt they will have to be at their peak if they are to top the podium.
Pires, who won her gold medal in Atlanta with Jackie Silva and was given the accolade of bearing Brazil's flag at Friday's opening ceremony, produced a convincing performance with Samuel, though the pair who have not yet struck the same rapport on the sand that the woman from Rio de Janeiro had with Silva.
"We're very happy," beamed Samuel. "It's a good sign for us to make the final."
Pires, a deeply religious 27-year-old, had been troubled by a calf injury when preparing for Sydney in Canada but there was little evidence of any problems.
Australia — uniquely with three teams in the women's competition — had mixed fortunes.
Medal hopes Tania Gooley and Pauline Manser made a
See page 15

Bye, bye Olyroos

FOOTBALL
SYDNEY, Sept 16: Host nation Australia became the first high-profile casualty of the Olympic men's soccer tournament here Saturday as Italy lived up to their status as one of the favourites for gold by cruising into the quarter-finals, reports AFP.
In the night's other matches, Kuwait upset the Czech Republic in Brisbane and the United States drew 1-1 with Cameroon, leaving Group C still wide open.

NIGERIA - 3, AUSTRALIA - 2
A terrible mistake by Australian defender Simon Colmisso gifted Nigeria a 3-2 victory at a packed Sydney Football Stadium, leaving the Olyroos with two defeats from two games and no chance of progressing.
His 64th-minute back header was woefully short and Victor Agali was able to round goalkeeper Danny Milosevic to slot the ball into an empty net.
Colmisso was lucky to still be on the pitch at that point after the game boiled over ten minutes into the second-half.
Australian captain Brett Emerton elbowed his Nigerian counterpart Celestine Babayaro in the face sparking a prolonged melee during which Colmisso appeared to strike Yakubu Ayegebeni to the ground.
Amazingly it was Babayaro not Colmisso who joined Emerton on the long walk to the touchline for an early bath.
Two classic goals on the counter-attack had earlier put the Nigerians in the driving seat.

second, capitalising on poor defending to fire home from the edge of the area.
He should have claimed his hat-trick just minutes later but and played out the second-half in time honoured tradition, though Ventola managed to squander two simple opportunities.

headed wide before he did indeed find the net for the third time in the game.
Unfortunately it was his own goal as he headed Julio Cesar Leon's corner past a startled Christian Abbiati to give Honduras a glimmer of hope.
However, with the job completed, Italy sat on their lead

Nigeria need a point in their final match, against the Italians, to be certain of finishing above Honduras in the second qualifying place.

KUWAIT - 3, CZECH REPUBLIC - 2
In Group C, striker Faraj La-
See page 15

GOLDEN MUM: Switzerland's Brigitte MacMahon acknowledges the applause from the crowd while her three-year-old son Dominic looks at the gold medal MacMahon won in the first ever Olympic triathlon competition yesterday. —AFP photo

Dutch, Pakistan toil

HOCKEY
SYDNEY, Sept 16: Defending champions Netherlands rode on the generosity of Britain's Calum Giles to make a winning start as the top guns struggled for form on the opening day of the Olympic men's hockey on Saturday, reports AFP.
Giles wasted a penalty stroke to help the Dutch secure a hard-fought 4-2 win over a vastly improved British team in Group A.
Asian giants Pakistan were lucky to survive a 2-2 draw against resurgent Canada, while two other strong contenders ers for the gold, South Korea and Spain, played out a listless 1-1 draw.

In the day's last match, Germany gained full points off Malaysia with a 1-0 win. Bjorn Emmerling scoring off a penalty corner in the 43rd minute.
Germany, which last won the Olympic title at Barcelona in 1992, joined the Dutch at the top of the group with three points.
The Dutch, the pre-tournament favourites with the Olympic, World and Champions Trophy titles in the bag, struggled to keep the British at bay until Giles let slip the advantage.

With the scores level 2-2 midway through the second half, Giles pushed the penalty stroke straight into veteran goalkeeper Ronald Jansen's pads to give the Dutch a new lease of life.
Captain Stephen Veen capitalised on the let-off, scoring twice in the remaining period to give the champions full points in the Group A match.
Giles said he did not know how he missed. "I usually don't miss too many strokes. There can be no excuse."
Veen, the Dutch captain, conceded his team was tense at the start. "Our first match is
See page 14

AIR ALEXEI! Russian reigning world champion gymnast Alexei Nemov soars in the air during his floor exercise routine at the Super Dome in Sydney yesterday. —AFP photo