

Chilli, sugar prices up in Faridpur

From Abdul Matin Fakir

FARIDPUR, Oct 3: Acute crisis of green chillies has been prevailing in all the markets here for the last week.

The incessant rains with occasional let-up during the last few weeks have badly damaged the chilli plants resulting in unexpected scarcity of green chillies. Consequently the price of green chillies has jumped up abnormally.

A week ago, a kilogram (KG) of green chillies was being sold between Taka six and seven, but for the last three days green chillies are being sold at Taka 30 to 35 a kg.

When contacted, some farmers opined that there is hardly any possibility of coming down of the soared prices before the arrival of newly harvested green chillies in the markets.

The price of sugar has also shown an upward trend during the last couple of days. The traders have kept this upward trend of sugar prices very tactfully to avert the people's dissatisfaction. One kg of sugar was sold at Taka 32 in the local markets on September 17, but it was sold at Taka 33 a kg on the next day and on September 22 sugar was found to be sold at Taka 36 to 38 a kg.

Strong adverse reaction was marked among the retail buyers over sugar price-hike in the spell of only five days. Exchange of hot words between buyers and grocers over sugar price-hike is being noticed in markets.

When asked about the sudden price hike of sugar from Tk 32 to 38 per kg, a grocer attributed the price-hike to short supply of sugar adding that this up-ward trend would continue unabated unless the supply of sugar is boosted up.

The authorities concerned should take necessary steps to keep the sugar-price stable at Tk 32 a kg in the markets.

Milk production down in Cox's Bazar dist

From Abdul Monayem Khan

COX'S BAZAR, Oct 3: Despite a bright prospect of abundant milk production in the south coastal region, a declining trend of milk production is visible now-a-days.

According to a survey conducted by a social welfare organisation, the number of milch cows has been gradually decreasing in seven upazilas due to massive outbreak of cattle diseases in the past.

Inadequate supply of fish and its high price have also led to rise in slaughtering of milch cows in these upazilas.

The upazilas are Chokoria, Ramu, Kutubdia, Mohekhali, Cox's Bazar Sadar, Ukhlia and Teknaf.

In the shoal areas of the district, acute shortage of fodder largely affected the normal milk production.

Child labour up

CHAPAINAWABGANJ, Oct 3: Despite concern by human rights organisations, the number of child labourers in the district continues to rise at an alarming rate, reports UNB.

According to a survey, over 5,500 school-going children of the district are doing odd jobs to support their poor parents.

Shoal lands which were used as grazing field for milch cows and cattle, now become fields for crop production throughout the year.

As a result, sufficient grass could not be grown as it had been before. Fodder crisis has worsened here due to prolonged drought this year and last year which led to the price-hike of fodder like grass, wheat, paddy dust and oil-cake.

Besides, with the population boom and introduction of mechanised system of farming, grazing fields have become limited.

Now cattle cannot graze normally as they did in the past without any obstruction.

It is to be mentioned here that, due to scarcity of milk, a large number of Ghosh community have already given up their ancestral profession.

When contacted, Shymol Ghosh of Ramu informed this correspondent that, milk production has abnormally fallen following the shortage of milch cows which is caused by severe drought and scarcity of fodder.

As a result, they cannot procure the required quantity of milk for their products. Moreover, the price of pure milk for quality sweetmeats is high compared to imported powdered milk which some non-professional sweetmeat producers use in making sweetmeats.

Market sources said, taking the advantage of this situation, some dishonest milkmen are selling adulterated milk causing troubles to the consumers who are compelled to use powdered milk at a lower price.

Meanwhile, the prices of baby food and different brands of powder milk have abnormally increased in the local market causing immense miseries to the fixed and low income group of people.

Anwarul Islam, owner of a dairy firm, alleged that due to acute scarcity of fodder and negligence of the Livestock Department, milk production of their farms has come down.

Besides, for lack of marketing facilities, the dairy farm owners are compelled to sell huge quantity of milk to the tea shops and houses at much cheaper rates.

Tangail is not a children-friendly town. At least this photo testifies to this. Picture shows the lone children park in the district town has turned into a grazing ground of cattle due to lack of maintenance. As a result the children are being deprived of their basic right to play. This park was built in 1987 at the personal initiative of former minister Mahmudul Hasan, but no government or non-governmental organisation came forward to take care of the children's park. A correspondent from Tangail has taken this shot recently.

A boost for pisciculture

From Kamran Reza Chowdhury

RAJSHAHI UNIVERSITY, Oct 3: Zoology Department of the university has successfully produced veda fish, an endangered species of indigenous fish in the country.

The department cultivated the sweet water fish, Nandus Nandus, in ponds on the campus, giving a boost for the production of the popular fish.

Indiscriminate use of pesticides in croplands is polluting water in ponds, canals, beels and rivers, causing harm to fish. Like veda many other sweet water indigenous fishes are endangered.

versity, and his colleague in the department Dr Selina Parveen produced veda, Bangla for stupid. The fish is called veda because of its serene and peaceful nature. The researchers produced the fish in controlled environment

The fish was once easily available in northern districts. Same is the case with other districts including Dhaka, Faridpur, Gopalganj and Madhupur. Price of the delicious sweet water fish varies between Tk 80 and Tk 120 per kg in markets.

The fish is usually 18cm in height. The yellow striped black fish is also available in paddy and jute fields in rainy season. In the winter, it takes shelter in the rotten weeds and water hyacinth. But its most loved place is muddy surfaces of water bodies.

The fish is also called as noina, boka, balish, boba, meni, nonda and noda in several parts in the country.

From Abu Ahmed

SATKHIRA, Oct 3: Police have failed to make any tangible progress in sensational Arnab Das murder case, although three and a half months have already elapsed.

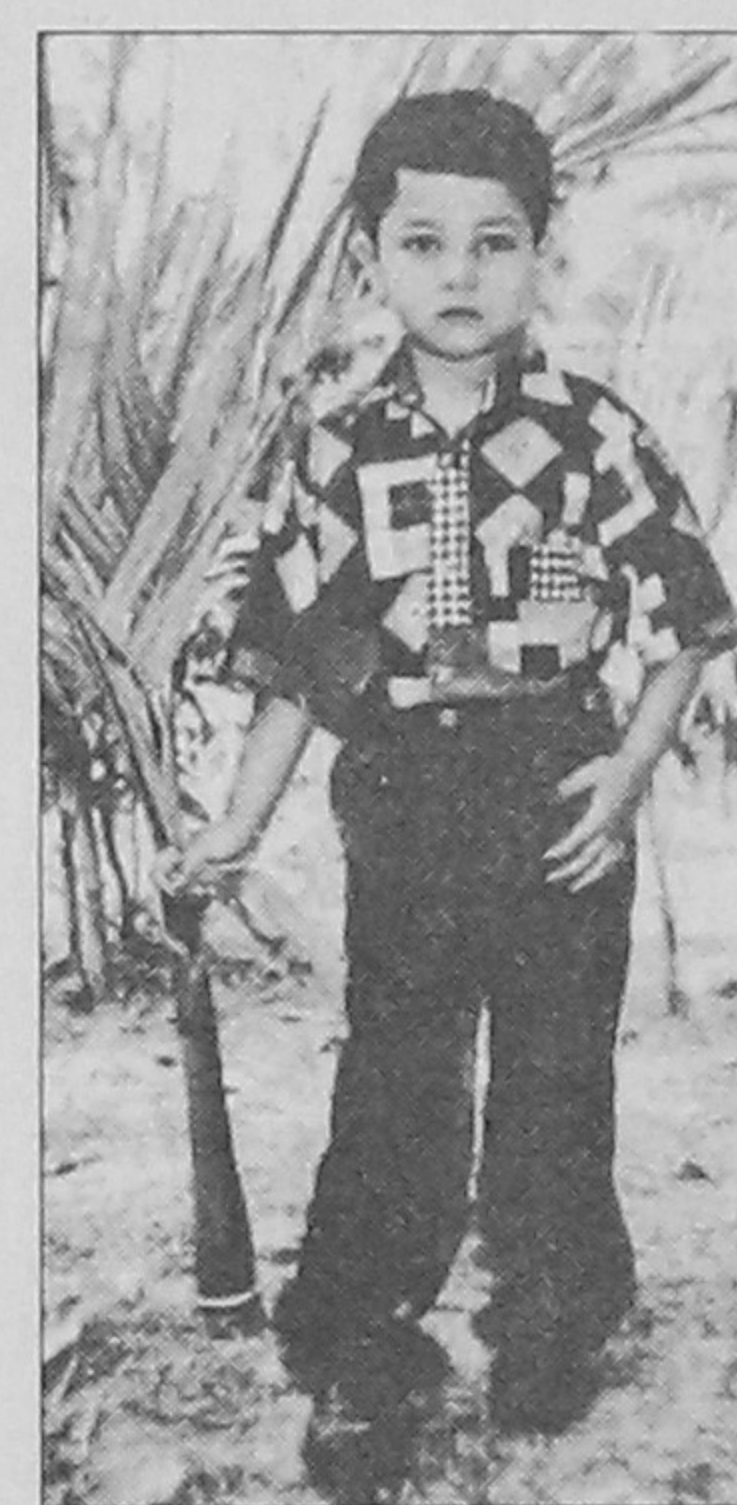

Police were yet to get adequate information to probe the killing and arrest suspects. Locals allege police are not sincere to arrest the culprits.

Decomposed body of Arnab Das, 8, the only son of Bimal Krishna Das of village Sahaia in Kaliganj, was found in a ditch in the village on June 21.

Mukul Gazi, son of Sayeed Gazi of the same village, took the boy, a student of class III, to his residence to give him a parrot in the early morning of June 18 and since then he was missing, family sources said. After three days the body, which bore several marks, was recovered.

Local people caught Mukul Gazi accusing him of the murder and handed him over to police. Police arrested him under Section 54 and sent him to respective magistrate court. On July 2, Mukul Gazi gave a confessional statement to the court. In the statement, he said in exchange for Taka 5,000 he picked up Arnab Das and handed him over to Mannan, Salam and Tariqul. They later the boy, he added.

Many attribute the killing to political rivalry. Uncle of the boy Nirmal Das contested twice in chairman election in Champal union parishad. Bimal Das, a businessman, is an active supporter of his elder brother Nirmal. Political rivals of Nirmal and Bimal killed the innocent boy, requesting anonymity said an elderly man in the village.
