'Privatisation of banks may affect West Bengal'

CALLCUTTA. Nov 17: West Minister Buddhadev Bhattacharjee vesterday said the proposed privatisation of banks would adversely affect the state's economy by further decreasing the credit-deposit ratio, says PTL

"The CDR in our state is low. We hardly get funds from the banks. If privatisation happens who will get the money?" Bhattacharjee said while talking to newspersons here.

Expressing his government's opposition to the proposed privatisation, he recalled that despite differences with the Congress, his party, the CPI (M), had supported Indira Gandhi's move to nationalise banks.

Describing banks as 'symbols of the country's selfreliance. Bhattacharjee claimed that centre was attempting to bring down its share in banks under World Bank directives.

When pointed out that protest rallies by banks employees vesterday had thrown city life out of gear, the chief minister said such protests were inevitable, as privatisation of banks would throw the country's economy in jeopardy. "But while protesting, the difficulties of citizens should also have been kept in mind."

Shell wins nod to buy Fletcher Energy assets

WELLINGTON, Nov 17: Anglo-Dutch oil giant Royal Dutch Shell won approval Friday to buy the bulk of Fletcher Energy's 4.6 billion dollars ($1.8 billion) of assets, in conjunction with Texas-based energy operator Apache Corp, says AP.

The Commerce Commission gave its agreement to Shell's second application to buy locally owned Fletcher Energy on condition it sells a range of gas and liquefied gas assets in New Zealand

In its previous decision, the commission had said the deal would give Shell too much power in the local oil and gas exploration industry.

John Belgrave, chairman of the competition watchdog, said Friday the commission was satisfied that, "subject to the divestment undertakings. Shell would not acquire or strengthen dominance in any of the relevant markets.

Fletcher owns oil and gas holdings and exploration rights around the world in countries including Canada, Argentina and Brunei.

Russian mobile phone firm posts 21pc profits

MOSCOW, Nov 17: Russian mobile telephone operator Mobile TeleSystem (MTS) said Thursday net profit rose 21 per cent year-on-year to 75.9 million dollars (88 million euros) in the nine months to September, reports AFP.

The result was helped by strong growth in demand in Russia and a high-performance business policy, said the company, quoted by financial news agency Prime-Tass.

MTS, quoted on the New York stock exchange, said its sales climbed 42 per cent over the period to 368.2 million dol-

The number of clients multiplied 3.25 times from the start of the year to reach one million on November 13, MTS said.

During the third quarter alone, sales climbed 22 per cent to 146 million dollars and net profit rose two per cent to 28.6 million dollars.

MTS is Russia's main mobile telephone company. It operates the Global System for Mobile telecommunications (GSM) 900/1800, covering 34 regions or 45 per cent of the Russian population.

MTS is held by the Russian finance and industrial holding firm Sistema and by DeTeMobil. a subsidiary of Deutsche Tele-
