Press enjoying maximum freedom: Sayeed

The press is enjoying maximum freedom during the tenure of the present government. State Minister for Information Prof. Abu Sayeed told the Jatiya Sangsad yesterday, reports BSS.

Replying to a supplementary question from Begum Shaheer Monwara Huq (Women seat-7) as to what action the government has taken against a section of newspapers, working against the spirit of the Liberation War and provoking communalism, the State Minister said press freedom involves responsibility, accountability and national security.

He admitted that a few newspapers, taking the advantage of maximum freedom, have been trying to undermine the spirit of the War of Liberation and provoking communalism in the country.

Prof. Sayeed said the government has already restricted placing government advertisements in these newspapers. Legal actions are also being taken against them, he added.

Replying to another question from Mustafizur Rahman (AL-Chatagong) regarding filing of criminal cases against editors and reporters, the state minister said the affected people has the right to take anybody to court over publishing of false and distorted news items.

He, however, said the government is trying to update the laws relating to effective functioning of the Press Council.
