The envelope must be marked PPSU "National Adviser" or "Mahager/Accountant" respectively. Only short-listed candidates will receive replies.

Community participation vital to alleviate poverty: Experts

BSS, Dhaka

Experts from home and abroad at an international seminar here yesterday suggested community participation to implement strategies required for developing self-reliance of poor families and identifying ways to strengthen the local level institutions to function in that regard.

They stressed the need for exchange of ideas as well as a clear understanding about poverty and evolve necessary programmes to change a situation from the existing to a desired level through participatory processes, thus helping the poor to rise above their current social realities.

The day-long seminar on "Poverty alleviation - Self-reliance" was organized jointly by the GIR-DAP, Rotary Club of Jahangirnagar and a local NGO Gram Bangla in the CIRDP auditorium here. Myanmar Ambassador in Dhaka Ohn Thwin opened the seminar while the CIRDP Director General Dr Mya Maung gave the welcome address. Dr S I Khan of Rotary Club of Jahangirnagar and Gram Bangla also spoke on the occasion.

Nearly 80 experts from government organizations, NGOs, development partners and academics during their deliberations provided deep insights on strategies to combat poverty in countries like Bangladesh by ensuring participation of all stakeholders and beneficiaries. Four papers - Community Participation in Poverty Reduction Programmes, Model Rural Development Project, Gram Bangla Model for Poverty Alleviation and Self-reliance and Local Level Institutional Development and Capacity Building for Poverty Alleviation were presented at the seminar.

The presenters as well as the participants were of the common view when they upheld the importance of local level institutions, being regarded as potential breeding grounds for democracy and transparency in the sphere of local self-governance in a democratic society. These institutions help the people understand democratic spirit and values leading to a decent life.
