Nasim welcomes private initiatives in firefighting

BSS, Dhaka
Home Minister Mohammad Nasim said yesterday that private initiatives would be welcomed in fire fighting services in the country.

Inaugurating the Fire Service and Civil Defence Week-2001 at Mirpur yesterday morning Nasim said despite sincerity, the government alone could not provide adequate support for the sufferers of growing fire incidents.
He said like private security services, entrepreneurs at the private-level could introduce fire services for their own purposes and for others as well.

"The garment owners should come first in this regard," he said, adding that it was not necessary to start with heavy equipment. "You can start it at a very small scale."
Home Secretary M M Reza, Director General of Bangladesh Rifles A L M Fazlur Rahman, Inspector General of Prison Liakat Ali Khan, Director General of Coast Guard Commodore Shahabuddin, Director General of Fire Service and Civil Defence Brigadier General M Obaidul Huq, Director General of Narcotics Department Modabbir Hossain and Additional Inspector General of Police Abdur Rahim were present on the occasion.

Nasim, who witnessed a number of techniques of modern fire fighting system in the field, said although the vehicles and other big equipment are costly, the government was trying its best to procure more to enrich the department.

Referring to growing fire incidents in slum areas and other places, he said ignorance and lack of awareness were responsible for these catastrophes.

He called upon the people to be careful in household works as well as workers in their workplaces to get rid of fire accidents.
