Nation can't make progress keeping women ignored: PM

UNB, Savar

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina yesterday underlined special steps for economic self-reliance of the womenfolk through acquiring modern education to rid them of social injustices and backwardness.

"Women must integrate themselves with the mainstream development activities because a nation cannot achieve real development keeping them ignored and illiterate," she said inaugurating the Sheikh Fazilatunnesa Mujib Women Training Academy at Zirani, Savar in the afternoon.

Hasina said her government had undertaken massive women development plans in light of Women Development Policy adopted on March 8, 1997.

Under the plans, multifarious programmes are being implemented to expedite poverty alleviation and imparting education and training to women, particularly to those in rural areas.

The Prime Minister said if women community is properly educated and economically empowered, repression on women would reduce and they would be free from social injustices and discrimination.

She said a vast majority of women who live in the countryside and contribute to agricultural work need to be imparted modern knowledge of farming through proper training. Hasina also called for creating social awareness and responsibility towards women.

Sheikh Fazilatunnesa Women Training Academy, named after wife of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman for her great contribution and inspiration behind all democratic movements and 1971's Liberation War, would impart free training to 200 women annually in different farm sub-sectors like poultry, dairy, fisheries, horticulture, garments and basic computer programmes.

Hasina said the government attached importance to helping distressed and helpless women, evaluation of women labour and rural development. Referring to women empowerment, she said participation in union council elections by some 45,000 women is a unique example of the empowerment programme.

Referring to various steps to ensure women participation in decision-making and administration, the Prime Minister said writing mothers' names alongside fathers in giving identities of children was made compulsory.

Besides, four women ministers have been inducted in the Cabinet and one has been appointed woman whip.
