DHAKA'S gallery-goers will have an opportunity to feast their eyes on the strong and vibrant colours of Syed Iqbal, whose intense colour palette is almost unrivalled in the city's art circle, when his fourth one-person exhibition opens today at the Bengal Gallery of Fine Arts. Titled Mindscape, the body of the present show is made up of works from his earlier series Tears of Nature, and two recent series, Our Women and Mindscape. These three series different from one another thematically and also stylistically speak of the fecundity of the artist's imagination. The destruction of nature is rampant in the name of development. Trees are felled, forests are cleared and water bodies are filled to modernise our way of life at the cost of the natural world. The heart of a sensitive artist bleeds to see the massacre of nature. The series Tears of Nature records the artist's terrible sense of anguish. This series evokes my memories of a green and velvety landscape of Chittagong and a nostalgia for the time spent in that city of hills and large shade trees. I loved to walk into the forests and spent time there in my childhood. I developed quite a spiritual bondage with the swaying bamboo forest, and the awe-inspiring Batali Hills in Chittagong." Iqbal never plans his theme. His works are, as he says, more like a visual diary, a record of everyday feelings and emotions without their being filtered by intellect. "I want to retain the mood and the emotion that egg me to paint and as they first come to me." In Mindscape Iqbal embarks on a journey to explore his inner self, the world of sub-conscious. From his sexual fantasies to hatred, from jealousies to desires almost everything that crowd in his mind find an outlet to his rich canvas. His blends happily abstracts forms with realistic objects suggesting that both are part of extended reality. Our Women series gives a picture of the patriarchal society where women are oppressed, neglected, fall victim of fatwa and suffer the pain and agony of acid violence. The series also portrays the great Bengali women who have left their marks in history. The portraits he has made are from imagination and there is no intention to be realistic or representational. His portraits are tilted more towards abstraction indicating his interest in capturing the creative female power in women. The portrait of Pt. Lalita Waddedar a revolutionary figure during the swadeshi movement is symbolic one. And Nurjahan who was stoned to death by a religious decree is also comes to his painting as a symbol of social disparity, inequality, and religious bigotry that looks down upon women as inferior human being. Impulsive, Iqbals transfers almost everything that strikes his mind into his themes. The present show has some works that are individual and are not part of any series. Dalai Lama is inspired by a film called Kundan. The enigma and spiritual aura that the film tried to portray finds an expression on Iqbal's canvas with strong colour. The carnivalesque mood of his childhood has been revisited in Boishakh. In Buddha, Iqbal paints his face in big close up with eyes shut. A divine glow hangs on the face in trance. Syed Iqbal's colours are happy and lyrical and yet meditative. His current show will definitely enchant the art lovers of the city.

PICK OF THE DAY

Cleopatra on BTV at 8:30 pm Hel (Gina Torres), Sarge (Victoria Pratt) and Cleopatra (Jennifer Sky) are in Mauser's (Patrick Kake) lab when a gang of mutants led by the sinister Creegan (Joel Tobeck) ambushes them. Hel knows it would be a security breach if Creegan captures Mauser, but the mutants blast Mauser into pieces, sending him off-line. The mutants continue to fire away as they collect Mauser's parts and the Voice tells Hel that even though Mauser is off-line, he can still be purged of top secret information. But Creegan and his gang disappear with Mauser before Hel can stop them.
