

Sonamasjid Customs Station earns Tk 22cr in 3 months

Full-fledged land port demanded

UNB, Salmonirhat

Sonamasjid Customs Station in Chapainawabganj district collected Tk 22 crore in revenue in three months, breaking its previous record.

Sonamasjid, the largest customs station of northern region, had targeted to collect Tk 6 crore every month but it realised Tk 6.63 crore in January, Tk 7.05 crore in February and Tk 8.10 crore in March, surpassing the target by Tk 3.79 crore.

Set up in 1991-92 fiscal, the customs station earned highest amount of Tk 54.90 crore in revenue in 1999-2000 fiscal followed by Tk 7.27 crore in 1993-94.

Export-import through the customs station has marked a substantial rise since the commissioning of Bangabandhu Bridge.

If the present trend continues, said an official, the revenue collection from the station will hit Tk 72 crore this fiscal.

An importer said the amount of revenue collection will go up further if administrative hassles and other problems in import-export through the station can be removed.

He said there is no bank branch in the station for which the businesspeople are facing various hazards.

In the face of demand by local exporters and C&F Agents Association, Finance Minister Shah AMS Kibria, visiting the Custom Station two years ago, had assured the businessmen of opening a bank branch there.

But there is no sign in sight to set up any bank branch there. Besides, the longstanding demand of the local people to make the customs station into a full-fledged land port still remains a far cry.

What worries the businesspeople most is that there is no warehouse, telephone and postal facilities. Even it has no rest house and medical centre.

In most cases, the authorities have to store imported goods under open sky.

Abdur Rashid and Samiul Haq Liton, president and general secretary respectively of the C&F Agent Association, said the Sonamasjid Customs Station is contributing highest amount of revenue compared to nine other stations of the northern region, but it has not seen development for a long time.

They urged the government to immediately declare the customs station a full-fledged land port considering its potentials.

award winner Bir Shrestha Capt Mohiuddin Jahangir.

Capt Mohiuddin Jahangir sacrificed his life for the freedom of the motherland on the eve of independence on December 14, 1971.

In the early hours of December 14, Capt Jahangir along with his co-fighters swooped on the Pakistan occupation forces at Rehaichar, on the outskirts of the town, and captured their bunkers one after another.

During the fierce hand-to-hand fight, an enemy bullet suddenly hit him leaving him dead on the spot at 9 am. Later on, he was buried at Sonamasjid premises according to his last wish.

Although a bridge over the Mahananda River was named after Bir Shrestha Jahangir, no monument was set up at the place where he embraced martyrdom.

District Muktijoddha Sangsads and Bir Shrestha Jahangir College had jointly took an initiative to construct a mausoleum here. Jahangir's father Abdul Motaleb Hawlader formally laid the foundation stone of the monument on June 2, 1999.

The then State Minister for Water Resources Dr Alauddin, Col (retd) Shawkat Ali MP and local freedom fighters and political leaders were present on the occasion.

However, the construction work on the monument could not be started due to complexity over land and non-cooperation of the then district administration and local political leaders.

District Muktijoddha Sangsads Commander Razir Rahman told that work on the monumental could not be started as Roads and Highways Department did not release the land where foundation stone was laid two years ago.

A letter was sent to the concerned ministry seeking permission to set up the monument on the place where the valiant freedom fighter sacrificed his precious life.

Local people also urged the government to take necessary steps in order to set up the monument on the place where the valiant freedom fighter sacrificed his precious life.

RU teacher dismissed on charge of moral turpitude

RU CORRESPONDENT, Rajshahi

Chancellor Prof Abdul Khaleque following a written allegation by four teachers of the same department that Abdus Salam, the then Chairman of the department, got three first year (honours) students admitted into the department in 1998 by manipulating their test scripts.

The university authorities also formed a four-member probe committee on October 12, 1998 headed by Professor Sohrab Ali, to investigate into the allegation. The committee found him guilty of corruption and moral turpitude.

The university syndicate in an 'extra-ordinary session' accepted the report and formed another probe committee on September 26, 1999 headed by Professor Abdul Halim for re-investigation.

The university syndicate in its August 27-28, 2000 session formed another committee, headed by syndicate member Professor Chowdhury Julfikar Matin, to decide the fate of the probe report.

The committee then asked Abdus Salam to answer to the show cause notice that why he would not be dismissed from his job.

The May 5-6, 2001 syndicate session found the teacher's answer 'totally unacceptable' and rejected his claim of innocence. The syndicate also ordered the registrar of the university to terminate the teacher from service accordingly.

15,000 children not enrolled in Jamalpur

Ten-year-old Sohel, who works at a tea stall at Fulbaria in the town said, "I want to go to school but my parents have forced me to work as my father cannot not maintain our ten-member family with his small income".

However, eleven years old Seraj of Pirgalhati village under Sadar upazila is defying all odds. He goes to school in the morning and pulls rickshaw in the afternoon. His father, who has always been in severe financial crisis, cannot provide education to his children.

Salim, a student of class five at Fatahpur Primary School, said, "I have to pull rickshaw because my father is unable to maintain our family".

to schools.

He said although child labour is banned world-wide as per the United Nations declaration, it is rising everyday in the district and these children are mostly from underprivileged families.

There is also "Food for Education Programme" aimed at ensuring smooth enrolment of the underprivileged children. However, the programme cannot check the dropout, said some local people.

When asked, a headmaster of a school in the town said it is not possible to eradicate child labour and ensure basic education for all by government's endeavour alone.

United effort is needed to make the Total Literacy Movement (TLM), a literacy campaign launched by the government, a success, he added.
