Plan to develop skilled manpower in health sector

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The health and family welfare ministry has taken up a special programme to develop skilled manpower in the health sector.

"Our aim is to develop efficient nurses and health technologists having the knowledge of latest development in medical science," said Brig (Retd) M A Malek, a former advisor for health and family welfare of the caretaker government.

Under the programme, the government will soon introduce short courses for nurses and health technologists to improve their skills in different fields. The courses, ranging from three months to one year, will start from January next.

A one-year training course will be imparted in the fields of electro-cardiography (ECG), exercise tolerance test (ETT), and cardiac catheter laboratory technology (CCLT). Besides, a specialised training programme will also begin on intensive care and coronary cardiac care for nurses working at cardiac operation theatre.

Health technologists and nurses of National Institute of Cardiovascular Diseases (NICVD) and National Heart Foundation and Research Institute will be selected for the courses.

Certificate courses on ophthalmology will be arranged for nurses and health technologists working in BIRDEM, National Institute of Ophthalmology (NIO) and Islami Eye Hospital.

Special courses will also be introduced for nurses and health technologists attending Kidney and Cancer patients in Banghabandhu Sheikh Mujib Medical University Hospital (BSMMUH), National Institute of Kidney Diseases and Urology, National Cancer Research Institute and hospital, Dhaka Medical College Hospital and BIRDEM.

Nine sub-committees have been formed for proper implementation of the programme. The committees will be headed by Prof K M H S Serajul Huq, head of cardiology department of BSMMUH, Prof Harun-ur-Rashid, director of National Institute of Kidney Diseases and Urology, Prof M Khalilur Rahman, department head of Anesthesiology (DMCH), Prof Badrul Islam, director of National Cancer Institute and Prof Shajida Choudhury, director of NIPSOM.

UNB, Sylhet

Finance and Planning Minister Saifur Rahman yesterday said the Awami League government had left the country in a dire straits for which the caretaker government had to borrow Tk 2200 crore from banks to run the country.

Saifur Rahman made the observations while speaking at a meeting with local elite and political personalities at the Deputy Commissioner's office.

Turning to post-election unrest, the minister urged people to make united effort to "maintain law and order, stop terrorism and make sure that opposition workers are not subjected to harassment."

In this regard, he called upon all to abide by Prime Minister Khaleda Zia's "directive against taking the law into one's own hands."
