Her simple yellow sari with its vermilion border, her earrings , pendants and bright mark on her forehead helped to present her as a delightful creature with sloe eyes and full lips. On top of her were simply portrayed peacocks, done

Fishing Net, watercolour by Dr. Farida Zaman

Ranjit Das , Showkutuzzaman and Mahbubul Amin with those like that of Sukumar Paul, Quader Bhuivan and Lakshman Kumar Sutradhar.

Farida Zaman's Fishing Net, water colour, was awash with burnt sienna, bottle green and gray, bringing in the fishermen's nets with romantic splashes of lines and colours making the subject impressionistic to the point of near semiabstract. Fascinated by life in the villages, Farida had presented her ideas with subtlety and imagination. The soft browns stood against the deeper colours and present the idea with deft and powerful strokes.

Farida did her MFA in 1978 from MSR University, India and her Ph.D. in 1995 from Vishwa Bharati University, Shantiniketan, India. At present she is a professor at the Institute of Fine Arts, DU.

HBO: 10:00 p.m. October Sky. In rural West Virginia, a star is about to be born. Homer Hickam Jr, unlike what his name suggests, wasn't born to follow in his father's footsteps and become a great coal miner. He wants to shape his own future, a future that has something to do with being a space engineer.
