

Awami League President and Leader of the Opposition Sheikh Hasina speaks at a joint meeting of its presidium, central working committee, advisory council and party MPs at its election office in the city yesterday.

Developed states urged to help protect global climate

UNB, Dhaka

Bangladesh has urged the developed countries, the major polluters of the environment, to cooperate in protecting the global climate to save the world for the future generation.

Ambassador Dr Iftekhar Chowdhury, the Permanent Representative to the UN, conveyed the country's concern while taking part in a debate in the Second Committee of the UN General Assembly in New York on Wednesday, according to a message received in the city yesterday.

"To save the world for the future generations, we must act now and act together," he said.

The sea rise by a single metre due to global warming could inundate vast parts of Bangladesh, he said, adding that global climate change is an issue that affects many developing countries, including Bangladesh.

Referring to the measures taken by the Bangladesh government to counter this threat, he said collective interests must transcend those that are narrow.

The Second Committee is expected to recommend a resolution in this regard for adoption in the General Assembly this year.

Udichi Shilpi Goshthi brought out a procession in the city yesterday demanding immediate release of Shahriar Kabir, a noted writer and columnist.
