Composition By Shamsul Islam Nijani one of us every year has it's own emotions about the year 2001 to which we bid bye at midnight tonight, in a rich tapestry of Dhanmandi. The 13-member artists' group Dhaka Art Circle (DAC) started its latest show titled 'Paintings 2001' on December 28 and it will continue up to January 6.

Former Chief Justice

Muhammad Habibur Rahman inaugurated the exhibition as chief guest while renowned artist Professor Mohammed Kibria was present as special guest at the inaugural ceremony with poet Shahed Rahman, president Kabya Kala and Abul Khair Litu, Chairman, Bengal Foundation as guests of honour.

An informal group, Dhaka Art Circle was formed in 1995 and since then contributing positively to the health of our fine arts. Having three eminent artists in the group to lead, DAC is dedicated in the development and nourishment of art. Standing against social and political violence and aggression DAC wishes to voice against all the evil forces in the society. The exhibition 'Paintings 2001' is a voice of DAC's concern to our degenerated political culture and DAC has dedicated themselves in a variety of styles from themes from eye-catching realistic expressions to abstract forms. The beauty of changing seasons, the play of light and shadow of the colourful world, all have inspired the artists to choose their themes. These paintings are also connected to each other in their spirit to capture the present time. In the oil painting titled 'Life

(1)' by famous artist Abu Taher, the faces of different beasts appear through the thick colour patches. He is a master of brushwork and expresses his passion through the thick pigment of colour. An interesting artwork titled 'Composition' by Shamsul Islam Nizami shows how he has related his emotions to the geometricisation and nonconventional colour flows. It is hard to find any conventional figure or form in his works but it seems that it has a background and a foreground, which gives them a feel of a landscape.

'Rebels Fishes' is a brilliant work by renowned artist Samarjit Roy Chowdhury. This oil painting depicts a design of bright and sombre colour patches highlighted with the mysteries of light and shadow. The oil painting titled 'Res toration' by Mohammed Mohsin shows an abstract form of some natural motifs where the colour is a dominant factor. Capturing the outlines of these motifs he created a natural composition.

The true beauty of Water Lilly is revealed in Pranesh Mondal's oil painting titled 'My Country'. Watercolour 'Rains' by Sayed

Enayet Hossain is an interesting piece of work. It depicts few people holding umbrellas in a rainy day. The composition and the figurative models highlights the painting. Anwarul Huq drew some images from the debris of ancient civilisation in his oil painting titled 'Ancient Symbols'. He used these symbols to represent the present complexity of time.

Rejaul Karim's watercolour 'Nature' depicts the wonderful phenomenon of spilling of water and through that a formation of motif and its dilution. 'Painting in Blue', done in acrylic, by Biren Shome, speaks of difficult human existence. While artist Abdus Shakoor speaks the language of rural Bengal in his watercolour 'Tradition', Swapan Chowdhury's work 'Nature-3', done in mixed media, expresses a supernatural beauty in geometric structures and particular brightness of
