Concert for Sohel Rana

Band groups of Bangladesh, some new and old, join hand to save cancer patient Sohel Rana

HANA SHAMS AHMED

THE 28th of December was a very special day for music lovers all across the country. The Army Stadium, which in recent days has become the favourite place for bands to play to a large crowd, in a no-traffic jam venue, was once again festooned on this day for a day-long performance of music.

The performers were some newcomers into the music scene as well as the well-established bands of the country. The concert was of course for a very noble reason. A 14-year-old Sohel Rana, a class 9 student from BAF Shaheen College has been suffering from Blood Cancer since the beginning of this year. The funds raised from this concert will go for the treatment of this young boy. Life Foundation organised the show.

The concert began early in the morning. Music fans filed in front of the stadium gate from as early as 8AM to be able to be nearer to the stage. The show started at 11AM.

The first band to come to the stage was Canopy. This is a relatively new band to come into the music scene. The band is composed of Shams on vocals and guitars, Victor on lead guitar, Shamim on bass guitar, Chanchal on keyboards and Jonathan on drums. They have recently launched a new album during Eid with 11 other bands called 'Charpotro' that includes the well known bands Aurthohin and Cryptic Fate. They started off with the song 'Bangladesh' from their soon-to-be released album. They then sang the songs 'Prem Madokey', 'Nirobey' and 'Chaine Firey'. They concluded with a beautiful composition from a popular song of Guns 'n Roses, 'November Rain'.

The next band to come was Subconscious. This was among the 15 participants that took part in the Benson and Hedges Star Search Contest of 2001. They began with two English songs - 'We will Rock this place' by Queen and 'Nothings gonna stop us now' by Starship and went on to sing 'Dil de Dil de' next followed by 'Gache katha Gofe tel' about a person hoping to win a lottery. Their final song was 'Aamader Dhaka'. A very well written song about the everyday problems that Dhakaites face. Acid Rain came on next and began with an instrumental from Joe Satriani. They then went on to a soft love song 'Bhalobashi tomai'. They sang two songs of Bryan Adams, 'Back to you' and 'Cuts like a knife'.

Kaniz Shuborna came on next as the crowd welcomed her with a big cheer. TV VJ, model and singer Shuborna with the song 'Jeyona Bondhu' followed by her popular number 'Bhalobashi Tomai'. After singing two western songs, 'Laisla Bonita' of Madonna and 'That Don't Impress Me Much' by Shania Twain she finished off, much to the crowd's disappointment, with the song 'Tumi Prothom'. The popular Dolchhut came on next as the crowd threw requests at them. Shanjib of Dolchut thanked Life Foundation for arranging such a programme for Sohel Rana and hoped that he would recover from his illness. They began with the song 'Aami Firey Jete Chai'. They then went on to sing three other songs from their album 'Ridoypur' - the popular 'Baji', 'Sobuj Jokhon' and 'Gari Chole Na'. Vikings, winners of the first Benson and Hedges Star Search came on next. They began with the song 'Din Joto Dukkho Toto'. They sang six more songs including Bon Jovi's 'It's My Life'. They concluded with their popular song 'Jiboner Kolahol'.

Feedback came on next with their new vocalist Reshad, after Maksud had left. They began with the melodious and very popular song 'Moushum'. This was followed by 'Bohu Durey', 'Chai Karo Mon Petey' and 'Ei Mon Maney Na' which had a distinct Latin touch to its music. After singing three more songs they finished off with their popular song 'Melai Jaire'. Maksud's band Dhaka then came on next. Maksud, who is well known for his ability to interact with the crowd did not fail to do so this time either. Coming on to the stage he talked to everyone and the audience was delighted. He began with the song 'Khujii'. Next he sang 'Bangladesh' which described the 30 years of independence of the country. With his song he talked about the problems that the fundamentalists are causing in our country, by dividing the people through religion. Next came the song 'Dhonnobaad Hei Bhalobasha' followed by Gonontro, the lyrics of which spoke of the misuse of democracy all throughout the country. This song took the crowd to their feet. Three songs later the popular song 'Melai Jaire' was sung again.

Warfaze was one of the main attractions of the day. As night slowly fell in and the lights put on, it turned out to be a perfect setting for their songs to begin. By this time the crowd had come to a maximum. Warfaze kicked off with the song 'Shadhikar' from their first self-titled album. The band then went on to 'Ashamajik' from the album with the same name which continued to 'Nei Proyojon' from their album 'Jibon Dhara'. The vocalist Mizan then sang the hit song from their latest album, the song 'Hotasha'. Balam, the other vocalist of the band, then sang the soft number 'Joto Durei' followed by another soft number, 'Mounota'. Mizan got back again with two songs from their latest album, 'Bewarish' and 'Alo', which is a song about how a drug addict wants to lead a normal life but can't. The band sang six more songs including 'Shomoi', 'Mone Porey' and rest from their first album - 'Asa', 'Boshe Achi' and concluding with 'Ekti Chele' which included along guitar solo in the end. They sang a total of 15 songs to enthral the audience completely and proved the worth of Warfaze once again.

Nagar Baul was the last band to come. The lead singer James, also titled 'Guru' followed, and almost worshipped, by thousands all over Bangladesh, was greeted with cheer. Some also attempted to greet the 'guru' by breaking the security fence and attempting to get near the stage, only to be pushed away by police and army personnel with their batons. But James this time failed to fulfill the audience's desire because of the time constraint and also because he only sang five songs from his recently released album 'Dushtu Cheler Dawl' which the audience is not yet familiar with.

It is hoped all the work will pay off and the life of Sohel Rana will be saved.
