

JU situation deteriorates

JU CORRESPONDENT

Situation at the Jahangirnagar University deteriorated yesterday when policemen tried to video the token hunger strike programme of the students in front of the Vice Chancellor's office.

Students of the History Department organised the hunger strike.

They immediately left the spot when policemen began to video the programme at 11.30 am.

The agitating students, later brought out a procession protesting video recording without any prior permission.

Some one hundred students went on the hunger strike to realise their five-point demand including immediate release of seven JU students and two local youths arrested on Friday under Public Safety Act, withdrawal of the cases against them, trial of the persons responsible for the death of JU teacher Kawser Hossain, punishment to policemen who injured 250 students on Friday and safe traffic system on the highway.

When asked, ASP Baten said, "We are taking the shots to find out the students who ransacked VC's residence, Administrative Building and Teachers' quarters on Friday night."

JU authorities filed a case with Savar Thana in this connection on Sunday.

VC Prof Jasim Uddin Ahmad and Registrar Mohammad Ali said they lodged only a GD in this connection.

"I asked the policemen not to video the programme as it would create commotion among the general students", the VC said.

When asked about the fate of the arrested, he said, "I have talked with the higher authorities of police to take steps to release the nine as early as possible."

Proctor Enamullah Parvez said, "Policemen are acting as per the directives of Home Ministry."

A huge number of policemen were deployed at different gates, buildings and sensitive points of the campus to avoid fresh violence.

The Platform for Resistance to Repression (PRR) will form a human chain on the Dhaka-Aricha highway at 11.00 am today.

Bangladesh Rehabilitation Centre for Trauma Victims (BRCT) is likely to submit an investigative report on the police attacks on JU students to the Home Ministry today.

BRCT will also provide medical and financial support to the injured students.

Meanwhile, English Department named its seminar library after Kawser Hossain -- 'Kawser Hossain Memorial Seminar Library'.

A milad was also held at the department after Ast prayers yesterday in memory of Kawser Hossain.

Classes were held only in five departments. Attendance was very thin. Students of History and Chemistry continued their class boycott programme yesterday.

BIT, Ctg students union polls today amid boycott by BCL, BCU

CU CORRESPONDENT

The central students union election of Bangladesh Institute of Technology (BIT), Chittagong will be held today.

Bangladesh Chhatra League (BCL) boycotted the election saying that there is no atmosphere to participate in the election.

BIT could not collect any nomination papers due to resistance allegedly from Shibir and Jatiyatobadi Chhatra Dal (JCD) cadres. The left leaning Bangladesh Chhatra Union (BCU) also could not collect their nomination papers.

As a result, JCD and the Shibir are contesting the elections for the seven posts and the 3 male and a lone female halls.

BRTO to introduce more buses, trucks in Chittagong

BSS, Ctg

Bangladesh Road Transport Corporation (BRTO) will add new buses and trucks with its existing fleet for ensuring better services in the port city and its adjoining areas.

Twenty-seven new buses and 150 trucks will start plying on the streets in Chittagong city soon, BRTO Chairman Advocate Taimur Ali Khanda told newsmen at Chittagong press club auditorium yesterday evening.

BRTO will also provide medical and financial support to the injured students.

Meanwhile, English Department named its seminar library after Kawser Hossain -- 'Kawser Hossain Memorial Seminar Library'.

A milad was also held at the department after Ast prayers yesterday in memory of Kawser Hossain.
