UNB, Dhaka

Opposition leader Sheikh Hasina strongly protested the arrest of BCL leaders and demanded their 'unconditional' release.

In a statement yesterday she said 10 Chhatra League leaders were arrested without any case or warrant on Monday night while coming out of her 'Sudha Sadan' residence.

Expressing concern over deteriorating law-and-order, Sheikh Hasina mentioned that some 52 people were killed during the four-day Eid vacation across the country.

"After capturing cattle markets, an unprecedented spate of terrorism is now going on centering raw hides of the sacrificial cattle. But police kept silent about the identified terrorists involved in killings and crimes," she said.

Newspapers are publishing incidents of killing, rape, snatching, dacoity, toll collection and many other crimes almost every day, but the government is observing a shameful silence," she said.

"In such situation, it appears that there is, in fact, no existence of government or administration. The whole country is taken hostage by terrors," said the AL chief.

The immediate-past PM thinks that downfall of this 'autocratic government is a must' as no autocratic governments could stay in power by filing false cases, arresting and unleashing repression and oppression.

She urged the countrymen to launch a movement against this 'neo-fascist government', which she said is against democracy, peace and humanity.

Earnings from overseas employment sliding

RAFIQ HASAN

Bangladesh's annual overseas employment earnings continue to dwindle as the country finds it increasingly difficult to get its citizens employed in overseas jobs.

Apart from a difficult economic period, absence of large-scale manpower export to three major destinations -- Kuwait, Qatar and Malaysia -- that has remained nearly suspended for a long time, is eating away the country's fragile financial infrastructure.

According to available figures, the number of overseas employment during the January-October period in the year 2001 came down to 1.60 lakh from 2.22 lakh in 2000.

The corresponding remittance earnings also fell to Tk 6, 275 crore from Tk 10, 199 crore.

A high-powered government delegation led by State Minister for expatriate welfare and overseas employment Major (retd) Quamrul Islam would visit Kuwait and Qatar this week in a bid to increase manpower export to those countries, according to sources in the ministry.

Earlier, a similar delegation visited Malaysia and requested the Malaysian government not to fire Bangladeshi nationals whose contracts had expired.

"Manpower export to Malaysia has started again after my visit," Quamrul Islam told the Daily star.

"The restriction on Bangladeshi workers still remain in place but the government is gradually relaxing it," he said adding that some people are going there amidst the restriction, which he said would be withdrawn after a cabinet decision of the Malaysian government.

According to sources, sending people to Malaysia virtually remained suspended since 1996. A move to send people to that country last year saw a small success and only around a thousand people have gone there so far.

Sources at recruiting agencies said that earlier, large number of Bangladeshis used to go to Kuwait and Qatar for jobs but the number has now been reduced to a mere few thousand a year.

Kuwait had stopped recruiting Bangladeshi nationals following the killing of an influential Kuwaiti citizen by his Bangladeshi employee in 1997.

Following the killing, manpower export to that country remained suspended for two years, according to sources in the Bangladesh Association of International Recruiting Agencies (BAIRA).

Although the ban was withdrawn recently, large-scale employment is yet to begin because the employee recruitment process has been made critical and lengthy.

A local recruiting agent said that a prospective employee's passport and other related documents have to be sent a few months ahead of his employment and only after approval from the ministry of labour in Kuwait would the embassy here issue a visa.

Earlier 20,000-25000 people went to Kuwait every year but now only two to three thousand make it over there.

The manpower export scenario in Qatar is also dismal as the number drastically fell following agitation by Bangladeshi nationals in different factories there.

Bangladeshis normally worked in garment factories in Qatar but due to strikes and agitation by them, factory owners became hesitant about employing Bangladeshi workers.
