Australia newspapers have said goodbye to Mark Waugh, following the move by the World Cup champions to dump the country's leading limited overs run-scorer from the

"As sad as it is to see a champion like Mark Waugh pensioned off as a one-day cricketer, it must be said Australia's selectors got it right," the Herald Sun newspaper said.

Waugh, 36, was not included in the 15-man squad named on Monday for the forthcoming series against South Africa and Zimbabwe. The Australian newspaper said the selectors felt they had to discard

"In truth, they had no option after abandoning his brother Steve, whose importance to the team has always been so much greater," The Australian said.

The Age newspaper said sooner or later, all good things came to an end.

"For 16 years, the Waughs have played a big part in this country's cricketing achievements, helping to win a couple of World Cups," The

The hosts are weakened by the absence of experienced paceman Wasim Akram and opener Saeed Anwar -- both recovering from injuries.

the 51st minute when the umpire signalled a penalty stroke, which Jeremy Hiskins converted easily to make it 2-2.

Brent Livermore made it 3-2 in the 59th and Matthew Smith increased the margin four minutes later, before Prabjot Singh scored India's last goal in the 67th. Reigning champions Holland outplayed South Africa 3-0 on to join Germany and Australia in the semifinals of field hockey's World Cup here. Teun de Nooijer and Karel Klaver scored in the first half, while Piet Hein Geeris flicked the third goal midway through the second period to complete a comprehensive win for the Dutch. Holland ended the league with 16 points, two behind Pool A leaders Germany, who knocked out Pakistan earlier on Tuesday. Pakistan's manager Khalid Khokhar launched an extraordinary attack on the umpires after his team lost a crucial tie to Germany to bow out of field World Cup. "They (the umpires) were against us and crossed all limits," a fuming Khokhar said after the 2-3 defeat that lifted Germany into the semi-finals. An official protest lodged by

Pakistan against the two umpires -Clive McMurray of South Africa and Jason McCracken of New Zealand was, however, thrown out by the International Hockey Federation

Cullinan causes a stir

AFP, Port Elizabeth

South Africa's preparations for Friday's second Test against Australia have been thrown into turmoil after batsman Daryll Cullinan withdrew following a pay

Cullinan, 35, walked out of the squad here Tuesday when his demand for a contract until next year was refused by Gerald Majola, chief executive of the United Cricket Western Province left-handed batsman Graeme Smith, 21, was picked to replace Cullinan in the match starting at Newlands Friday. It will be Smith's first international Selection convenor Rushdi Magiet said the batting order would probably be re-shuffled because Smith is an opening batsman, while Cullinan had been due to bat at number four.

Magiet said Cullinan had been a strong candidate to take over as captain if Shaun Pollock does not pass a fitness test on an injured side which kept him out of the first Test.

Vice-captain Mark Boucher led the side in Johannesburg when they were beaten by an innings and 360 runs, but Magiet said it was not certain that he would again stand in for Pollock, whose injury has not responded well to treatment. But with Cullinan out, Boucher will again most probably be captain if Pollock withdraws. Majola said he was disappointed at Cullinan's attitude "Daryll insisted that we give him nothing less than an A Category UCB contract until 2003 for him to play in this match instead of the Test match fee which is paid to noncontracted players. The UCB policy states that a player can be offered a contract in the middle of the season after he has played two Test matches or six one-day internationals in that season. Daryll does not fit those criteria.

"Daryl also demanded that he be Cricket World Cup. Our current player contracts expire at the end of April and we are not in a position to make an exception for Daryll."

Majola said he was disappointed that Cullinan had refused to play for his country under the same circumstances as other players who were called up to the national side.

"It is important for us to engender a spirit of national pride in our team and it is vital that players realise the honour playing for South Africa."

Cullinan was said to have flown back to Johannesburg after discussions with Maiola and Magiet. "It's a very sad state of affairs when people don't want to play for their country," said Magiet
