Law & order situation worsens in Khulna city

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Khulna

Panic has been sweeping in the Khulna city as the law and order situation has deteriorated alarmingly following the October 1 general election.

Every city-dweller is feeling insecure following three recent appalling incidents -- murder of journalist Sheikh Haroon-ur-Rashid of Dainik Purbanchal, escape of terrorist Tapan from police custody, and snatching of arms from the policemen.

Since October 1 last, at least 18 people have been killed.

In addition, rampant extortion is taking its toll on the businessmen. Those who do not comply with the demands of the extortionists face death threats.

Tapan, a leader of an outlawed party, was snatched from the police from the court premises by his armed cadres on January 26 and journalist Haroon was murdered on March 2.

With the crime curve going upwards, over a hundred of posts in the law-enforcement agency, including the posts of additional police commissioner, deputy police commissioner and 13 assistant police commissioners, have been lying vacant for the last four months.

Nobody wants to join the Khulna Metropolitan Police, said a high ranking official.

The official, however, refuted the allegation that the cases recorded with the police are not being investigated properly. Rather, police have made headway in many cases, he said.

When asked, Khulna City Corporation Mayor Sheikh Tavohur Rahman stressed the need for sincerity of the politicians and the police as well to maintain law and order. He admitted that the crimes are on the rise. But it can be checked if there is no credibility gap between the police and the people, he added.

Talukdar Abdul Khaleque, an Awami League leader and former state minister, blamed the government for the failure in containing crimes and ensuring security of life and property of the people.

The administration cannot work properly due to the pressure of the ruling party leaders and cadres, the AL leader alleged.
