Symbolic, visionary and striking

Imtiaz Islam Shohag's exhibitiion in La Cite international des Arts grabs critical acclaim in Paris

SAIFUL ISLAM

FROM distance it is like colours clogged with the surface. From near it is like symbols casting jigsaw puzzles. Quite critical to the world could be one way of characterizing Imtiaz's works. His paintings on show in paris features medium contemporary to the world of art.

Imtiaz's paintings covers up genre quite different from the trendy contemporary paintings in Bangladesh. Folk tradition has drenched the canvases of the giants and the novices in Bangladesh. The fusion of expressionism and reality in tooth and claw is something that Imtiaz is aiming at. The sterility of modernism, distortion and the impeccable influence of post modernism could be seen in his works.

Together with painters from China, South Africa, Korea, Taiwan, Macedonia and France, Imtiaz Islam Shohag from Bangladesh has exhibited nine paintings from April 4th to 13th in Cité Internationale des Arts in Paris.

La Cité Internationale des Arts is an exotic mix of artists of different nationalities and field of studies with a particular focus on the visual cultures of modernity and postmodernity.

The activities of La Cité Internationale includes painting, sculpture, music, cinema, design, visual arts, architecture, film making, performance, choreography, video, multi media art etc.

La Cité internationale des Arts is a non-profit international arts center located at 18, rue de l'Hotel de Ville, 75180 Paris cedex 04, on the right Bank of the Seine opposite the Ile St Louis, in an area known as 'Le Marais'. It has been welcoming artists from all over the world for more than thirty years whose career and potential professional development will be strongly benefiting by a stay in Paris. Imtiaz, a junior of unusual talent, with a bit of recognition and substantial record of achievement in the arts has achieved the facilities of the organization.

The idea of this kind of a beneficial organization was proposed first in 1947 by a French diplomat, Félix Bruno, who returning to Paris after the war noticed that ever increasing rents were deterring artists. There are more than 300 studios available for artists residencies within this complex, supported by government and nongovernment organisations from forty five countries. A twenty eight member board oversees the complex and Bruno manages it.

As an unusual junior talent distinguished by its peers in Dhaka, Imtiaz Islam Shohag is engaged on his way of discovery in Paris is representing the new mode of art from Bangladesh.

Nineteen ninty nine laureate of Dhaka Fine Arts Institute in the field of painting, long time associate with Alliance Française de Dhaka, Imtiaz has been awarded a scholarship from the French Government in 2000 . After a year of learning French and working in Institute of Beaux Arts in Aix-en-Provence (South of France), Imtiaz passed brilliantly (laureate) the highly competitive contest of Ecole Nationale Supérieure des Arts Décoratifs de Paris. At the same time he is performing his third year study in this prestigious French Institution.

Moreover he was invited as an artist in residence in La Cité internationale des Arts. He has also participated in 'Artistes du Monde' à la galerie Bernanos , an exhibition in Paris.

Journey back to life is the theme of his nine paintings in Cité internationale des Arts dealing with the aesthetic of accident.

Accident always occurs as a sudden change of state through the process of which the order of things falls irreversibly into a primordial chaos. Impredictibility and instability this is precisely the idea sufusing imtiaz's works.

Some paintings of Imtiaz is like the violent metamorphose leaving an unalterable impression embedded in the consciousness as reality is scrambling into pieces as a broken mirror. The tragedy of life is painted by the painter by making the stark reality palpable by the use of techniques exquisite and starkly naked. Formidable is the pattern, thought provoking are the symbols and figuratives used by him having poetic fervour frenziedly scattered on the surface.

His creations are complex and definitely they aim at making a point.

Focus on reality

Solo exhibition of photojournalist Firoz Chowdhury begins at the Drik Gallery in the city

NAFID IMRAN AHMED

I have no memory of my father because he died in a train accident when I was just five. I came to know about him from my mother and relatives. My father had a camera and taking pictures was his hobby. That is why photography is my weakness' said photojournalist Firoz Chowdhury at the inaugural ceremony of his 4th solo photography exhibition titled, 'Chobi Jokhon Shongbad' (Photo As News) on April 23 at the Drik Gallery.

At the exhibition daily Prothom Alo's photojournalist Firoz Chowdhury displayed his photographs which were published in the daily along with the paper cuttings. Eminent scholar Dr Anisuzzaman inaugurated the exhibition as chief guest while reputed photographer Dr. Shadul Alam and Nasir Ali Mamun were also present as invited guests.

Firoz first got his camera in 1982. He was a student of class ten. That is when he entered the world of photography. He managed to buy a professional camera in 1988 and at the same year his first solo photography exhibition was held at Rangpur Public Library auditorium. By 1991 another two solo exhibitions were held. At the same time he started his carrer in photojournalism.

'Photojournalists need more space', said Dr. Anisuzzaman while speaking at the occasion, 'we need photojournalism based magazines such as 'Life' where there are more photographs then writeups.' He also said that the beauty of the photographs taken by the photojournalists also fades away when they are printed, because of the poor printing media. Dr. Shahidul Alam focused on the negligency on photographers and why photography is not been treated as art.

Each photo displayed at the exhibition is an individual news that speaks for itself. The caption of it makes it perfect, nothing else is necessary. All these photos are photo news published throughout the year. The fascinating part of the exhibition is the variety of news that a cameraman has captured with just a single click. Starting from policts to the beauty of nature, everything is there.

Like any other photojornalsit Firoz was always there when it happened. Sometimes even risking his own life to get the news, to capture it and show it to the world. He even waited for the flock of migrating birds to arrive and captured the beauty of nature. He even captured the innocent smiles and rare moments of the life of common people with his magical click. A combination of all kind of emotions is there in these photos. Rage and anger, humor and happiness, love and pain everything is there.

Observing his works one thing is clear that Firoz is superb at what he does, taking photographs. And these photographs speak for themselves. All photographs dispalyed at the exhibition are for sell and all the money collected from the exhibition will go to the daily Prothom Alo acid survivors fund. The exhibition will continue everyday from 3 to 9 p.m. till April 29.
