Rawshan Jamil, a popular and much loved cultural personality, who possessed multiple talent in dance, drama and cinema, passes away at 71

AZIZ AMIRUL

GLoom had cast her net upon the cultural arena as the sad news of the passing away of Rawshan Jamil, an eminent television and film actress, spread across the country. Although the news was being expected at any time due to the actress's critical illness for the last few days, came to many as one of great distress.

The multi-talented performer, who was equally well known for her dance talent, was born on May 8 in 1931, at Rokonpur, a suburb that lies on the outskirts of Dhaka district.

Since childhood, Rawshan had a tremendous psychological inclination towards music and dance, which later on, in her mid-teens, pulled her towards professional learning of the performing art. After completing matriculation, she got admission in a dance school that was run by Gowhar Jamil, a young dance-instructor. The youthful lady came closer to Gowhar while receiving dance lessons. The couple got married in 1952 and in a joint effort, set up the famous institution of Jago Art Center in the late fifties. Since the last three decades, Jago Art Center has produced scores of talented dance artists in the country.

Rawshan Jamil's film carrier started during the early sixties when the makers of 'Ali Baba Chalis Chor' (Ali Baba and forty thieves) cast her in a role. Successful performance in the film brought her fame and the love of cine-goers. She performed in a total of around 300 films. Some of the widely acclaimed films of her carrier include 'Gori', 'Geet kahi sangeet kahi', 'Moner moto bou', 'Jibon thekey neya', 'Surjo sangram', 'Ora egaro

Memorable performance of the late artist remains alive in minds of millions jon', 'Adhikar', 'Titas ekti nadi-r naam', 'Aagun', 'Nayan moni', 'Sujon shakhi', Golapi ekhon train-ey', Abar tora manush ho', 'Mati-r ghar', 'Badhu biday', 'Saheb bibi golam', 'Surjo dighal bari', 'Pension', 'Lal kajol', 'Kolmi lata', 'Devdas', 'Chitkaar', 'Shesh uttar', 'Ramer shumati', 'Janani', 'Noder chad', 'Mati-r koley', 'Badhan hara', 'Dahan', 'Agami' (a short film), 'Julie', 'Desh bidesh'. Several of the films were made by top makers like Zahir Raihan, Amjad Hossain and Sheikh Niamat Ali. Rawshan Jamil's memorable performances in films like 'Jibon thekey neya', 'Abar tora manush ho', 'Sujon shakhi', 'Noyon moni', 'Golapi ekhon train-ey' remains ever green in memory of her admirers.

Among some of the more popular television drama serials, Humayun Ahmed's 'Dhakay thaki' and 'Shokal shondhya' boosted the fame of Rawshan Jamil, who acted in these serials as typical simple and softhearted elderly guardian of Bengali families.

Rawshan Jamil, in her long acting carrier had bagged almost all the prestigious awards of the television and cinema.

Departure of Rawshan Jamil has created a gaping hole in the circles of television drama and films that would be hard to fill up. It would be a difficult task for the cultural activists to groom a prodigy, who would be able to act out in characters of different shades, something the late artist had excelled.

Exhibition

A watery world of young talents

Drawing exhibition 'Wasserwelten' (Waterworld) starts at the Goethe Institut in the city

NAFID IMRAN AHMED

WOULD it not be interesting if the children from all over the world were asked to paint pictures on the topic of water? How would these little minds feel about water? Here is a chance to experience it. An exhibition of original drawings by children from all over the world who painted their ideas on the topic 'water' started at the Goethe Institut and Shilpi Sultan Pathshala on May 13. The exhibition has been organised by The Goethe Institut in co-operation with the NETZ Bangladesh (Partnership for Development and Justice).

An exhibition titled 'EXPO 2000' was held in Hannover for the 'Waterworlds Calendar', where approximately 10,000 pictures were sent by children from all over the world. Approximately 100 drawings for the exhibition are travelling for the audience all over the world.

The purpose of EXPO2000 was to promote the artwork of children from all continents with the goal of the world exhibition. Particularly these children should be motivated to the participation in the world exhibition.

As the slogan of the world-wide competition for the children became "show us your water worlds".

Everywhere in the world water is of central importance: water as a condition of the life and human civilization. On the EXPO 2000 in Hanover this is what one experienced. A whole pavilion was dedicated to the fascinating element water: the "water worlds". With its establishment the visitors were able to experience "water" in his various functions and manifestations. On an open space of approximately 3,000 square meters one is invited to experience the spring water nozzles and a lot of other watery environments, where they could enjoy themselves and feel closer to the most precious element of life water. The drawings sent by children, from all over the world was also exhibited.

A timber construction from the outside expresses substantial characteristics of the element to water - like eddies and current. This is fascinating for the visitor immersing into the water worlds. The curved 'holzwaende' in addition, a protected interior, which is surrounded outside additionally by close trees, also provides protection and security. If the visitor enters the interior, flowing water
