Schedule of fees for US consular services revised

UNB, Dhaka
State Department has revised the schedule of fees for Consular services, except passport services, with effect from June 1. Under the new fee schedule, the nonimmigrant visa Machine Readable Visa (MRV) application fee will rise to 65 US dollar from 45 dollar. The last major revision of the fee schedule was done in 1998, according to a release issued by US Embassy here. It said passport-related fees would be revised with effect from August 19, 2002. These adjustments to the fees are applicable for all nationalities worldwide, including revised fees for services for American citizens. In Bangladesh, nonimmigrant applicants may pay the MRV application fee and obtain a receipt from American Express Bank offices in city's Motijheel, Dhanmondi and Gulshan areas and their branches in Chittagong. This fee receipt will remain valid for 90 days from the date of purchase. The old 45 dollar MRV fee receipts purchased before June 1 will be honoured for nonimmigrant visa applicants with no additional charge. The State Department has also set a new combined immigrant visa application and issuance fee of 335 dollar which was 325 dollar earlier. Adjustments to fees of services for American citizens overseas include the Consular Report of Birth Abroad documentation fee, which will be raised to 65 dollar (from 40 dollar), while the fee for performance of notarial services will be lowered to a two-tiered schedule costing 20 dollar to 30 dollar, depending on rendered service, from 55 dollar. The new fees are essential for maintaining and improving high-quality customer service while taking advantage of advances in information technology and enhancing the security features of those services that are related to homeland security.

Daudkandi OC accused of harassing SA Paribahan staff

SA Paribahan owner alleged. He said on several occasions the police took away the valuables and realised money from the senders in return of the goods. On May 21, Assistant Sub-Inspector (ASI) Abdul Qaiyum stopped one of their parcel vans on the eastern side of Daudkandi bridge and took it to the police custody on the pretext of checking. The van was coming with parcel from Noakhali and Chittagong. Being informed, advisor of the company Mohammad Abdus Salam went to the Daudkandi Police Station and met the OC who asked him to contact ASI Qaiyum. Salam went to Qaiyum who demanded Tk 2 lakh for the release of goods and vehicle. He also threatened to arrest the driver, supervisor and helper and produce them before the court under the Special Powers Act (SPA). Having failed to realise the money from the company, the OC seized the goods and produced them before the court. The OC reportedly claims that no-one dares to stand against him since he happens to be a nephew of the home minister. The company has already informed the superintendent of police (SP) of Comilla about the matter over phone and lodged a written complaint. But no steps have so far been taken to stop the harassment on the employees of the company, Salahuddin alleged. The OC could not be reached over his cell phone after several attempts on Tuesday and yesterday as it was switched off. The SP of Comilla told The Daily Star that two delivery vans of SA Paribahan were seized on specific charges of carrying contraband items. Asked why the police seized the whole consignment which is not smuggled goods, he replied that the receivers could release their goods after applying to the court. The SP said he has given an order to investigate the matter and the whole thing would be clear after getting the report.

BCU programme to stop JCD harassment on BUET campus

STAFF CORRESPONDENT
Bangladesh Chhatra Union (BCU), BUET unit, has chalked out a day-long programme to stop the harassment of its activists and supporters by BNP-backed Jatayabadi Chhatra Dal (JCD) on the campus. According to the programme, the BCU will bring out a procession and hold a rally at Muktagong in the city tomorrow. Sources said the BCU has taken up the agitation programme as JCD activists called Anindo Pandit, general secretary of BCU from Ahsanullah Hall on Wednesday and tortured him. They also warned him to keep away from politics. Sharifuzzaman Sharif, president, and Noor Alam, general secretary, BCU central unit, in a joint statement said BNP and BUET authorities will have to bear the responsibilities if anything happens to.

BBC's new series on children in Bangladesh from tomorrow

BBC, UNB
BBC Bengali Service will broadcast a new series on children working in hazardous sectors in Bangladesh from tomorrow. The 10-episode series, to be aired every Saturday on its dawn and night transmissions, will deal with various rights of the working children, including health, education and entertainment. Working conditions of the children, relations with their employers, their dreams and future plans will also be explored in the series. The sectors, which have been focused in the series, include tannery, construction, transport, textile, tobacco manufacturing, domestic work, metal and plastic industry and commercial sex. Presented by Abu Naser Rajib, the series can be heard on 6065, 9790 and 11850kHz in 49, 31 and 24 meter bands respectively on short wave and FM 100 in Dhaka and surrounding areas.
