Moudud tells Refugee Law Training programme

BSS, Dhaka

Minister for Law, Justice and Parliamentary Affairs Barrister Moudud Ahmed yesterday said the government has been considering to enact a law for refugees to ensure their basic human rights after taking into account various aspects in the national, regional and the world perspective.

"We should have a law to protect the rights of refugees and asylum seekers", the law minister said, adding it (refugee law) will help the government to provide necessary legal support to the asylum seekers and the refugees.

The minister stated this while he was addressing the closing session of Refugee Law Training Programme, which coincided with the World Refugee Day yesterday, at the Bangladesh Bar Council. The training programme was jointly organised by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) and Legal Education and Training Institute
