Innovative, fascinating

Young Artists' Art Exhibition being held in the city aspires to break and create popular trends in Bangladeshi fine art

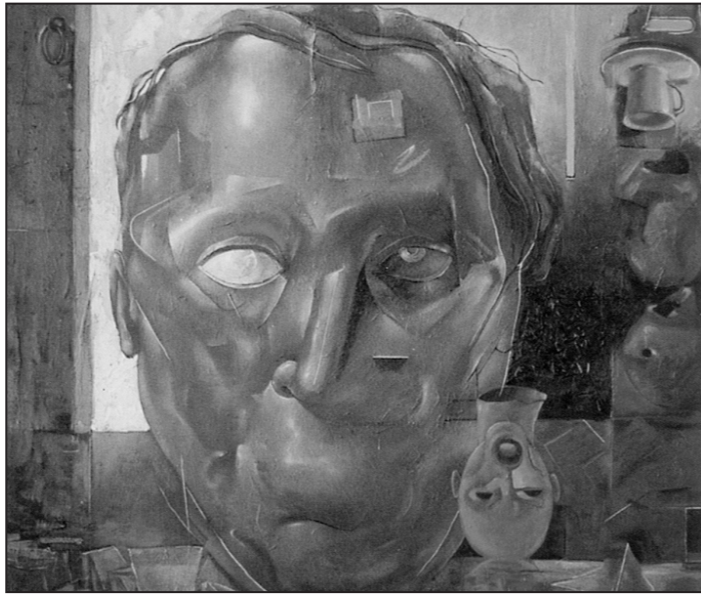

SAIFUL ISLAM

THE creative and innovative works by the young artists of Bangladesh captures, in the world created by the colourful strokes of the artists, subtle and delicate flickers of emotion, colours of imagination and dreams.

Though sculpture, if we look back to last few years, seemed to have got little attention from the young artists', the Fourteenth Young Artists' Art Exhibition tells a different story.

bar, to Hasanur Rahman Reaz this symbolizes the Infected Face of someone torn asunder by conflicts and anxieties. Typical of the present day crises is the subject, but the way it is presented is new. The brave new ways are really a characteristic part of the sculptures selected for the exhibition, the newness could be found in Dust-2, Deisparity-4, Destination-3, and Acrobates.

Complexion, Roosevelt D Rozario / Honourable Mention

Pieces precisely parochial engulf a considerable portion of the exhibition. Shabin Shahriar's Tradition of Naogaon-2 or Harmony-2 by Nurul Islam Preetam reminds us of the traditional and local art embedded in bucolic Bangladesh. New Ideas are presented using old forms that are part of the country's heritage.

Side by side of these works suffused with local colour and essence, distortion and expressionist arts included in the exhibition talk about the influence of the popular western movements on the young artists. The gigantic deformed head of a male with one stony stark white eye in Our Reflection-1 expresses the anger of the artist.

Present scenes of Dhaka have influenced the artists, who are trained at the Fine Arts Institute situated at the center of the city. A series of paintings titled Complexity by Md. Anisuzzaman focuses on the problems that are created by the high-rise buildings in Dhaka, huge construction works, the skeletons supported by chunks of concrete and wrought iron engulfing vast space.

symbolically represents the conflicts and complexities of human mind" said Anisuzzaman. "Burnt wood is considered as useless remain, but I have tried to find out beauty from these energy-waste," said Md. Selim whose Burnt Wood claimed the honourable mention.

Since 1975 Bangladesh Shilpakala Academy has been organizing Young Artists' Exhibition regularly. This year Tasadduk Hossain Dulu was judged Young Artists' Award 2002, Best Award in Painting was given to Md. Safin Omar, while Best award in Sculpture went to Mohammed Mahamodul Hasan, Md. Anisuzzaman got Best Award in Graphics. Md. Selim, Pradyut Kumar Mazumder, Roosevelt Benjamin D' Rozario, and Rajaul Islam Lovelu were the honourable mentions.
