Sammilita Sangskritik Jote renews its vow to fight "communalism" and "despotism" at its fifth council convention

TAWFIQUE ALI

IFTH council convention of Sammilita sangskritik Jote, a combined body of the country's left leaning cultural organisations, was held last Friday at the city's Mahila Samity Auditorium. Chaired by Ramendu Rajumdar the day's programme had three phases. Inaugural phase in the morning included inauguration by poet Shamsur Rahman, discussion in participation of cultural personalities and rally. The second phase in the midday was exclusively meant for delegates, representing different cultural organisations, to assent to the newly formed committee and resolutions. Third in the evening was closing session marked with a jovial cultural function in which Jote artistes performed. The convention welcomed new and relatively younger faces in the Jotes leadership for the new term with Nasiruddin Yusuf Bachhu and Golam Kuddus respectively as chairperson and general secretary. Kuddus was General Secretary of the immediate past committee also. In his welcome address during the session with the councilors, eminent theatre personality Mamun-ur-Rashid laid stress on showing due honour and retention of the country's tribal and minority ultures. "There should have been a Photography subjective exploration regarding ends of the Jote. I find it important to make the point that specification of the Jote's role has been ignored in this convention. It won't do if we for set that e, the Bangalee people, honour and recognise the existence of other minority racial culture, he opined, he further pointed out that a united cultural body like Sangskritik Jote must settle its objectives to the end of nursing and retaining all indigenous cultural entities in the country in a progressive and cre-ative manner. "Through this body we have to reflect this very spirit and thought in view of implementation. The Jote has to broaden its creative span. That's because a cultural activist can build a resistance against undemocratic and antisocial elements in an effective and creative manner", he added.

Newly elected chairperson

Nasiruddin Yusuf termed the Jote as an organisation of all.

Faiz Ahmad, founder Chairperson of the Jote was next to speak on the occasion "Sammilita Sangskritik Jote is a cultural platform which does not sponsor any particular political front or opinion.

Rather it is an organised platform to fight together political agression on culture, he commented. "My expectation is that the new leadership of the body will successfully reflect fundamental principles and spirit of the Jote.

Ramendu Majumdar, the outgoing chairperson joined his voice in the same spirit saying, "Sammilita Sangskritik Jote has still remained a non-political fashion in its activities."

Sammilita Sangskritik Jote came into being some eighteen years back country's when cultural activists united under a federal platform to expedite a greater cultural movement in the country. Activists of different beliefs and opinions got together in this platform. This dream was to establish a democratic society through manifestation of democratic culture.

Looking back to its historical background we find a emergence of an enormous cultural spirit against the then autocratic rule. The very seed of the Jote was sown at the all-party Ekush observance in 1983. Keeping a democratic struggle alive against the then-military junta, an Ekush observance committee was formed unitedly that comprised of authors, artists, cultural activists and intellectuals. In March, 1984, the Jote was formally floated and introduced to public.

The organisation was set up to fight against conspiracy and political dictatorship to create a non-comunal democratic society, saturated with spirit of development and welfare.

Pioneering animator Ward Kimball expires at 88 in LA

AFP,LosAngeles

ARD Kimball one of the world's pioneering cartoon animators who created such classic Walt Disney characters as Jiminy Cricket, died on Monday at the age of 88, Disney executives said.

Kimball wears a 'hairy hand'

Kimball, one of family movie nogul Walt Disney's trusted band of key animators known as the "Nine Old Men," died of natural causes ir a hospital near Los Angeles, Disney said in a statement.

Kimball, who joined the Walt Disney Co. in 1934 and worked for it for 39 years, was best known as the creator of the mischievous animated top-hatted cricket who advised wooden boy Pinocchio in the 1940 film of the same name.

But, working closely with Disney and the eight other "old men," imaginative and often eccentric Kimball helped create the magic of Disney animation that achieved its peak of global fame in the 1940s and 1950s.

"To the end of his days, Ward was a pixie-ish spirit that was irresistible." said film critic and Disney author Leonard Maltin.
