Participatory poverty alleviation strategy stressed

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The Campaign for Good Governance (CGG), an alliance of local NGOs, yesterday underscored the need for formulation of the national strategy for poverty alleviation on the basis of public opinion.
Addressing a press conference, the speakers said political parties, local government representatives, government officials, civil society, NGOs, cultural organisations and the common people should participate in the formulation of the 'National Strategy for Economic Growth and Poverty Reduction'.
The CGG organised the press conference to present a paper on the draft of the strategy.
The strategy should be formulated on the basis of public opinion, not as per prescription of the World Bank, the speakers said. And the parliament, not the officials, should play the key role in finalising the strategy, they added.

The speakers pointed out that the draft of the strategy has no details about the issues like land distribution, limitation on the use of information, local characteristics of poverty, independent anti-corruption commission, local government and recent market management.

The Economic Relations Division of the Ministry of Finance drafted the strategy to discuss it at various levels.
The organisers have planned to disseminate their idea and launch a countrywide campaign to ensure the participation of common people in the formulation of national strategy. They will distribute translated copies of the draft of national strategy.
The CGG will hold seminars and discussions in 45 districts to mobilise public opinion on the draft before organising a national convention on September 14 where a final paper will be presented.

CGG president M A Awal, Sheikh Abdul Quaiyum, Rafiqul Islam Khokon, Ahmed Swapan Mahmud, A H M Bazlur Rahman and Swapan Kumar Pal were present on the occasion.
