Barb Wire on HBO

Friday, 20th September at 11:45 p.m. The irony is hard to miss -- Baywatch babe Pamela Anderson Lee playing a tough-asnails, gun-toting, action heroine whose tagline is... "Don't call me 'babe'." Based on the cult comic strip of the same name. Barb Wire is the owner of the Hammerhead Bar and Grille when she isn't out smashing bad guys to a pulp. She lives in a not-too-distant future, in a country devastated by Civil War. Barb Wire also doesn't take sides, that is, until a bunch of less-than-desirable gang members start moving in on her territory and start hurting those close to her. From there on, it's non-stop action, as she uses everything has anything to bring down the bad guys in a costume several sizes too small. The explosion quotient is high.

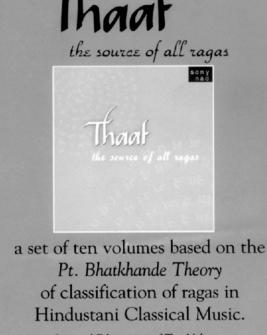

Just when you thought it was safe they're back. Having survived their last bloody encounter in the desert, these ravenous wormlike predators have somehow adapted and become more deadly than ever -- eating everything and everyone in sight! Tough guys Earl Bassett and Burt Gummer (Gross) return once again. This time they team up with a pretty geologist Helen Shaver (We All Fall Down), to do battle with these evil grubboids and end their menacing ways -once and for all. But will they succeed?

Making Growth

Author: S.J. Phansalkar Price: Tk 350.00

In today's changed globalising business environment, it has become imperative for most small industries to grow quickly, merely in order to survive. The question is: How does one go about making growth happen? In this well-researched sequel to the author's first book he examines 10 cases of highly successful Indian enterprises run by firstgeneration entrepreneurs to answer this important question. Distilling the experience of these companies, the book identifies the common features in their strategies for achieving rapid growth.

Among the relatively few that are based on systematic case research, this book includes a full-length case analysis and summaries of nine other case studies

INDO-BANGLADESH Relations

Price : Tk 500 The liberation of Bangladesh is one of the most important events in 20th century South Asian history. The emergence of Bangladesh negated the logic of the partition of India on the basis of the two-nation theory propounded by the Muslim League which changed South Asia's political and strategic equations. India's former Foreign Secretary, J N Dixit, was not only a witness but a participant in the processes leading to the liberation of Bangladesh.

BANGLADESH WHOSE DEVELOPMENT? An Ethnography of Aid Selected Studies

Star Movies at 7:00 p.m. on Sept. 20. Aspiring songwriter Violet Sanford leaves her home and father (John Goodman) for New York. But all she finds there is rejection. She hears one of a group of beautiful women is leaving her job in a bar called COYOTE UGLY. Violet persuades the bar owner, Lil (Mario Bello), to give her a chance. When Violet arrives, the bouncer tells her it's a quiet night. She goes in. A wall of noise hits her--throbbing music, howling men. Two women are atop the bar, pulling a customer back over it, pulling up his shirt, pouring beer on his chest. Welcome to COYOTE UGLY.

Star Movies at 8:45 p.m. on Sept. 22. The day he leaves on a month's vacation, bestselling author and renowned psychiatrist Dr. Leo Marvin acquires a new patient, the multiphobic Bob Wiley (Bill Murray). Consumed by his fears of germs, enclosed spaces, and other people, Bob tracks Dr. Marvin to his New Hampshire retreat and arrives on his doorstep for treatment. Dr. Marvin's professional but strained advice to "take a vacation from your phobias" is translated by Bob to mean "take a vacation in New Hampshire," and he starts to become a fixture in their home.

BANKER

On HBO on 23rd September at 10:00 p.m.

Gia is the heartbreaking biopic of Gia Carangi who became a supermodel at the age of 18 by gracing the covers of Cosmopolitan, Vogue and advertising campaigns for Versace. But her meteoric rise to fame and notoriety is laced with sordid tales of heroine and cocaine abuse. Gia would later die from AIDS in 1986 -- one of the first women in America to die from the dreaded crease. Fave Dunaway co-stars as Wilhelmina Cooper, Gia's agent and surrogate mother. As the ill-fated Gia, Jolie picked up the Grand Jury Award for Outstanding Actress in a Feature Film at the LA Outfest, Outstanding Performance by a Female Actor in a TV Movie/Miniseries at the Screen Actors Guild Awards, and Best Performance by an Actress in a Miniseries/Motion Picture made for TV at the Golden Globes.

Al Gromer Khan - Keyboards, Sitar & Surbahar Price: Tk. 400.00

This album features German-born sitar master Al Gromer Khan. It presents the theme of tantra, the ancient shakti cult that contains many secret exercises and dark rituals with erotic content. The music in this album deals with the theme in a modern way, keeping the original erotic and spiritual meaning alive. The ten musical pieces are at the same time futuristic and nostalgic, soft-techno and subtle, erotic and spiritual.

Classical Vocal A rare classic collection from Rashid Hussain Khan Price: Tk. 200.00

Rashid Khan's style is characterized by sensitive alaps which unfold with a rare combination of tradition and imagination, with turns that never fail to thrill his listeners. Equally, his taans display his control over layakari and the raga. He is the only vocalist to have emulated the celebrated style of tarana created by his ustad, a style inspired by the jhala, the instrumental counterpart of the vocalist's fastest-paced singing. It would be no exaggeration to claim that in Rashid Khan lies one of the brightest stars of Indian classical music.
