Exhibition

A world of colour, life and impressions

North South University Photography Club holds a five-day long exhibition of their recent works on India

AZIZ AMIRUL

ENTITLED 'Beauty of Life, History and Culture of India', a photography exhibition containing 52 framed subjects are currently on display at BTA 100, an exhibition gallery, at North South University Campus in the city. The exhibition was inaugurated yesterday morning at the STR 300.

A group of over 20 students of the university, who belong to the photography club, were on an assignment tour to some seven cities and towns of East and South India from August 30 to September 14. The displayed photographs are all results of the tour, captured by the young photographers.

Led by Dr. Islam M. Faisal, Chairman of the Department of Environmental Studies, who is also the chief coordinator and a founding member of the NSU photography club, young photographers Riaz Mamud, Ahsan Ahmed Chowdhury, Moinul Islam, A. R. Khan Shuvo, Samina Afroze, Shafquat M. Asif, Sazzad Hasan, Nazmul Haque, Rizwana Mahbub Linta, Maria Chowdhury and Adnan Kabir took photographs from various historical and legendary sites of Kolkata, Chennai, Hampi, Hospet, Goa, Mysore and Mumbai.

Subjects of the displayed works included both close-up and panoramic shots, those of palaces, ruined architectural structures, important religious sites and temples, portraits of common people most of who were passers-by, colourful masks and festival costumes of the local inhabitants, natural scenario, wildlife and such.

Photographs those depicted yet, more ancient relics and structures revealed heritage and cultural traditions of Hampi and Hospet. Hampi was a historical location as once, till 1565, kings of the mighty Vijayanagara Empire ruled it. Later on, enemy forces destroyed the place. The place had a deserted look, which the photographers compromised with and chose singular subjects of the place for their works.

Photographs those revealed churches and beaches of Goa have not been less important for the exhibition, in fact, brought a varied taste to the eye of the viewers who would have otherwise found the exhibition, one of a quite monotonous type, with only history and tradition.

The NSU photography club was established in 1997 to develop creative photographic sense among the students. Since then, the club has been working under the supervision of Islam. M. Faisal, along with an executive board with seven members. The club has co-hosted and participated in the annual Inter-University Photography Exhibitions during the last few years and has shown outstanding abilities in those contest-oriented events.

Basic workshops are held regularly, in semesters, which are followed by fieldtrips with the students across the country. Advance workshops are too, held at periodical basis to improve further skills of the members.

In the recent past, the club has raised funds through charity photography exhibition and held yet another exhibition of an American photographer remembering the victims and terrorist incident of September 11 in the United States.

Exhibitions held by the NSU photography club helps to provide inspiration to the young photographers who are now crossing a budding stage', said a senior member of the club while speaking to The Daily Star.

The current exhibition remains open to all from 9:30 a.m. 5:30 p.m. till October 10.

Tele-drama

A fresh concept in drama

Authored by Shakoor Majid, 'Cherag' comes on screen in the city as tele-drama

CULTURE DESK

ENTITLED 'Cherag', a tele drama appears on screen at its inaugural show at the auditorium of the Goethe-Institut at Dhanmondi in the city on October 8 at 5:30 p.m.

The tele-drama has been directed by Kayes Chowdhury, based on a plot written by Shakoor Majid, who is a renowned stage drama photographer and a professional architect. Television Natyakaar Sangha has provided necessary assistance to the makers of the production.

As the synopsis unfolds, a self-educated Ekram Ali, cast by Abul Hayat, appears who leads a very simple and struggling life through teaching students in privacy of their homes in the village.

The old teacher lives with a daughter who has been divorced and sent back from her in-laws' house. Ekram Ali has had dreams since long of opening up a primary school in the village where children would attend and be educated. Ultimately, his efforts become successful as a school gets erected and he starts a fresh carrier there as the headmaster.

One day, news comes that of inclusion of the school under government management. Ekram returns home elated and hopes of joining fresh as a government teacher in the school. But fate plays foul on him. Due to lack of formal education that becomes the main prerequisite in the post of the government employed teacher, Ekram fails to get a job in the school. Thus shatters all his dreams and aspirations. In the meantime, Ekram Ali discovers in horror that none of his former private students welcome him home. All of them now study under private coordination of new teachers who have come from the city as government employees.

One day, Ekram, highly dejected and hurt by the situation and incidents, becomes rejuvenated at the thought of a fact that he was the sole initiator of formal education and sophistication in the entire village. All of a sudden, pain, anguish and a sense of failure vanishes from Ekram's mind who sees through the eyes of his psyche, a bright lamp or cherag that emits light of knowledge, humanity and wisdom all across.

Mehbuba Mahnoor Chandni casts the role of Ekram's daughter, Korimon, while other performers in the tele-drama include Rahmat Ali as the village head, Ahsanul Haq Minu as Bashir, Shyamal Zakaria as Sagir, Mosharrar Karim as Moizuddin, Qamrul Ahsan as the mail man, Shahanara Rekha as the wife of the village head, Shakhawat Hossain as school peon, Dr. Mohiuddin as tailor, Ismam as student and Kayes Chowdhury as a SDO.

Two villages, located at Kaliakoir thana under Gazipur district have been used as settings of the drama that highlighted a social message that of true sacrifice of a human being which can, at the end, provide him or her with immense joy and self-satisfaction.

PICK OF THE DAY

- Friday The 13th
- On HBO at 4:00 p.m.
- Now with plenty of killing experience behind him, the hockey mask-donner and life-size Swiss army knife is planning a cruise, and savoring its passengers - the graduating class of a local high school. Everybody knows Jason Vorhees - all except the hapless victims that will constitute the canvas for the bloody mess he will create.
