Boris evades jail term

REUTERS, Munich

Former Wimbledon champion Boris Becker has been found guilty of tax evasion but has been spared jail by a German court which handed him a two-year suspended sentence and a hefty fine.

Becker, 34, whose heroics on the tennis court made him one of Germany's biggest post-war celebrities, had sought leniency by admitting in court on Wednesday he made a mistake by dodging tax and by paying $3 million (1.94 million pounds) that he owed last

On top of the suspended sentence, the Munich state court fined the three-times Wimbledon champion 300,000 euros (189,000 pounds), and ordered him to pay 200,000 euros more to charity plus the case costs, estimated at more than 100.000 euros.

"I'm happy and relieved that this chapter has finally been closed," Becker said in a written statement. "I am a free man and that is the most important thing. A very difficult phase of my life, full of problems, has now been ended."

State prosecutors had demanded Becker be jailed for three years and six months for evading German taxes and lying about where he lived.

He claimed residence in the tax haven of Monaco while actually staving in Munich between 1991 and 1993, they said. Becker earned about $25 million in winnings during his 16-year career and tens of millions more in endorsements.

The conviction on Thursday is the latest misfortune to befall Becker since his retirement from tennis in 1999, including a costly divorce, an admission he fathered a child with a Russian model and a string of failed business ventures.

"The defendant is guilty of four cases of tax evasion as well as two additional cases of attempted tax evasion," Judge Huberta Knoeringer told the court.

"His confession in trial here was a mitigating factor," the judge said, adding that the punishment was consistent with other sentences handed to tax dodgers who confessed their misdeeds

A judge renowned for handing down tough sentences but herself an avid tennis player, Knoeringer added: "We all know the defendant

Hinds was the only batsman to be dismissed in the morning session, caught by Jacob Martin in the slips two Tests, went on the rampage in the afternoon as he punished both seamers and spinners to score 75 of the 132 runs his team made inhe

He offered one chance in his 293-

Runs came from the both the ball knock when he was on 19, but Kartik failed to hold on to a return ends as Ganga staked his claim for the final Test with a 214-ball knock.

The 23-year-old Trinidadian has so Scoreboard at stumps on the opening day of a three-day cricket match between the Indian Railways and the West Indies at the Nehru

Total: (For 2 wkts in 92 overs) 297

To bat: Ridley Jacobs,

36 Took a

38 Early

45 Toast

46 "Clue"

47 Agent

48 Go with

49 On in years 50 Exist

51 Semester

emblem

52 Easter

53 Caustic

DOWN

meeting

37 One of the Beatles

topping weapon

the eagles

Gershwins

Fall of wickets: 1-71, 2-296

50

66

27

2 Addition-to the boss

6 Forum

O.R.

8 Cozy

10 New

11 Pianist

19 Work

20 Young

Gilels

fellow

23 Glutton

Solution time: 23 mins.

and comfy

Mexican

4 Overseas

Precipice

fashion

3 Note

By Eugene Sheffer

24 -- tree

(caught) seeker's

25 Treasure

26 Sartorial

27 On the other hand

28 Approves

29 Indispensable

31 Like most health

food

32 Two-way transport

35 Avaricious

Perfect

34 Hired

36 "The

37 Urge

38 Outlay

39 Medicinal neighbor-plant

hood

42 Like the

Sabin

43 Quite vaccine

41 Boo-Boo's

big buddy

40 in the

Gayle, without a half-century in off off-spinner Kulamani Parida two-hour session.

far struck 11 fours.

SCOREBOARD

Stadium on Thursday:

Gavle b Harvinder

Ganga not out

ACROSS

1 Scenery

4 Earns an maybe

8 Visibility problem

12 Pub order

13 United

14 Egg

15 Tenet

17 Skirt

16 Latvia's capital length

18 Love of

21 Lummox

22 Stipend

23 Like mid-

26 Crimsor

27 Harvard

August

weather

ex-prexy

Derek

30 October

31 Goose

egg

32 "Doones

burv'

33 Hiatus

34 Upper

35 Brave

character

Obie.

Samuels not out

WEST INDIES: First innings

W Hinds c Martin b Parida

Extras: (b-5, lb-5, nb-17)

CROSSWORD

TRUTH HURTS: Boris Becker

as an excellent tennis player."

Wearing a brown suit and brown tie, Becker appeared tense as the verdict was read but laughed when Knoeringer warned him about the terms of probation and added that she did not expect him to be involved in any more tax misdeeds.

Becker thanked his lawyers and shook hands with Knoeringer. They chatted for a few minutes and Becker then disappeared through a Becker's lawyers had argued he did not deserve jail because he had paid 45 million marks (14 million pounds) in tax since moving his residence back to Germany in 1994 as well as paying the outstanding tax he owed for 1991 to 1993.

Becker became a German icon after winning the first of three Wimbledon titles in 1985 at age 17 and became world number one in 1991. On Wednesday, he said: "I made a mistake 10 years ago and I know that I will have to pay the consequences."

Becker, who moved to Monaco in 1984, admits he rented a small apartment in Munich in 1991. He did not start paying German tax until 1994 and had spent the last decade claiming he did not have a home in Munich before 1994.

"The only thing I had on my mind was tennis, and sometimes girls," Becker said. "My life was all about tennis. My office was the whole world. The word home didn't really

Many other top German sport idols such as Franz Beckenbauer, Michael Stich, Michael and Ralf Schumacher have for years lived abroad in Austria and Switzerland to avoid high German taxes.

In his court remarks. Becker blamed the tax office and prosecutors for distracting him from his drinking heavily after losing his las another tournament after they first Wimbledon match to Australian Par

He described the notorious incident as "five seconds that will haunt me for the rest of my life".

The tax investigation was aided, ironically, by an avid Becker fan whose attempt to obtain an autograph from his idol was rebuffed.

The fan, Hans Gerd, charted Becker's movements with a newspaper scrapbook for seven years After Becker ignored his autograph request, Gerd turned the documents showing where Becker spent his time over to the tax office.

THE BECKER TAP

REUTERS, Munich

of the distraction.

Factbox on Boris Becker who has been given a two-year suspended sentence after being found guilty of tax evasion raided his Munich home in 1994 searching for financial documents.

He said he retired in 1999 because to his German-American wife, Barbara Feltus ended in divorce in January 2001 after he agreed to a reported $2.8 million to a Russian model, Angela Ermakova, in July 2001 after admitting fathering her daughter in the laundry cupboard of a restaurant where he had been Becker also agreed to pay a multi-million-dollar settlement.

Becker's seven-year marriage

Born November 22, 1967, in eimen, Germany

Height 1.90 m, weight 85 kg Righthanded player Best career ranking: 1 (January

Becker made 24.9 million dollars in prize money in a 16-year playing

He won 49 singles titles and 15

Grand Slam record: six singles es. Australian Open 1991 and 1996. Wimbledon 1985, 1986 and 1989. U.S. Open 1989. Wimbledon runner-up 1988, 1990, 1991 and

Becker was the youngest Wimbledon champion in 1985 at the age of 17 years seven months. He is the only unseeded player to have won Wimbledon and was the first German champion. He described Wimbledon as his back yard. He won his final Grand Slam tournament in Australia in 1996 but at Wimbledon later in the year he ruptured a tendon in his wrist. At his last Wimbledon, in 1999, he lost in four sets to Pat Rafter in the quarterfinals and announced his He lost finals to Pete Sampras in 995, to Michael Stich in 1991 and Stefan Edberg in 1988 and 1990. Becker had a classic serve and olley game suited to grass and fast surfaces and was never happy on clay. His best result at the French Open was reaching the semifinals

He was nicknamed Boom Boom for his big serve and loved by crowds for his acrobatics on court, leaping to reach volleys and rolling on the court. Respected and feared by opponents. Sampras described him after his last Wimbledon match as "a class act"

A member of the German Davis Cup team for many years, Becker helped his country to victory in 1988 and 1989. He went on to coach young German players. Won Olympic doubles title in 1992 with Michael Stich.

Married German-American Barbara Feltus in December 1993. The couple had two sons, Noah, born in January 1994, and Elias, born in September 1999, but divorced in January 2001 after reaching a multi-million-dollar settlement

Becker also agreed to pay a Russian model, Angela Ermekova, a reported $2.8 million dollars in July 2001 after admitting to being the father of her child following an encounter in a laundry cupboard in a London restaurant

Becker went into sports marketing after retiring from the tennis

In July 2001, lawyers said German tax officials had demanded some 25 million marks (10.8 million dollars) in back taxes from Becker.

Last month a plan by captain Stich to bring back Becker for a Davis Cup tie prompted the rest of the team to threaten a walk-out. Stich was appointed captain after Becker declined the job. October 23: Trial of Becker on tax evasion charges opens in Munich. October 24: Becker given twoyear suspended sentence

When life went Boom Boom

in the sport.

Heinz Becker

Tennis

REUTERS, Munich

Boris "Boom-Boom" Becker flashed across the tennis world like a comet in the mid-1980s, becoming West Germany's biggest post-war sport-

But his conviction on tax evasion charges is the latest in a series of disasters, including a costly divorce and a string of failed business ventures, which have plagued Becker since he announced his retirement in 1999

The three-time Wimbledon champion, renowned for his booming serve and never-say-die attitude, has now lost much of his fortune, as well as his credibility in Things started to fall apart in 1999 when he and his German-American wife. Barbara Feltus. separated. The seven-vear marriage ended in divorce in January 2001 after Becker agreed to a multimillion-dollar settlement.

Becker also agreed to pay a reported $2.8 million to a Russian model, Angela Ermakova, after admitting being the father of her daughter, born in March 2000.

Becker said the child was conceived in the laundry cupboard of a restaurant where he had been drinking heavily after losing his last Wimbledon match to Australian Pat Rafter in 1999

He described the notorious incident as "five seconds that will haunt me for the rest of my life".

Now he has been handed a twoyear suspended sentence and a hefty fine for tax evasion, damaging his image still further. Becker burst upon the tennis world in 1985 when he became the youngest men's Wimbledon champion at just 17. He was the first unseeded player to win the championship and the big, red-haired youngster captured the hearts of tennis fans everywhere with his full-blooded serves, acrobatic volleying and courageous fight-backs.

He coupled natural modesty with an outgoing manner. But it was his buccaneering serve-volley game on Wimbledon's grass, which he called his own back yard, that proved the With his Wimbledon victory in 1985, Becker almost singlehandedly turned the country from a ## tennis backwater into a potent force

He charmed his way into German hearts to a degree unrivalled by any sporting personality, giving the German language a new stages of tournaments caused frantic rescheduling of television programmes by networks anxious tennis enthusiast, introduced him to the sport he later came to dominate.

He began taking lessons at the age of five from former Yugoslav Davis

German Tennis Federation (DTB)

trainer for the area, coached Becker

Breskvar, who was also the West

Cup player, Boris Breskvar.

Becker was born on November

Becker's appearance in the latter catch word -- "Beckermania" to satisfy an insatiable public.

AFP, Linz

America's Jennifer Capriati and Anna Smashnova of Israel won through to the quarterfinals of the 585,000-dollar Linz WTA event here on Wednesday.

Capriati in quarters

Capriati, the 26-year-old top seed, beat Argentina's Paola Suarez 6-4, 6-4 to book her place in the last eight.

"She was a difficult opponent. I am satisfied because recently I lost two matches right at the beginning of tournaments," Capriati said of her 22, 1967, in Leimen, a small town near Heidelberg, to Elvira and Karl-"But then I worked myself up to it, He was no more than a toddler when his father, an architect and

Ninth-seed Smashnova fought a hard battle against Russian Elena first-round match against America's Jill Craybas because of stomach for 10 years. He said the boy's will to win was his most impressive asset. Becker was enrolled in the DTB's vouth scheme and despite detracyear-old player believe she is suffering from a virus.

tors who bemoaned a lack of mobilitv. he blossomed. Those outside the DTB ranks Yugoslav star Jelena Dokic in the were given a hint of his potential when he won the West German youth championship in 1982 at the age of 14, a title he retained for the next two years In 1983 he went to Florida to compete in the under-16s at the Orange Bowl, the unofficial world youth championships, losing in the In the 1984 Australian Open, he reached the last 16 and he romped through to the third round at Wimbledon before an ankle injury forced a two-month lavoff. By this time he had turned professional. His coach Guenther Bosch drew Becker's talent to the attention of fellow -Romanian Ion Tiriac, the mentor of Argentina's Guillermo Vilas. Tiriac became Becker's manager and invested 150,000 dollars a year in the young player, perhaps foreseeing some of the 24.9 million dollars prize money he would win during his 16-year career. After 1985, Becker went on to win the Wimbledon title twice more, beating Ivan Lendl in 1986 and Stefan Edberg in 1989. He also lost in the final four times, most recently

AFP, Basel Top-seeded Briton Tim Henman put the nappies aside following the weekend birth of his baby daughter Rose Elizabeth to send Cedric Henman, the defending cham-attacking venom as he sets about trying to clinch a spot at the seasonending Masters Cup at Shanghai in a month's time. Henman will Thursday take on already seen off in recent months at Indian Wells and Hamburg. Spanish second seed Juan-

Carlos Ferrero ousted Swiss veteran Marc Rosset but only just, advancing 7-6, 7-6 after saving four Third seed and local favourite Roger Federer moved past Martin Verkerk of the Netherlands 6-3, 6-3, while fifth-seeded American Andy Roddick shot down Belgium's Xavier Malisse 6-4, 6-3.

Agassi guaranteed starters in the eight-man field.

selectors -- Hohns, Allan Border, Andrew Hilditch and David Boon -meet by phone hook up over the weekend to settle on the squad.

strike bowler Jason Gillespie as they choose four pacemen to join spinner Shane Warne in the Lee took five wickets at an aver-

A key factor will be the fitness of continuing a moderate run since he was injured against the West Indies two summers ago. But Buchanan said the 25-year-his series against Pakistan. Gillespie was forced home early from the Pakistan series with a calf muscle problem but was expected to be chosen if fit.

Hohns said he had been told Gillespie was on track to return in a one-day match for South Australia

Hasibul Hossain, Fahim Muntasir and Nazmul

DEVELOPMENT SQUAD: Tanveer

Gulam Rabbani, Sumon Kumar, Arif Hossain, Abul Bashar, Jubair Hossain and Enamul Hague. FIXTURE Match

Date Venue v Development Squad ATeam National Team v Developmen Squad

the second round of the one-million dollar Saint Petersburg Open with a 6-3, 6-4 win over unseeded Czech Radek Stepanek here on Wednesday.

Agassi, who made his debut ATP appearance in Russia, came into the match with maximum confidence, winning his serves to love and breaking his 23-year-old opponent to grab a 3-0 advantage.

level but Agassi's lead was never in doubt and he took the opening set in 25 minutes.

supremacy at the Saint Petersburg's carpet courts, starting put himself 2-0 up.

The 32-year-old Las Vegan kept his advantage to win the set and the match after one hour on court to face Slovak Karol Kucera in the second round.

Armenia's Sargis Sargsian 6-4, 6-4 to record his fourth win in as many meetings with the 29-year-old hardworking baseliner.

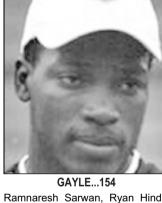

Gareth Breese, Mahendra Nagamootoo, Cameron Cuffy, Darren Powell

DOWIGI	•	141	- 1	•••
Harnder	11	2	37	1
Hussain	10	1	41	0
Yadav	15	3	35	0
Kartik	29	7	78	0
Parida	19	6	62	1
Tejinderpal	6	1	25	0
Khanolkar	2	0	9	0
INDIAN R	AILW	AYS	: Ab	hay
Sharma, Mo	urli Ka	artik,	Harvi	nder
Singh, Jacol	b Mart	in, J	ai Pral	kash

Agassi storms through

Top seed Andre Agassi eased into the second with another break to Ramnaresh Sarwan, Ryan Hinds,

Bowler	O	IVI	ĸ	W
Harnder	11	2	37	1
Hussain	10	1	41	0
Yadav	15	3	35	0
Kartik	29	7	78	0
Parida	19	6	62	1
Tejinderpal	6	1	25	0
Khanolkar	2	0	9	0
INDIAN R	AILW	IAYS	: Ab	hay a

Yadav, Tejinder Pal Singh, Yere

Goud, Raja Ali, Kulamani Parida,

Zakir Hussain, Shreyas Khanolkar.

Bowler	0	M	R	W
Harnder	11	2	37	1
Hussain	10	1	41	0
Yadav	15	3	35	0
Kartik	29	7	78	0
Parida	19	6	62	1
Tejinderpal	6	1	25	0
Khanolkar	2	0	9	0
INDIAN RAILWAYS: Abhay
Sharma Murli Kartik Harvinder

Gayle goes on AFP, Moscow

Stepanek fought hard to pull The American underlined his France's Sebastian Grosjean, third seed here, eliminated

YKHYK MGVM ОК QHILH

ZKVEKP Yesterday's Cryptoquip: A COLLEGE CLASS WAS BEING QUESTIONED ABOUT SODA, SO I REALIZED IT WAS A POP QUIZ.

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: K equals E The Cryptoguip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

Clueless Hewitt

Tennis

AFP. Stockholm

Wimbledon champion and world number one Lleyton Hewitt plunged into further despair on Wednesday when he slumped to a 6-3, 6-3 defeat to Dutchman Raemon Sluiter in the second round of the 650,000 dollar Stockholm Open

Just a week after illness forced him to miss the Masters event in Madrid, the 21-year-old Australian put in a poor performance which would not have improved his mood as he tries to resist Andre Agassi's assault on his world top spot.

Agassi, a winner Wednesday at St. Petersburg, went into the Russian event trailing the Australian by just 43 points after claiming the Madrid title at the weekend.

Hewitt went down an early break in the opening set on Wednesday and could never recover as Sluiter recovered from 0-30 in the final game to win the opener 6-3. The underdog began with a break in the second, lost it in the fourth, but recovered quickly as Sluiter went into a 5-3 lead with a love game and waited patiently as Hewitt double-faulted to give it back, match points with serve winners and never relaxed his grip on the before double-faulting on a fourth to one-way match.

"I didn't feel 100 per cent, but I've been getting better gradually," he said. "I felt right to play. "But I've got to take my hat off to that kind of solid tennis. He came at me from the start. He was aggressive. He's had some of his best results indoors, this is his best surface. Hewitt refused to be drawn out on his looming struggle with the onform Agassi who has a simmering desire to end the year as number one at age 32. "It doesn't worry me," said the Australian. Thailand's Paradorn Srichaphan, who beat Hewitt in Japan recently, thrashed Swedish teenager Robin Soderling 6-2, 6-1 to reach the second round.

The 23-year-old from Bangkok, a semi-finalist and quarter-finalist at his last two ATP events, now meets Frenchman Michael Llodra in the Paradorn was untroubled against Soderling, the world's thirdranked junior and a Swedish hope for the future. The Asian ace broke twice in the opening set, finishing the job with an untouchable serve. In the second, the desperate Hewitt saved three he broke the young Swede for 2-1 Paradorn finis second match point with a backhand winner. Swede Magnus Norman's season-long comeback attempt sputtered as he crashed out in his opening match, a 6-2, 6-2 victim of Hicham Arazi. Norman, who has not yet recovered the form which took him to the French Open final two years ago and accounted for ten titles over the 1999 and 2000 seasons, has now lost a dozen times since February in Arazi now moves into a secondround clash with American Taylor Dent, who put out second-seeded and defending champion Sjeng Schalken 7-6, 6-4. Dangerous Frenchman Fabrice Santoro, a semi-finalist last week-the first round.

nated Argentine fifth seed Juan Number four seed Thomas Johansson was also knocked out on end at the Madrid Masters, elimi-

Wednesday. The Swede's 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 loss to Spain's Tommy Robredo all but knocks him out of the race for the November 11-17 Shanghai Masters Cup, limited to the top eight points finishers on the season.

Lleyton Hewitt of Australia walks off the court after losing his second round match at the Stockholm Open tournament on October 23.

No improving England

England's preparations for the Ashes took another mighty batter ing here Thursday -- from a parttime cricketer who works most days as a window cleaner

Callum Thorp, 27, yet to play in a first-class match, embarrassed the tourists' batsmen on the opening day of a two-day clash against Western Australia at the WACA Ground with a destructive 4-58 display of swing bowling.

SCORECARD

Scoreboard at stumps on opening day of the two-day match between Western Australia and England at the WACA Ground Thursday: ENGLAND: First innings

Trescothick c Hussey b Wilson 46

Key Ibw Thorp Butcher c and b Thorp Hussain c Ronchi b Thorp Crawley c Ronchi b Clark Stewart c Ronchi b Clark Foster b Casson Giles c Ronchi b Thorp Caddick not out Hoggard b Wilson Harmison c Goodwin b Wilson Extras: (b-1, lb-1, nb-1) Total: (All out in 87.2 overs)

48, 5-89, 6-112, 7-116, 8-126, 9-205 Bowler 0 M R WWilson 18.2 9 38 58 Thorp 20 6 7 42 18 Clark 49 Harvev 16 6 32 Casson WESTERN AUSTRALIA: First innings Hussey not out Rogers not out

Fall of wickets: 1-4, 2-32, 3-39, 4-

Total: (For no loss in 3 overs) 0 М R W Bowler Hoggard Harmison WESTERN AUSTRALIA: Mike Hussey, Beau Casson, Michael Clark, Murray Goodwin, Kade Harvey, Shaun Marsh, Marcus North, Chris Rogers, Luke Ronchi, Callum Thorp, Paul Wilson

Cricket academy FROM PAGE 13 we'll start our activities from Dhaka and Chittagong Divisions," said Ratan, who has been actively involved in coaching since 1995. Interested boys and girls have been requested to collect prospectus and registration forms from Shah Sports at the Maulana Bhasani Hockey Stadium, Gulshan-1 DMC Market, Inter Sports on Elephant Road, Film Fair Video at Sobahanbagh, Malancha Flower Centre at Shahbagh, New La Bamba at Dhanmondi and also from Abahani ground.

first indoor victory this autumn.

my concentration improved and I moved well.

Dementieva in her second round match, winning in three sets 6-3, 3-Austrian Daniela Kix gave up her cramps, after losing the first set 6-2 and three games in the second. Doctors who examined the 17-

Cravbas. 28. will now face second round on Thursday. In the day's other first round matches, Russian Tatiana Panova beat fellow countrywoman Lina Krasnorutskaja 6-4, 6-1 and Swiss Marie-Gaianeh Mikaelian beat German Anca Barna 6-4, 6-3

Father Tim back to business

Pioline of France packing Wednesday in the opening round of the million-dollar Swiss Indoors tournament here. pion, took just 58 minutes to win 6-1, 6-4 after a performance full of another Frenchman in the shape of Nicolas Escude, whom he has set points in the opening set.

Henman is currently joint seventh in the Champions Race and needs good results in Basel and Paris next week to book his ticket to Shanghai with only world number one Llevton Hewitt and Andre

Mark wins FROM PAGE 13

Australian squad. age of 46.80 against Pakistan, old was ready to show benefit from

Challenge Trophy FROM PAGE 13 Alamgir Kabir, Anwar Hossain (WK),

Rashid, Nazimuddin, Kafi Khan, Johurul Islam, Kamrul Islam, Bidvut, Mahmudullah, Shafaq Al-Jabir,

Oct 25-28 ATeam National Team v DCS

Nov 12-15 Final BKSP