Often labelled as naughty, restless, mischievous or nonchalant; very difficult to manage; extremely fond of life and dream; even fast changing computers fail to keep pace with them; and above all, they are what everything is meant for; everyone, if sensible, is concerned about—they are our future-labelled as: children. Do you enjoy their unpredictable company? Do they this way or that way interest you? To be precise, children of 4-9 years old? Do you like to share alphabets, digits, dots, lines and fun with them especially when they all take you for a fool? If yes—join us! We are certainly looking for you then! Let your C.V. with two photographs and telephone number rush to our address by 12 November 2002. Only a short listed candidate will be contacted later as our requirement is very humble right now.
