Discussion and article reading on Begum Rokeya at Bangla Academy

RUMMAN UDDIN AHAMED

■ EGUM Rokeya Day' was observed on 9th of Decem-ber 2002 with much ado. On this occasion Bangla Academy had organised an article reading and discussion ceremony on 'Humanity and Non-sectarianism in Begum Rokea's literary thoughts'. Dr. Nazma Chaudhury presided over the ceremony. Dr. Selina Bahar Jahan read a verv thoughtprovoking article about Begum Rokeya's life and works at the program.

The discussion started with an impressive analysis of Begum Rokeya's literary works commented upon by Dr. Mansur Musa. He said that Begum Rokeya had created her writings not only for the sake of literature but to redeem the miserable situation of the society. During her time, womanhood was considered as an embarrassment: Begum Rokeya stood straight against all odds. She was the exponent of the progression of respected womanhood: Dr. Mansur explained how backward were the Muslim communities specially Bengali women and how Begum Rokeya gleaned the merit of the Bengali womanhood. He spoke about Begum Rokeya's thirst for knowledge; he also said, " She was fond of history and she taught it to the ignorant society of her times. She was the voice of the Bengali women. She explained to the women in her society as to how to speak openly about themselves." Professor Selina Bahar Jahan presented an excellent article in the program. She said, "It is a pity that we still don't know about Begum Rokeya's birthday properly. We just assume that it is on 9th December. It is a pity that the Muslim fundamentalists did not let the people bury

Begum Rokeya in Kolkata. She was

later buried at the family gravevard of Late Abdul Aziz on 9th December 1932 in Syedpur." Dr. Selina Bahar Jahan later discussed Begum Rokeya's literary works and read from some of her writings. She spoke about "The Bishwakosh Shampradaya" and explained how this non-communal literary giant was referred to as 'Mother' by the Hindus in her society. Dr. Jahan also illustrated Begum Rokeya's enormous concern for humanity, she had also narrated about the present society and voiced on that we have not come far enough from the society that Begum Rokeya had encountered. In her article Dr. Jahan explained how Begum Rokeya got the suffering women together and engaged them in social work. Begum Rokeva had established a school for the girls called. "Sakhawat Memorial Girls School": in that school all the teachers were non-Bengali and of other viz. M. Fatema Khanam. This of course focuses Begum Rokeya's respect for the singularity of knowledge through non-communalism. One was told that in her school Begum Rokeya taught mainly in Urdu and English. After that she introduced Bengali. Begum Rokeva always kept herself busy for the advancement of Bengali women and their self-respect. Throughout the article Jahan explored Begum Rokeva's incredible identity.

As a whole, the discussion and article reading program arranged by the Bangla Academy had been laudable. Shahida Khanam had presented the program. Besides, on that very day at 4 p.m., on the occasion of 'Begum Rokeya Day', a publication ceremony of the book Rokevar Manos Konna: Sritigatha" was held at 3, Paribag, Dhaka.

Geeta Mahalik performing Odissidance a t the National Museum auditorium on December 9

To continue this intercultural interaction, a public symposium and evening event for local sponsors and the general public will be held at the British Council Auditorium after the open studio day in Dhaka.

The programmes are being coordinated with the help of the German Embassy.

CULTURE DESK RITTO" international "Britto" is a newly founded, artist artists workshop will be caste and community except one, led, non-profit trust committed to promoting exchange and dialogue between artistic communities internationally and particularly within the South Asian region.

While our Government Academy s doing its best to provide a forum for the arts, it is limited by its resources and philosophy and is unable to cater to the more experimental demands of younger artists.

Furthermore, while there are several workshops and exhibitions which have been organised in previous years within Bangladesh, contemporary global reflection and critical discourse are not necessar-

"Britto" is committed to raising awareness and gaining a higher profile for the artists of Bangladesh and the region in this global art scenario. It is proposing to hold an international artists' workshop in January 2003, during which artists from 10 different countries will live and work together with an equal number of artists from Bangladesh. The artists will work in an environment of exchange and experimen-tation at a suitable venue outside of Dhaka. As an extension of "Britto", the organizers have an ambitious outreaching programme, which includes lectures and talks given by the artists during the workshop at various institutes. An open studio day, when the public is invited to view the artwork, is organised at the end of the two-week workshop. "Britto" members are confident that this will be well attended by stu-dents, artists and the general public.
