Although she sings popular when required on occasions like February 21, March 26 (Independence Day), "Pahela Boishakh" and Victory Day, her forte is "Rabindrasangeet". Nargis says that it is easier for her to sing popular songs than her repertoire of her forte as her training is based on "Ucchanga sangeet" over which she has remarkable control the training being eastern classical music based. Her teacher, at Brahmanbaria, had been Gajendra Lal Roy and when she came to Dhaka in 1977. after her Intermediate exams, she studied under Ajit Roy, with Sanieeda Khatoon, Khandakar Nurul Alam (at his home), and some "Uccha sangeet" with Nilufer Yasmeen. She has been singing for about twelve years in public in beginning."

Asked if she contested the fact that some of Rabindranath Tagore's tunes had been influenced by church music, which he had heard while staying overseas, Nargis said, "Yes this is true as in the case of songs like 'Pran chae chokho na chai'. 'Koto baro bhebechhinu aapono bhulia' and 'Purano shae diner kotha'.'

Giving her preference for Lal Roy encouraged me to move Rabindrasangeet from "Epar-Opar onto "Rabindrasangeet". After his persuasion, I myself grew to love the Bangla", she said, "Among the genre that I now sing mostly. I listen 'Rabindrasangeet' artistes from to "Nazrul geeti" but don't sing it." Bangladesh I prefer Mita Hag, Talking about her preference for Rizvana Chowdhury Bonna, and "Rabindrasangeet"-- whether the among the male vocalists I like popular ones or the ones not so Fahim Hossain Chowdhury. From well-known -- Nargis said, "I like the Kolkata-based singers I like Rabindranath's songs for 'puja' Konika Bandopadhaya and Chinmoy Chattapadhaya most of occasions like 'Anandadhara bohiche bhubone', 'Protidine ami he jibono swami', etc. One develops a Coming from a music loving penchant for such songs with age family, although her mother -- who sang herself was so conservative but I adored them right from the that she was not all for Nargis taking her songs too seriously. Today Nargis leads the "Padatik" in singing and tutors them in poetry recitation as well as even plays, which they will stage today at TSC "Chattar" She practices in the evenings with her "harmonium" and the accompanying "tabalchi" for an hour and a half every day (the "tabalchi" comes thrice a week). As for the "Padatik" cultural group, she has been attached to it since 1980. When music enters some of the play productions, Nargis guides here too in her gentle but firm voice, as in the case of the necessary background music. The songs that she will specially sing for Victory Day will suit the occasion and will not be difficult to render as she has already mastered "Ucchanga sangeet" years back On the 15th, at the Dhanmondi

Amphitheatre there were songs like "Aaj Bangladesh, phooley, phooley dipto bhore ache shangite" "Sankochero biuhalata nijero apamaan" (from Rabindranath Tagore), a song from the B.Brecht's play "Mother", "Oder hate niom kanun, oder hate aeen", and the popular song "Janatar shangram cholbe". Today the "Padatik" artistes will perform at the Shahid Minar.

The songs that had been sung on December 14th evening included "Jev tomai chharey chharuk ami tomai chharbona" (a song on freedom achievement theme by Tagore). The programme that evening had been inaugurated by Ramendu Mojumdar and taking part was Mahbubul Haider Mohon; the groups "Kranti" and "Sharak" took part in group songs; group recitations were done by "Sharkalpan", "Abritti Chakra" and "Mukto Dhara."

The solo recitation was by Ahakumullah Mojumdar Jewel and Mahidul Islam. The self-written poem was recited by Mustafa Ahmed Morshed, while the dance was by "Spandan" and "Sarak"-two groups. The solo song performances were by Nargis Chowdhury, Tulip Ahmed Chowdhury, Lina Khan, Victor Gomes and Afroza Parveen Mukta. On this evening too were "street plays" by "Nagarik Nattangan Ensemble" and "Oboyob Nattya Dal". "Baul" songs were sung by Arif Rahman as the finale. Similar plays, relevant to the occasion and popularly known as "patha natak", are being held from 14th December to 16th December at Abu Mohammed Murtaysh Kochi "Patha Natak Mancha" at the TSC Sarat Dwip by the same group.

Speaking to the "Padatik" group who had gathered for singing and drama performances for December 15th and 16th, one gathered they had come from various walks of life We've most often had the accompaand devoted their evenings to singing and acting as individual niment of the "tabla", "dhol" and the passions to which they regularly "harmonium". Two hours to make a genre of drama flourish is not too great a sacrifice."

Next spoke Nahayan, another banker, who said on that occasion, "I'm not a professional singer though I've joined in the popular patriotic and celebration songs that we are practicing for the 15th and 16th. I'm an actor and, as such, I must know to sing, dance, recite and act to make our performances successful.
