House demolished by Rajshahi City Corporation 'without prior notice'

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Rajshahi

The family of a retired army sergeant was evicted and their house at Dingadoba in the city was demolished by Rajshahi City Corporation (RCC) on Sunday for construction of a drain there.

He soon rushed there and protested it.

"The magistrate seemed angry and told me you are under arrest when I protested," Islam told this correspondent.

He also said policemen took him to Rajpara thana and asked him to sign an undertaking that he obstructed work on a RCC drainage project and that there would have no objection if the authorities take legal action if he obstructs the work in future.

Witnesses said policemen and labourers led by RCC Magistrate Mujibur Rahman demolished the house despite repeated appeals by Islam's wife and daughter to give them time to remove the household.

Islam was not present at the house when the demolition was started.

He was released after signing the undertaking.

When contacted, RCC Magistrate Mujibur Rahman told this correspondent that as per CS land records the land is a property of RCC.

He said the house was demolished as per an order of the chief executive officer (CEO) of RCC. "Notifying the house owner is not my job. I just followed order."

Replying to a question Rahman said, "I asked the law enforcers to arrest Anwarul Islam and accused him under Section 253 of Bangladesh Penal Code for obstructing government work."

Despite several attempts, CEO Khalilur Rahman could not be contacted for comments.

Boro production may fall short of target in Faridpur

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Faridpur

Boro production is likely to fall short of target this season.

Frequent power failure, abnormal price-hike of agricultural inputs, chemical fertilisers, pesticides, lack of irrigation facilities, high price of fuel, persistent drought and hailstorms wreaked havoc to standing boro crop.

On contact, growers in Char Madhabia area of Kotwali thana told this correspondent that they apprehended that they would be deprived of production cost of their produce. They disclosed that quality seeds were not available in the markets during the sowing season. No government agency supplied the same to them. About 4,000 shallow and deep tubewells did not operate properly due to erratic power supply.

Farmers faced extreme financial constraints. Poor farmers were denied agriculture loan.

About 44,869 hectares of land were brought under boro farming with a production target of 51,300 metric tons of paddy, according to sources in the Department of Agriculture Extension (DAE). He opined that because of unfavourable weather, the boro output target won't be achieved this year.
