Chhayanaut's fund raising effort
Nrityanchal performs the dance drama Mahua

NOVERA DEEPIA

THE gorgeous stage with its green background of forest wood attracted the audience straight-away. With the beautiful lighting effect, the stage had an extra dimension. The river, the rising sun or the evening and even the moonlit night were vividly projected.

As a fund raising initiative, Chhayanaut arranged a dance drama at the National Museum auditorium for the construction of its building. The artistes of Nrityanchal along with Shibli Mohammad, Shamim Ara Neepa and Belayet Hossain Khan performed in the dance drama. Shamim Ara Neepa directed the show. It was the famous folktale Mahua of Mymensingh Geetika.

It is a tragic love story of two people from different walks of life. Mahua, a snake charmer falls in love with a rich boy Nader Chand. But her community acts as a barrier to their love. To avoid any trouble, the snake charmer tribe flee away from the area. Nader Chand starts looking for Mahua but finds her nowhere. Meanwhile, when he falls asleep on the bank of the river, Mahua's father gives a knife to her to kill her beloved. Instead of killing him, Mahua runs away with Nader Chand. But ultimately they are caught by Mahua's father and once again he gives Mahua a knife to kill Nader Chand. Mahua cannot kill him and instead stabs herself and Nader Chand too kills himself as a result.

Colourful costumes and lighting made the show very attractive. The folk songs like Hey Nagor Chhaira De Kalashi, Ar Na Shuni Ami Bandhu Tomar Mohan Banshi, others were very melodious.. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the show.

Bansh Loilo Dari Loilo Shakol Baida, Otho Otho Naider Thakur, Nithur Moroney Giya MililoDuita Pran and others were very melodious.. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the show.

New film and film-award coming soon

HARUN UR RASHID

DECLARATION of the end of shooting of the film Kokhono Megh, Kokhono Brishti (KMKB), and the initiation of a film award gave way to a mass revelry at the Winter Garden of Hotel Sheraton on August 24 evening. Well-reputed media concerns Impress Telefilm Ltd. (ITL) and Channel-i held a celebration to mark the occasions in a boisterous way. The programme presented a promotional of the film KMKB, screening of two songs from the film, declaration of the soon-to-start Channel-i Film Awards, and, above all, a concert by Runa Laila.

Actress Moushumi, who debuts in direction with KMKB, informed that most of the editing and other technical work has completed. She heartily thanked ITL for providing all kinds of support to an 'inexperience' director. She also expressed her gratitude to all involved in the film. Veteran actor Razzak, who also acts in the film, congratulated Moushumi on her achievement. 'In fact, it's the first time I have worked under a lady director', he cut humorously. Razzak also urged to those who have discarded Bangla film for its vulgarity and degradation, so that people come and watch KMKB. For, 'It's a good movie and will be able to revive the taste of the purely family entertainment movies of the old days.'

Sadeq Hossain, Mayor, DMC, and Torikul Islam, Minister for Information, both praised this effort of ITL in bringing the large audience back to the cinema halls.

Later, two songs from KMKB—Ei

Baishakhey lekha premer chithi and the title track were screened.

Regarding the Channel-i Film Awards, Faridur Reza Sagar informed, it was decided that no movies from the Impress Telefilm-Channel-i family will be eligible for the competition. The award. includes a sum of Tk. 10,000.00, a certificate and a crest.

The internationally acclaimed artiste Runa Laila took the stage last, and rendered her very first movie number Gaaner khatay sawarolipi likhey. After that she performed her 'brand' song Shilpi, and a few more popular numbers. Punctuated by humorous interaction with the audience and film personalities, Runa's brilliant performance was an appropriate item in the ceremony.

Theatre

Beckett's play in Bangla

Students of DU present Waiting for Godot

CULTURE DESK

THE department of Music and Drama of Dhaka University staged Samuel Beckett's world famous play Waiting for Godot in Bangla at "Nat. Mandal"recently as a part of the acting examination of the fourth year-honours students. The fourth-year course includes both theoretical and practical study in acting.

Waiting for Godot is one of the most remarkable examples of the Theatre of Absurd. In the evolution of a new vision of mankind in relation to his environment and the universe, one may expect to see a large number influences. Clearly, the idea that man is absurd is by no means new. Fundamentally, human beings are struggling with the irrationality of experience, in a state of what has been described as 'metaphysical anguish'.

The translation of this play is quite difficult. As the eternal frustration, emptiness, weariness, absurd dreams and hope are within us from the beginning of the civilization, so the play has no limitation of time and place. Emptiness, hopeless waiting, stream of words, eternal weariness, childish farces--these are the main aspects of the play. According to, Samuel Beckett, the playwright, this is the reality for any time and place. The set designing and lighting are logically very simple but effective, to suggest that indefinite time and place. There is only a tree, few dry leaves and small semi-oval shaped high space on the stage. The costume designing and props are realistic. Coordinated sound effects have been used.

Among the four characters Nahida, Tania, Farida and Shiblee, Tania's performance was good. Her voice modulation, relevant expression and spontaneous movements are entertaining. Nahida and Farida have also acted well. However, in his first appearance, Shiblee seems to be a little bit nervous and tends to fumble.

The aim of this department is to bridge the east and the west in the world of drama and at the same time to create talented theater workers.

Festival

Tunatuni to hold its festival in September

Nursery rhyme Toray Badha Ghorar Dim staged

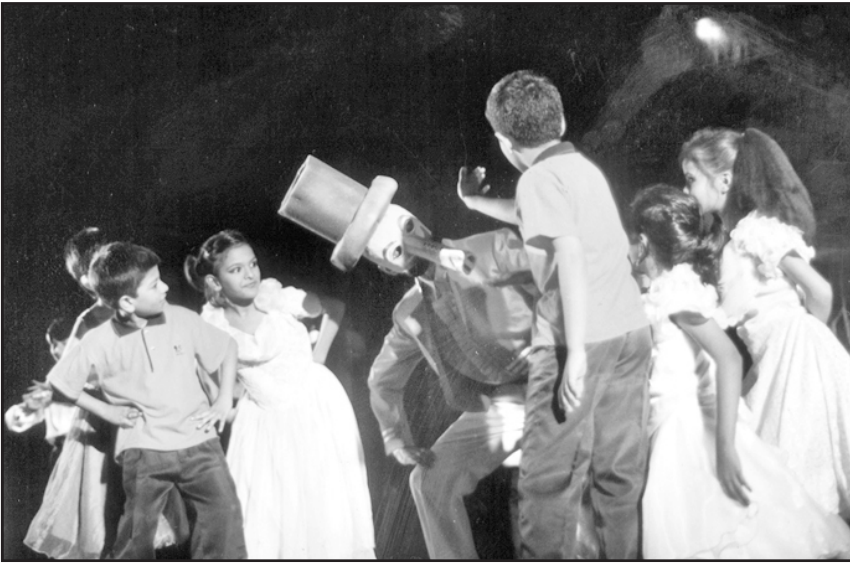

KAUSAR ISLAM AYON

IN the evening of August 23, the auditorium of Bangladesh Shishu Academy was filled up with the audience to see the production Toray Badha Ghorar Dim—an excellent creation by Satyajit Ray. Tonatuni, a cultural organisation, working mainly for children, staged this admirable nursery rhyme as part of their preparation of its Festival to be held in September.

Satyajit Ray has created an imaginary world in rhymes, where every action is meaningless. Children are the leading spirits where elders also take part. Through this, Ray has drawn the picture of the imbalances in the adult world.

The artistic presentation of Toray Badha Ghorar Dim on stage took the audience into another world. Taposh Sen's excellent manoeuvring of stage-lighting created a world of fantasy. Along with Ahmed Imtiaz Bulbul's music, Tammana Rahman's dance direction and Kiritee Ranjan Biswas' stage and dress design, Mujibur Rahman Dilu's presentation added a different taste to the production.
