Tourists begin to flock Kuakata

OUR CORRESPONDENT,
Patuakhali

Like previous years Kuakata sea beach is now full of tourists.

Hundreds of tourists of all ages from home and abroad are thronging here every day.

As a result, owners of hotels, motels, cottages and rest houses are doing a brisk business. All the places are now jam-packed with tourists.

Tourists are coming here with their family members to enjoy the scenic beauty here.

The main attraction of Kuakata is the scene of sunrise and that of sunset. Not only tourists, but many picnic parties and teams of educational tour already assembled here.

Anwar Hossain Anu, of the residential hotel owners association said, after their annual examinations students crowd here and arrange picnic parties or educational tours with their teachers or guardians.

Local police said, they had not seen such a big gathering of tourists before.

However, many complained that the hotel owners are charging excessively as rent charges. They are charging Tk 200 to 300 for single seat and Tk 500 to 700 for double seats. But hotel owners said, they had a loss in their business during the last six months. So, they take the chance of getting a profit, because December to March is the season of profit, they added.

Tourists also suffered a lot due to bad condition of the 72-kilometre Patuakhali-Kuakata road.

No headway in probe into 4 Satkhira murder cases

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Satkhira

There has been no headway in probe into four murder cases including three women rape and murder cases in Kalaroa upazila on April 1, 2003.

The body of the victim was recovered from a beel (water body) in the area on the following morning. A case was filed with Kalaroa thana.

None was arrested and no charge was framed against the suspected killers.

Mahmuda Khatun, 32, of Alipur village in Rupsa upazila, Khulna was kidnapped by miscreants who brought her at Hatuni village in Kalaroa upazila on February 15 last year. On the same night she was gang-raped and strangled by them.

On May 15, after three months police filed a case with Kalaroa thana and after investigation police submitted charge-sheet accusing Hafizul Islam, Lily Begum, Abdul Kashem, Dr Mairi Uddin, Dr Abdul Bari and a nurse named Asia Khatun under the Women and Children Repression Preventive Act on September 28. But police failed to nab the accused.

Morzina Begum, 28, a divorced housewife of Goalpara village in Rahman, 14, son of Hazrat Ali of Bhadiali, a bordering village under Kalaroa upazila was abducted by miscreants. The body of the victim was recovered from an unused latrine at Hakimpur village situated on the opposite side of Bhadiali village in Swarupnagar thana in 24 Parganas district, India on October 17. The Indian Border Security Force (BSF) handed over the body to the Bangladesh Rifles (BDR) after a flag meeting.

The victim's father Hazrat Ali filed a case with Kalaroa thana accusing Manirul Islam, Romjan Ali, Absaruddin, Hafezuddin and Tamezuddin of Bhadiali village.

But police failed to arrest the suspected killers during the period. Even they failed to frame any charge against them.

On contact, Officer-in-Charge of Kalaroa thana Golam Kibria, told this correspondent that due to lack of witness, the charge framing is being delayed. "But we hope to finish our task within a couple of months," he said.

Killer suspects threaten victim's family

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Satkhira

Absconding killer suspects are 'creating pressure' on the family members of the victim at Debnagar village in Sadar upazila to withdraw murder case or 'face a dire consequence'.

Anwarul Islam, 35, son of Amer Ali of the aforementioned village was murdered on July 11.

Amer Ali disclosed at a press conference at the Satkhira Reporters' Unity club on Thursday that a group of criminals belonging to a group of the local Union Parishad (UP) chairman 'chopped' to death his son Anwarul Islam in front of Debnagar Primary School at about 5:30 pm on the fatal day.

He said that he filed a case with Satkhira thana accusing Rashed,

Jahangir, Kamrul, Nazrul, Nur Islam, Motaleb, Taleb, Mahataf, Shawkat, Ashraf, Alamgir, Manirul and Kenan of the area. Police have arrested Jahangir, Motaleb and Alamgir. But afterwards, police 'mysteriously' remained inactive. They are not investigating the case or arresting the culprits and even after more than five months of the incident', he alleged.

Police are yet to submit a chargesheet against the culprits as a section of the ruling party men led by Sadar thana BNP Chairman Abdul Alim are allegedly harbouring the accused. They are also creating pressure to police, he claimed. He further alleged that chairman Abdul Alim had offered him a good amount of money to withdraw the case. The accused gave him the money for the ill-motive, he further said.

Looting of paddy protested

A CORRESPONDENT, Bhola

About 480 landless destitute families living on a 11-kilometre flood protection embankment in Char Manika union of Charfassion upazila protested against repression on them recently.

They also protested looting of their newly-harvested paddy on 60 acres of their land by musclemen of local influentials.

They lodged their protest before a group of journalists who visited the area. They told the visiting newsmen that they had been living on the embankment for over a decade under the Embankment Protection and Maintenance

Project of a local NGO. They took lease of about 350 acres of land from the Bangladesh Water Development Board (BWDB) authorities and cultivated transplanted aman there.

Musclemen of local influentials known as jottars was pressing them for eviction from the area for a long time. Even they made fake documents and filed 11 false cases against the destitute families. For this reason they looted their aman paddy on 60 acres of land and tortured them, they alleged.

The destitutes also hold a rally which was chaired by a destitute housewife named Sorfuja Khatun recently.
