A letter from the Ministry of Environment and Forest to the Sunamganj district administration to lease the Tanguar Haor in a short time has surprised officials there and created a commotion among its development. The Tanguar Haor stakeholders and local people. was declared a Ramsar site in 2000. If leased in a short time, the vast water body with its rich fish resources and bio-diversity will land in the hands of the lone bidder, a private fishery farm, and open up the scope for plunder as before, the district administration has said in its reply sent on Tuesday. It has sought fresh directives in this regard, sources said.

The 3868 acre haor, the second largest water body, home to 60,000 birds of different species and 140 varieties of sweet water fish. is now being protected by a joint force of BDR, police and Ansar deployed by the Sunamganj district administration as it could not been leased in the last three years. This move against its plunder has been lauded by all sections of people, sources there said.

The ministry's letter followed a report by a sub-committee of the Parliamentary Committee on the Environment Ministry, which visited the haor on January 21. The district administration's letter said there will also be gross Hossain's close relative) as its manirregularities if the haor is leased in aging director. The lease money was a short time and suggested continu-Tk 35.66.402. ministry, which controlled the water body at that time, in a letter cancelled the lease, terming the then lessee "a farm in name only". Later, in 1999, the ministry cancelled the lease for unauthorized sub-leasing.

Since then the huge water body was left uncared, to be plundered as the government failed to lease it.

After declaration of the haor as a Ramsar site, a body styled Tanguar Haor Management Committee was formed, which floated tender for selecting an investor to implement the Ramsar programme.

Only three proposals were submitted. All these were either by Nozir Hossain or his men, the sources claimed.

This game of floating tender and submitting bids continued till last year, keeping open the scope for plunder by a vested group
