Lawson could be back against England

CRICINFO, undated

England could face Jermaine Lawson, the West Indies fast bowler, in the first match of their tour next week

Lawson has not played a Test since May last year, in which he took seven for 78 against Australia. He has since been out of action because of a suspect bowling action, on which he has been having remedial work, and back problems.

However, Jamaica's selectors are reportedly considering picking Lawson, 22, for a three-day warmup match next week after watching him back in practice.

"He bowled with some pace, the only problem was his accuracy," Robert Haynes, the coach, told the Jamaica Observer.

The first of five one-day matches will be played in Karachi on March

Another report from Islamabad adds, Pakistan's interior ministry announced Wednesday 8,250 short-stay visas would be made available to Indian cricket fans for the five one-day matches scheduled next month, official said.

Vast swathes of Indian fans are expected to apply for visas to witness their country's first tour across the border in a long time.

"We have worked out the details with the PCB and have decided to give around 8,250 visas to Indian fans to watch this historic series," Interior Ministry secretary Tasneem

Noorani told this news agency. Noorani said that 2,500 visas would be issued for each of the two one-day games in Lahore, 1,500 for Karachi, 1,000 for Rawalpindi and 750 for Peshawar

"The fans will first buy the tickets through the PCB sites and then produce confirmation of their booking to our consulate in New Delhi to get visas," he said.

The number of visas for the Test matches would be decided later, he added.

The meeting was attended by foreign affairs secretary Riaz Khokar. PCB chairman Shaharyar Khan and officials of the interior ministry. The meeting also reviewed security arrangements
