Qayyum Chowdhury's solo at Bengal Gallery

FAYZA HAO

ZESTERDAY was the 70th birthday of eminent artist Qayyum Chowdhury. Speaking about himself at his solo exhibition at Bengal Gallery of Fine Arts, held to mark the gallery's 5th anniversary, Qayyum Chowdhury said: " From my childhood images of nature preoccupied me to such an extent that I brought them to life not only in my drawing books but also the examination copies of other subjects for which I was repeatedly scolded by my teachers. Drawing and colouring was a natural instinct. When I was in high school we got rich reading material from Kolkata, illustrated by famous artists. Since then I was determined to paint and sketch beautiful images like them centering on the skies, fields, trees, birds, beast and flowers of beautiful Bengal. At that time I couldn't distinguish between illustration and painting.

"The artists who have influenced me are obviously Zainul Abedin and Quamrul Islam who were my teachers and taught me how to paint by guiding my hand and correcting my colouring, praising and admonishing where necessary. They remain my ideal and I try to follow their path. As for artists of the earlier times. Van Gogh and Matisse remain my favourites, specially their decorative works. As a child I tried to bring in their composition and colours in my paintings. Asked about the news elements in his current exhibition, Qayyum Chowdhury said, There is nothing remarkably new: it is a continuation of the past. The themes remain the same: flowers, birds, butterflies, women, paddy fields, rivers, skies the countryside as seen in simple geometrical shapes and buoyant colours. I try to bring in the rhythm of life in the Bangladeshi countryside and I'm always preoccupied by the local landscapes with the turquoise, mustard, russet, emerald, ruby and other vibrant colours. I make notes in a diary before I work and later develop on them.

However, there are paintings of 2003 which critics have termed as fiery and angry, and different from the works done before 2000 where I brought in Bengal folk motifs and dealt with the alluvial plains , boats and rich Bengal visuals of red-green-blue. The new image is compassionate yet critical of our times and I've termed them 'Flowing time' which critics read as 'Dark Time', the ferocity of which is said to chill your bone and snatch one away from any complacency. The nostalgia of the past is absent but ooks into the future, keeping the Talking about why it took him long to have a solo exhibition. Qayyum Chowdhry said, " It took me five years. I like to take as much as two months to finish a canvas. I want the work to be perfect and finished in every way. I do detailed work and that is time consuming. I have nearly 70 oils, drawings and water colours in this exhibit.

Touching on whether his illustration work affected his paintings, Qayyum Chowdhury Not at all; on the other said. hand my paintings affect my nature. Flowers, birds and boats were carefully included in the composition at the back and front. The dominant colours were green, blue, ochre, red and pink. The colours were throbbing with emotion. "The last spring", oil on canvas, had little birds in yellow and blue along with decorative representations of trees and leaves on a background of orange, burnt sienna and other russet colours. One of the paintings dealing with the freedom fighters brought in the Bangladesh flag along with the soldiers with their red badges of courage tied on their forehead, wearing singles and flourishing bayonets. Qayyum Chowdhury has had numerous solo and joint exhibits in USA, Germany, India, Paki-stan, Japan, Hong Kong, Czechoslovakia, Russia, Middle East and Bangladesh. His awards include Ekushey Padak (1986), Sultan Padak (1999), Liepzig Book Fair Prize for book illustration and the Imperial Court Prize in Teheran Biennale (1966).

HE Embassy of Japan and Dosokai Ikebana School recently organised an Ikebana competition and demonstration by the Sogetsu School of Ikebana at the BRAC Centre, Mohakhali. 'Ikebana' is a Japanese term, simply referring to the art of flower arrangement. Begum Selima Rahman, the State Minister for Cultural Affairs was the chief guest. The Ikebana expert, Hiroshi Nakamura came all way from Japan to demonstrate the craft and judge the entries.

The origins of Ikebana are believed to go back to the sixth century, when Buddhism was introduced in Japan. As the religion took root, the custom of dedicating flowers came along with it, which eventually evolved into the art of Ikebana. Another view is that customs of the ancient times, such as planting of evergreen trees and arranging flowers to call the celestial beings, evolved into into Ikebana.

According to one of the organis-ers the Ikebana Dosokai School located in Dhaka, sponsored by the Japanese Embassy began operations in 1975. Since then, several Bangladeshi students have various elements of the Bangladeshi culture in her work. The third prize winner, Nadira Parvin, had a sharp edge to her work. Her leaves revealed a remarkable contrast with the small yellow and pink flowers. Special prizes were awarded by Sozan Nakamusa from the Sogetsu Ikebana School, Japan and Maleka Khan, Principal of Dosokai School, Dhaka to Minufar Nasrin, Nurun Nahar and Sultana Shahana for their impressive designs and centring on nature.

Hiroshi Nakamura, a Japanese expert in the craft, created fourteen Ikebana creations for the audience, students and teachers. His amazing art included various kinds of flowers, bamboo shoots and fruits, which he combined with mud pots and vases made of rock.

The demonstration ended with an elaborate design with bamboo shoots, green leaves and wild flowers. The chief guest, Selima Rahman, was invited to undertake an Ikebana arrangement. The day, dedicated to Ikebana, symbolised the close ties between Japan and Bangladesh.

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

HBO: 11:15 pm The Hunted. Action/ Drama/Thriller; Tommy Lee Jones, Benicio Del Toro, Connie Nielsen. In the green woods of Silver Falls, Oregon, Aaron Hallam, a trained assassin keeps his own brand of wildlife vigil. After brutally slaying four deer hunters in the area, FBI Special Agent Durrell turns to L.T. Bonham--the one man who may be able to stop him. At first L.T. resists the mission. But when he realises that these recent slavings are the work of a man he trained, he feels obligated to stop him.

STAR MOVIES: 5:30 pm The Order. Mystery/Thriller/Horror; Heath Ledger, Shannyn Sossamon, Benno Fürmann. Alex Bernier, member of an arcane order of priests called Carolingians, is sent to Rome to investigate mysterious circumstances surrounding the recent death of the head of the order. The body bears strange marks on the chest, which may or may not be the sign of a Sin Eater, a renegade who offers absolution, last rites and therefore a path to heaven outside the jurisdiction of the church. Alex enlists the aid of his old comrade Father Thomas and a troubled artist upon whom he once performed an exorcism. He soon finds himself plunged into a mystery.

Philadelphia On MGM at 11:30 pm

Genre: Drama

Tom Hanks, Denzel Washington, Roberta Maxwell

A gay lawyer stricken with AIDS seeks assistance from a homophobic personal injury attorney when a prestigious Philadelphia law firm fires him for incompetence. Not the standard 'issue' movie or even the standard courtroom drama but a sensitive and heartfelt look at the affect of AIDS on family, friends and the people who interact with an AIDS victim.
