South Asia Regional Post-Doctoral Fellowship Program
The Social Science Research Council (SSRC), New York, is pleased to announce the third round of their annual postdoctoral fellowship competition. The theme for 2004-05 is "Boundaries of Bodies, States and Societies."
Funding is offered for short-term fellowships (3-4 months) on topics related to this theme from scholars in any discipline of the social sciences, humanities, and relevant disciplines. This year's fellowship theme seeks to understand and link conceptions of the body and other corporeal territorialities as these might be understood at different levels of the state and society. For more information about the theme, please visit <http://www.ssrc.org/fellowships/southasia/>
The South Asia Regional Fellowship Program seeks to strengthen the link between teaching and research, hence, the competition is open only to full time faculty members holding earned Ph.D's and presently teaching in an accredited college or university in Pakistan, India, Bangladesh, Nepal or Sri Lanka. Fellowship awards range from $2,200 to $3,000. As many as twenty fellowships may be awarded each
