Ensure food, nutrition security of growing Asian population

MK Anwar at the ACD workshop on agriculture development in Beijing

UNB, Dhaka

Bangladesh called for harmonising agricultural research and development activities in Asia to ensure food and nutrition security of the growing population of the continent. Agriculture Minister MK Anwar made the call when he was delivering his speech at a two-day continental workshop on agriculture development that began in Beijing on Saturday, according to a message received here vesterday

He said food production needs to be doubled in the next 20-25 years to maintain even its present level of food consumption in the region. "concerted Minister Du Qinglin, the Asia Cooperation Dialogue (ACD) workshop, first of its kind, was also addressed by the relevant ministers from the Asian countries.

Appreciating Thailand for initiating the concept of ACD and shaping its formation, Anwar said, "Unless there be effective steps taken for reducing hunger, the developing countries would be overcrowded, which by itself might be a great threat to world peace.

He said formation of the ACD and close cooperation among the member countries could avert such threats and help achieve the millennium development doals.

He proposed a number of areas for Asian cooperation. The areas are zoning of land resources of the country for optimum land use, use of geographical information system and remote sensing, weather forecasting and early warning systems for natural calamity, phytosanitary and animal and plant quarantine, bio-technology and genetic engineering, mechanisation of agriculture and human resource development.

Meanwhile, the host China has proposed to establish a platform to promote effective cooperation among the ACD countries to enhance shared development in agriculture, upgrade knowledge and technological levels, intensify exchanges in agricultural high-tech for gradual raising of productivity, strengthen agriculture-related information and agricultural institution "In spite of their agreement to cut down the support. subsidy and tariffs, they are maintaining the support bypassing the rules, he said.

Highlighting the progress made by Bangladesh in food production and availability in the last three decades. he said Bangladesh increased rice producing from 9.5 million tons in 1971-72 to over 25 million tons in 2002-03 cultivating almost same area ofland.

Wheat production increased to 1.5 million tons from 0.06 million tons during the period, he apprised the meet.

He said Bangladesh, through various developments and transformation from local to modern varieties, improved management and several policy reforms helped achieve self sufficiency in cereal production.

Rice Knowledge Bank launched at BRRI

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Bangladesh Rice Knowledge Bank (BRKB) (www.brkb.org), a web based tool to make up-to-date rice related information available online and in CD-ROM, was launched on the Bangladesh Rice Research Institute (BRRI) campus yesterday.

State Minister for Agriculture Mirza Fakhrul Islam Alamgir inaugurated BRKB, first of its kind in the country, on the sideline of a two-day workshop on 'Technology Development' jointly organised by the Poverty Elimination Through Rice Research Institute (PETRRA) project of the International Rice Research Institute (IRRI) and BRRI.

Rice Knowledge Bank, highly relevant to Bangladeshi farmers and GO-NGO field-level extension workers, is a treasure of rice knowledge. This is a dynamic source of knowledge that will be updated regularly to keep consistency with the latest innovations and users' feedback.

The Bank contains rice knowledge to address the regional as well as national issues associated with rice production and training. It started with rice but extends promise to be expanded to non-rice

Ananda Bazar of Chandpur at about 3:15am, our Comilla correspondent reports from Chandpur.

Another double-decker launch, MV Digonto, with 40 passengers aboard, and a cement-loaded cargo vessel capsized after being hit by a twister on the Meghna between Ekhlaspur and Kanudi near Chandpur, 169 kilometres east of Dhaka

At least 20 passengers were reported missing from MV Digonto. The launch was carrying more than 200 passengers but most of them disembarked in Chandpur, according to our Barisal correspondent.

Villagers and fishermen on engine boats cut the hull of the upturned MV Lighting Sun and pulled another seven alive. They are Jahanara, 38, Nurunnahar, 8, Mansura, 8, Rosy, 8, Ahidul Islam, 15, Ajhar Bepari, 70, and Mintu, 25.

Chandpur district administration officials fear that some passengers are still trapped inside the launch and that strong currents of the mighty Meghna might have swept many downstream, which may push the number of casualties.

The survivors, who were admitted to Chandpur Hospital, said many of their relatives were missing. The bodies retrieved could not be identified immediately, an official said, adding that two women and one elderly man were among the dead so far

Police said the launch sailed from Madaripur at 7:00pm on Saturday. It ran into a violent storm about a kilometre north of Chandpur launch terminal and sank into the river near Ananda Bazar.

Local administration and police joined villagers and fishermen in the salvage operation on the stroke of daybreak but gusty wind and fierce rain were keeping them at bay. The partly submerged launch was floating close to the shore.

Most of the passengers were asleep when the launch capsized and could be trapped inside, Ajhar Bepari, one of the survivors, said.

A number of survivors told The Daily Star that just after the storm had started blowing, the launch crew tried to moor the vessel on the riverbank, but panicked passengers moved disorderly, sending the launch in a lurch.

Helal Uddin Dhali, another passenger who swam for about one and a half hours to safety after the accident, said about 70-80 passengers jumped into the river as the launch was sinking.

In the morning, Deputy Commissioner Abdur Rab Hawlader and Superintendent of Police Mokhlesur Rahman rushed to the spot and recovered seven bodies.

A medical team led by Civil Surgeon Syed Monwar Ali treated the injured on the shores. MV DIGANTA

CAPSIZE

MV Digonto left Torki of Gournadi upazila of Barisal district for Narayanganj at 3.30pm Saturday afternoon with more than 200 passengers and goods. Most of its passengers were small traders of Torki, Gournadi and Vurghata areas, according to reports received from Torki, Narayanganj and Rescue ship MV Rustam, meanwhile, reached the scene from Narayanganj at 3:45pm and started a full-scale rescue operation, reports our staff correspondent.

The shipping minister and officials of the Bangladesh Inland Water Transport Authority (BIWTA) reached the spot at 4:00pm. Shipping Minister Akbar Hossain operations said they had taken precautions to resist launch capsize on Meghna near Chandpur.

He claimed that it was an unusual incident and they could not help it. "We do not know as yet whether they (MV Lighting Sun and MV Digonto) have legal route permit and fitness certificate. We have to look into it after salvaging the launches," he said.

"Before retrieving all the bodies we cannot say anything about the number of the dead," he said. "It will take two to three more days to get the accurate casualty figure," he added.

He however said the families of the dead and the injured will be compensated, but would not say anything about those missing. "If we want to offer compensation to the missing persons, their number will reach 14 crore," he said wearing a smile. "Everyone will demand compensation," he added.

"There was a little bit of oxygen in the launch that helped some survive," said BIWTA diver Abdur Razzak, who along with Sabir Sarkar, were helping out rescue

FERRY OPERATIONS DISRUPTED

Ferry and launch movement on Paturia-Daulatdia route remained suspended for two hours as a wister lashed the area capsizing at least two moored launches, six motor boats and a ferry pontoon at Paturia Ghat early yesterday. No casualties were immediately reported Officials of Bangladesh Inland Water Transport Corporation (BIWTC) at Paturia said ferry movement was disrupted from 2:00am to 4:00am early yesterday due to heavy storm. The BIWTC's floating workshop was driven two kilometres downstream from Paturia Ghat. The two launches that sank at the Ghat are MVAmanat and MVAnika.
