Discuss insurgency, river-link

PALLAB BHATTACHARYA, New Delhi

In the first high-level contact after the Congress took office, India and Bangladesh yesterday discussed insurgency, interlinking of rivers and other issues in a spirit of "mutual understanding" and agreed not to let bilateral ties be a prisoner of the past.

"You can't forget the past. But you must not go on reinventing the past to make the future prisoner of the past... we have to go ahead. We are living in the 21st century," External Affairs Minister K Natwar Singh said at a joint press meet with

Govt mulls new pay scale

REJAUL KARIM BYRON

The government is considering introducing a new pay scale for its employees in the next fiscal year, a finance ministry source said.

A new pay commission is likely to be announced in the upcoming budget session and the revenue budget may have a separate allocation to finance the initiative.

The finance ministry, after days of deliberation on whether to make allocation for dearness allowance for government employees or to announce a pay commission, has in principle agreed on a new pay scale, the source added.

If the government only provides for dearness allowance, the upcoming budget will add more than Tk 1,000 crore to the allocation for government employees' pay and allowances.

The finance ministry has not yet calculated how much it might have to allocate if a new pay scale is

Employees see 39.4pc income erosion in 7 yrs

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The government employees experienced an income erosion of about 39.4 percent since 1997 when the last pay scale was announced as there was no cost of living adjustment by taking note of inflation.

"A person who joined the civil service as a first class gazetted officer in 1997 with a gross salary of Tk 6,525 should have been receiving a gross salary of Tk 9,100 in 2004 in order to protect the real value of his/her emolument in terms of 1997 prices," says the Centre for Policy

DHAKA-10 BY-POLL SYMBOL DISPUTE

Lawyers question handling of case

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Lawyers of the Bikalpa Dhara Bangladesh (BDB) candidate yesterday pointed out that the Supreme Court acted with rare speed in the symbol dispute case of Dhaka-10 by-election.

They also pointed out that petitioners are often allowed to appeal against stay orders without even getting certified copies of full orders of the High Court. In such cases, the petitioners file "civil miscellaneous petition" and the court often does not check the documents.

The lawyers made the observations on the second day of the full bench's hearing of the appeal against the High Court order that stayed the June 6 by-election to Dhaka-10 (ill) June 12.

BDB lawyers also alleged tampering with the by-election schedule and sought a court directive for a shift of the election date fearing that voting at this stage will not be free and fair.

They also requested the Supreme Court to let the High Court stay order remain unchanged and let the High Court division bench dispose of the matter slated for hearing on June 12.

Ctg Islamic militant training den busted

Dummy arms used in drills found; 2 held; camp allegedly run by cousin of state minister

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

Police in a predawn raid yesterday busted a secret arms training centre for madrasa students and arrested two suspected militants in a remote hilly village in Hathazari in Chittagong.

A large contingent of police, launching the raid on secret information, discovered training equipment at the centre which intelligence sources said was run by Mir Anis, cousin of a state minister and teacher of a local women's madrasa.

Anis who worked as the director of the centre and employed two trainers for madrasa students fled under cover of dark before the police raided.

Tigers fight back

RABEED IMAM, from St Lucia

The Tigers are fighting back in style. Bangladesh batsmen piled on the agony for the West Indies on the last day of the first Test at the largely empty Beausejour Stadium.

The tourists were 175 for seven at lunch in their second innings giving them a 239-run lead with Khaled Mashud (40 not out) at his grizzliest best and Mohammad Rafique (27 not out) carrying on from where he had left off in the first innings.

The two had put on exactly 50 runs for the eighth wicket after Rajin Saleh was the only wicket to fall in
