LOCAL GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS MEDIA AWARD Separate budget for local govt suggested

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Speakers at a function yesterday called for a separate budget for the local government institutions to strengthen their activities.

The allocation for the local government bodies in the national budget is inadequate. Moreover, the allocation is not directly given to them, said Prof Tofael Ahmed of Chittagong University in his keynote paper.

The Bangladesh Centre for Development, Journalism and Communication (BCDJC) organised the function to distribute the 'Local Government Affairs Media Award 2003'.

Two newspapers and three journalists were awarded at the ceremony held at the National Press Club.

Rashed Mehedi of the Bhorer Kagoj, Joyonto Acharya of the weekly 2000 and columnist Sohrab Hasan of the daily Sangbad received the awards for their write-ups.

Golam Sarwar, editor of the daily Jugantar, and Mozammel Haque, editor of the daily Karatoa, received prizes on behalf of their newspapers.

Speaking as chief guest, LGRD Minister Abdul Mannan Bhuiyan underscored the need for strengthening the union parishads (UP) and pourasavas to make the local government more effective.

"If the local government becomes powerful, poverty reduction and development of the country will be faster," he said.

The government has taken necessary steps to impart proper training to the UP chairmen, the minister said, adding that a proposal has also been sent to the finance ministry for direct allocation to the local government.

Reazuddin Ahmed, president of the National Press Club, said local government needs to be more active and independent.

The authority of the local government should also be clearly defined, he added.

William J Cartier, chief of party, Local Government Initiative, ARD, and Saiful Islam, president of Local Government Development Journalists' Forum, also spoke.

Samity (BPKS) organised the seminar at the LGED Seminar Hall at Argagaon.

A total of 120 representatives from 80 disabled people's organisations from across the country took part in the seminar.

He however regretted that there is not a single institution which is suitable for the disabled.

Two Ctg BCL activists to die, two others get life

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Chittagong

The Speedy Trial Tribunal, Chittagong, yesterday sentenced two Bangladesh Chhatra League activists to death and two others to life imprisonment for killing BCL leader Ataur Rahman Mamun of Islamia Degree College in 1997.

Judge M Hasan Imam passed the death sentence on Ratan Sikder and Mohammad Rizwan. The other convicts are Satyajit Pal and Monzur Ahmad alias Monzu.

The tribunal, however, acquitted four other accused -- Jahidul Islam Selim, Antu Barua, Syed Noor and Milan Das.

According to the prosecution, the accused sprayed bullets on BCL leader Ataur Rahman Mamun and his friend Tarek Hossain at Chatteshwari Road on April 20 in 1997 when they were going to a private clinic by an autorickshaw to see an ailing relative.

Local people rushed them to Chittagong Medical College Hospital where the doctors declared Mamun dead.

The attack was a sequel to an internal feud.

Zillur Rahman, elder brother of Mamun, filed a case with Kotwali police the same night.

Tarek also gave specific information under section 164, which helped the investigation officer (IO) make a breakthrough in the case.

The IO submitted the charge sheet on April 4, 1999 against eight people. The case was transferred to Speedy Trial Tribunal in June this year.

Meanwhile, Tarek was abducted and killed on August 10 in 1999 and a case in this regard is under trial.
