Sweet delights

HARUN UR RASHID

FOR Bangladeshis no moments of merriment are complete without sweets. Treating sweets on occasion of getting good news has become a part of the lifestyle of people in this region. Occasions like settlement of marriage, birth of babies, getting a job or even visiting family friends and relatives always call for sweets in our culture. Apart from these private events, merry social and religious programmes also similarly necessitate the presence of sweetmeats. There is always a special place for sweets on the menu of people of our country during Eids, pujas, New Year celebrations, special national days like the Independence Day and the Victory Day.

Eid-ul-Fitr is particularly the Eid of sweets. Different kinds of delicious sweetmeats are prepared in the household for guests as well as the family. After the one-month hard restraint of the senses, Eid-ul-Fitr is a perfect occasion for celebration and gaiety. And delicacies like shemai, payesh, jorda, various types of halua and other homemade items appease the joyful palate of people.

On the Eid day, before going to the Eidgah for Eid prayers, a moderate course of shemai has an unavoidable charm. After the prayers, begins the real festival: people visit the houses of friends and relatives and exchange greetings. And everywhere sweets are a must item: the lachicha shemai dipped in sweetened milk, a layer of currant, grapes, cherries and strawberries on top of it. Besides these traditional items, some western sweet items like pudding, custard and icecream are also among the favourites of the urbanites.

In villages, the scene is a little different: besides shemai and payesh, various types of pitha (cakes) add delicacy to the Eid day menu.

places on the menu: rasogolla, kalojaam, chamcham, lalmohon, shandesh and many other sweets with curious names also have the similar power to satisfy the palate. Among these, the rasogolla is the most common and favourite sweetmeat. Different kinds of sweetmeats, especially from adjoining areas of the capital such as Savar, Manikganj and Tangail, offer a tantalising prospect for the gourmand.

Some of the names of sweetmeats have come to be associated with the places where they are produced. Kachagolla of Natore, chamcham of Porabari, rasamalai of Comilla, monda of Muktagachha and balish of Netrokona are some of the mouthwatering delicacies.

The rasogolla is of different kinds, with names-- kamolabhog, mohonbhog, dilbhog and rajbhog--that describe their salient special features. Another kind of rasogolla--sponge rasogolla--is a favourite because of its peculiar spongy texture. Shandesh items include pranhar, kalakand and balushai. Apart from these, curd, especially the sweet variety, is a must item on the menu for its digestive quality.

Hakim debuts as mega serial director

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

What is an actor's ultimate goal? Obviously putting in his or her best foot forward to create a space in people's hearts. But nowadays there has been a slight change in this trend: actors often don the role of a director. Among them is popular small-screen star Azizul Hakim with his mega serial Jol Porey Pata Norey. Scripted by his wife Zeenat Hakim, who has already earned credentials in this field, the mahurat of the serial was held at the Tajmahal Restaurant recently.

Drama personalities, Abdullah Al Mamun, Mamunur Rashid, Dilara Zaman, Abdul Kader, Srabonti, Deepa Khondoker, Ratri, Sweetie and many other upcoming artistes were present on the occasion.

'Best wishes to the couple and especially to Azizul Hakim on his maiden venture,' said Mamunur Rashid.

Hakim himself will act in the serial. The cast also has pretty new faces like Mridula Ahmed and Mishti.

'The plot is very entertaining and humorous and I wrote it especially for Hakim,' said Zeenat.

The serial will be telecast on ATN Bangla from January 2005, said Hakim. 'I'm very happy to get the opportunity to direct Zeenat's script,' said an enthusiastic Azizul Hakim.

EID SPECIAL

Telefilm Dui Prantey on ntv

Suborna and Bipasha make a comeback in telefilm Dui Prantey

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

It's the auspicious occasion of Eid and ntv brings a star-studded telefilm Dui Prantey to its viewers on the 3rd day of Eid at 2:30pm. Big names on the small screen such as Subarna Mustafa, Humayun Faridee and Bipasha Hayat perform as protagonists of the film while Diti makes a guest appearance. Viewers will watch the heart-throbs of two different generations--Subarna and Bipasha--on the same screen after a long interval of 15 years.

The story is adapted from a foreign novel and Arun Chowdhury writes the script. This telefilm is the first directorial venture of Arif Khan, a journalist by profession. Even the background music has an element of surprise, being singer Kumar Bishwajit's maiden endeavor.

So what's in store for viewers of this telefilm? The story revolves around a couple, Afsan and Sushmita, who had a love marriage. Though the couple have two children, they are unhappy with the relationship and agree to a divorce. The family members reconcile themselves to this situation and the children start living with their parents in turn. A tricky question arises when Afsan declares to marry again. This development brings Afsan and Sushmita together again. So what will happen next? For that, viewers, you have to wait till the 3rd day of Eid.

Balok Balika on Channel i

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

The famous duo--popular writer Anisul Haque and director Mustafa Sarwar Faruqi--are set to launch another comedy for Eid. The drama will be telecast on the second day of Eid at 7:50pm. Apeep Karim, Mahfuz Ahmed, Bapi Ashraf, Masud Sezan and others act in the drama--a love story with common problems that the Dhakaites face in every phase of their lives.

Synopsis: Ripon Sayeed, an NGO worker and a reciter, loves a student of Dhaka University, Shawon. Ripon and Shawon perform for the same recitation group. Ripon expresses his feeling to Shawon on her birthday. Though initially a little unsure, Shawon hesitantly consents to Ripon's proposal. Ripon thinks that she is willing to love him.

Meanwhile, a political cadre Jibon starts to annoy Shawon. Subsequently, Ripon gets involved with terrorist activities. Thus the story advances.

Fashion from the hearts

Young designers seen with the organisers

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

A touch of sartorial elegance was in evidence at the 'Citycell Young Designer Exhibition 2004', held at the WVA gallery recently. Talent and creativity came together to make for a rewarding experience for the spectators.

The Eid designs at the exhibition were crafted by 16 young designers. These professionals had earlier taken part in a workshop organised by promising designer Sharukh Shahid. This exhibition followed in the footsteps of the workshop.

Among the trendy designs were sari, salwar karniz, punjabi, fatua, tops and chil-ren's clothes made of eye-catching avant-garde fabric with glitter work and hand embroidery, the traditional heavy zardosi work and the very common block print. SM Rana, an upcoming designer and one of the participants, said, 'These designs are from the depths of our hearts and almost 1200 designs are being displayed in the exhibition.' Eva, another designer said, 'I am very much traditional and I used jamdani motifs in most of my designs.'

True to the designers' promise, elegance and simplicity were in evidence. Altogether it was an extremely impressive display and credit goes to all the designers for their creativity.

Oscar battle for animation giants

BBC ONLINE

DreamWorks and Walt Disney have three films each in the running for best animated feature Oscar. Disney's hopes are with Teacher's Pet, Home on the Range and The Incredibles, a collaboration with Pixar.

Shrek 2, Ghost in the Shell 2: Innocence and Shark Tale are flying the flag for DreamWorks.

Eleven films will compete for a maximum of three nominations, to be announced in January. Warner, Paramount and two independent studios also have entries.

Warner's entries are The Polar Express and Clifford's Really Big Movie, based on the Big Red Dog picture book series.

The SpongeBob SquarePants Movie, based on the popular TV series, is in the running for Paramount.

Underwater adventure Shark Tale premiered at the Venice Film Festival last month. Will Smith, Angelina Jolie and Robert De Niro are among those who provided voiceovers for the characters.

The Incredibles tells the tale of a superhuman husband and wife team, comprising all-round action man Bob Incredibile (voiced by Craig T Nelson) and his rubber-limbed wife Elastigirl (Holly Hunter).
