'Raise social awareness to protect women's rights'

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Speakers at a workshop yesterday called for raising social awareness to protect women's rights.

Women are being deprived of their rights due to lack of proper enforcement of laws, they said.

As most women are not aware of their rights, a vested quarter is violating their rights by issuing fatwa and misinterpreting the Islamic rules, the speakers observed.

Organised by the Bangladesh National Women Lawyers' Association (BNWLA), the workshop, Ensuring women's rights within Islamic framework, was held at a city hotel.

The objective of the workshop was to exchange views among the Islamic scholars and the lawyers to harmonise the Muslim law and the existing law of the country, said Advocate Salma Ali, executive director of the BNWLA.

The experts highlighted some selected issues such as polygamy, divorce, hilla, marriage witness, age restriction on marriage, custody and inheritance.

They recommended punishment to those violating women's rights by issuing fatwa.

They also called for punishment to the offenders to stop misuse of talaq.

Dr Begum Asma of Rajshahi University, former secretary Shah Abdul Hannan, Masjid Council Chairman Abul Kalam Azad, Jatiya Kazi samity President Pirzada Kazi Sayed Shariatullah, Sharia Council Chairman Dr ABM Habibur Rahman Chowdhury and Representative of Asia Foundation Kim McQuay took part in the workshop.
